Alumni Report On Florida's Major Needs

A special committee of the University Alumni Association met here last Saturday and Sunday to study the major and urgent needs of the University.

After analyzing the situation, the committee adopted a report which the alumni Executive council approved unanimously.

The committee pointed out the following as the paramount needs of the University:

1. To secure the teaching endowment fund; funds for additional buildings and facilities, the library and radio station; and to accommodate more than 20 percent of the student body.

2. To increase the enrollment of the Agricultural Experiment station, the building of an admission building, so that the registrar can move into the new structure.

3. To increase the amount of money which the structure may become the home of the Business Administration.

The committee states that all Florida University students, as a matter of extreme urgency, need, it by no means include and tax-exempt measure of the University. Members of the committee are: Olin E. Wats, Tom Bryant, R.T. Perry, and Raymer F. Maguire, chairman.

Rural Youth Conference Gets Down To Business This Morning After Welcoming Entertainment Last Nite

The Third Annual Florida Rural Youth Conference, sponsored by the University and representatives of the FSCW 4-H Club as guests, got off to an entertaining start when delegates honored visitors at the Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity house.

The conference will settle down to its formal theme, "What's Up in the Future World Today?" in the Florida Union audi-atorium with Mr. C. A. Cade, agricultural leader, as the featured speaker of the conference.

While attending the conference, the FSCW delegates from Tallahassee are staying in the CLI house through the courtesy of members of that organization, as arranged by the University Student Union.

The conference will formally open the Florida University auditorium at 9:00 o'clock this morning, co-presiding officers will be Elwin Waznak, Florida 4-H club president, and Franklin L. Moore, president of the Tallahassee 4-H club. A musical beginning is expected from the Florida University Auditorium Musical group Father J. P. O'Mahony will then deliver the keynote address, "Jesus, the Man of Peace" with a brief invocation.

To WELCOME

Dean H. Harold Hume, of the College of Agriculture will extend a cordial welcome to the Conference on behalf of the Ag School, as its special demonstration agent, Miss Mary E. Brown, will respond.

At 9:30, conference committees will be announced and convene. On this occasion the President is Bob Crane, co-chairman; Olin D. Williams, Florid Society coordinator; Father J. P. O'Mahony's Religious will then be introduced to the conference.

After a short musical interlude, Dr. Wilmon Newell, president for the college of agriculture and home economics, will direct the music of the day, Dr. C. A. Cobb, former University Technician and depart-

The War—and The Peace

Time Marches On—and the passage of the first glimpse of the future that the world is looking for. It is an outlook that can well be a concern of every college student. The American soldier has been seen on the Senate floor last week with Senator Pepper in regard to remarks by Vermont Senator William Borah. Borah, being the first to utter the words which have made the most on the floor, set the record straight. What Senator said was this:

"I do not believe the United States will fight Japan. What ARE HER WAR AIDS, it is only for, it seems to me, to ascertain whether the Allied nations will survive, in consideration of the independence of the country, is about to give to Britain in a diplomatic way, the assurance of her commitment to us that she will present our request for peace terms to the Allied nations.

And there it is. What about the peace terms? Will it be a peace such as the one we fought so hard for? Is it to be a direct event in the progress? Are we not not belligerents and therefore not entitled to at least, have expression and backing by Briture peace of the world.

Our "first line of defense" member, too. The United States is chimed in and that without her in- terest, we should certainly be in a position to mainly save them, a Democratic national as it is. We have no interest. I do not think for that aid, we, the United States, deserves a final peace settlement, so that we may do move to keep both sides in line was a protest against American.

Teenagers war rants of our privilege so that we may understand events we are aiding, We must not allow our interest to push the pace of things, or in other words, no victory.

About Aiding Britain—For B. This nation is deep in the process of aiding almost without reserve. War supplies, root, mass of civilization, women producing, and far away from our own armed forces.

Yet we think it is for more than a desire to help a neighbor. We think the main reason for our help is that to aid the United States, is to help ourselves—thus helping ourselves—protecting our standard and freedoms from possible elimination. We are now doing just what the British and French are doing, as the Allies are doing, in extending aid for those reasons if our own people are working for. We are in the 48 states are made to develop and encourages and intolerances which cause race and hatreds and discriminations?

used to think that when our column wasn’t printed for a week or so, people wondered what they were going to do for entertainment. Little did they realize what a service we have been doing them.

REROY VACATIONS

‘Tail, Dark and Handsome’ gives Columbia its second entry from Coca Cola kids. This time, instead of being a bandit, the hero is a rocketeer. So are Sheldon Leonard, Milton Berle, Frankie Darro and most of the rest of the cast. Likewise, Virginia Gilmore. There’s a children’s nurse with aspirations to being a night-club singer. (On the two-thousandth Monday, you see!) Anyway, Oscar gets interested in Virginia and they even do the next best thing, and get one. (My adoption.)

With what gang wars, goody Charlot in the bad movie’s night- clubbing, Tail, Dark and Handsome ought to be interesting.

Well, Madeleine Carroll is in a technicolor again—this time in a “Virginia.” Probably that’s all we need say about the picture, but we’ll talk anyway.

GOES SOUTHERN

Madeleine’s a show girl, who comes back to her southern pia-tonet planning to do without a match. She can’t cut her coupons and wraps emblazoned with “Virginia.” And do what you think.

Between southern Fred Mac- Murray, and northerner—no-where we don’t say damn Yankees—Stur- ling Haywood, Madeleine decides she shall sample some of that plantation life. Odd how much about in “Gone With the Wind.”

And does she ever find excite- ment. What with MacMurray and Haywood and each other over the head every chance they get, little Carolee Lee getting in her own way, nothing is turned around. It’s breakdown, humorous, and Mable Wilson, taking little boys and all our state, “Virginia,” provides Miss Carroll with plenty to do. You too.

Golfers To Play Five Dual Matches

Florida’s 1941 golf team will probably start its schedule in March 26, whether the university’s linksmen are scheduled tentatively to competing matches.

The Gators have five dual matches slated for the season, and in addition will renew their rivalry with the SEC in the SEC conference in Athens, Ga., April 10-12.

The dual match schedule:

- Duke, here, March 26 (tentative)
- Stanford, March 26 (tentative)
- Mississippi College, here, April 1; NA tournament.

Elhill, Zdanukas, Walton Face Scoring; Meet Tennessee Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 28 (Special to The Alligator) -- If Florida's high-flying backcourt took their first step toward the SEC cage championship by staging a thrilling second-half rally to emerge with a 48-41 win over a scrappy Vanderbilt quintet in a quarter-final game played here today.

Due to virtue of their well-earned triumph, the Gators advanced to the semi-final of the championship tournament where they will meet Tennessee next Saturday.

Phil Craig Leads Mural Athletes For Year's Star

By PHIL GOLDMAN

If and when the Intramural department selects its athlete of the year, CLO's Phil Craig will be a leading contender. Phil, at 25, is the real deal among the hundreds of students from all leagues in individual and team sports who have been on the books for the Intramural Sports Department and our own teams.

The opening of the second semester here at the University of Florida saw yet another quick rally to forge a new edition of varsity basketball into a duel between Captain dan Zdanukas and his teammates and Bud Walton and Steve Ellick of the Gators. Ellick and Walton accounted for 28 points between them in the second period, to top the Gators' 18 in the first half of the game. Zdanukas was not able to keep his scoring up to the pace of the first half, as he took the ball to the hoop on two occasions.
