

will never fail to acknowledge itself in the wrong."

"We are going out for a walk now, papa."

"That's right."

Constance was ready by this time, so they set out; and the subject of their speculation during the walk was Reginald's Golden Secret.

