Social Security Questions and Answers

By Clif Copeland, Social Security Public Affairs Specialist, Gainesville, FL

Question:

When a person who has worked and paid Social Security taxes dies, who is eligible for survivors benefits?

Answer:

Social Security survivors benefits can be paid to: Widows or widowers — full benefits at full retirement age, or reduced benefits as early as age 60; Disabled widows or widowers — as early as age 50; Widows or widowers at any age if they take care of the deceased's child who is under age 16 or disabled and receiving Social Security benefits; Unmarried children under 18, or up to age 19 if they are attending high school full time. Under certain circumstances, benefits can be paid to stepchildren, grandchildren, or adopted children; Children at any age who were disabled before age 22 and remain disabled; and Dependent parents age 62 or older.

Even if you are divorced, you still may qualify for survivors benefits based on the earnings record of a former spouse. For more information, go to www.socialsecurity.gov.

Question:

What is a Social Security "credit"?

Answer:

During your working years, earnings covered by Social Security are posted to your record. You earn Social Security credits based on those earnings. The amount of earnings needed for one credit rises as average earnings levels rise. In 2011, you receive one credit for each $1,120 of earnings. You can earn up to a maximum of four credits a year. Most people will need a minimum of 40 credits (or 10 years of work) to be eligible for retirement benefits. Learn more by reading the online publication How You Earn Credits at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10072.html.

Question:

What is the earliest age that I can begin receiving retirement benefits?

Answer:

You can get a reduced benefit as early as age 62. Keep in mind that your monthly benefit amount would be about 33 percent higher if you wait until age 66 and nearly 80 percent higher if you defer payments until age 70. Visit our Retirement Estimator to find out how much you can expect to receive. You can find it at www.socialsecurity.gov/estimator.

Question:

How does Social Security decide if someone is disabled?

Answer:

For an adult to be considered disabled, Social Security must determine that you are unable to do the work you did before and, based on your age, education, and work experience, you are unable to adjust to any other work that exists in significant numbers in the national economy. Also, your disability must last or be expected to last for at least one year or to result in death. Social Security pays only for total disability. No benefits are payable for partial disability or short-term disability (less than a year). For more information, we recommend you read Disability Benefits (SSA Publication No. 05-10029), available online at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10029.html.
