2 dead in domestic dispute

Columbia County Sheriff's Deputies are investigating a domestic dispute that resulted in the deaths of a local married couple, according to a Monday media release.

Investigators believe Christopher Curry, 46, and wife Michelle Curry, 43, were involved in a domestic dispute when she retrieved a handgun and shot her husband twice before turning the gun on herself, the release said.

 Authorities said Christopher Curry was dead when paramedics arrived on scene and Michelle Curry pronounced dead after being transported to Lake City Medical Center.

Investigators believe Christopher Curry, a friend of the family, who was living in the home near the intersection of 25B and Troc Road, was present and provided authorities the following information. “When we arrived on scene, there were two bodies in the living room.

BOSTON

It's a kind of big deal that Emerson College is changing the name of its school of communication.

The college in Boston will rename the school—for one day only—the Ron Burgundy School of Communication, Dec. 4 in honor of the fictitious television anchorman.

Actor Will Ferrell, in character, is scheduled to share his path to journalism greatness with students. His visit will include a news conference, the renaming ceremony and a screening of “Anchorman: The Legend Continues.” Ferrell, as himself, will then host the movie.

College President Lee Pelton says Burgundy “understands the seventh wave of media, as well as hairspike, fax-based.”

Burgundy, known for telling people “told you so,” says he hopes to let students know how hard it is to be in the lunch business, especially “if you don’t have good hair.”

Zimmerman arrested again

APOPKA — Former neighborhood watch volunteer George Zimmerman was arrested Monday in Florida after deputies responded to a disturbance call at a house, authorities said.

Zimmerman’s arrest was transported and booked into jail. The Associated Press could not immediately confirm reports of charges.

Zimmerman’s arrest at a house in Apopka, about 15 miles (24 kilometers) north of Orlando, was the latest in a series of legal troubles that began in June 2005, when he was acquitted of second-degree murder in the killing of Trayvon Martin.

Motorcyclist, bicyclist killed

MELBOURNE — A bicyclist and a motorcyclist have died in a hit and run involving an SUV in central Florida.

According to a crash report, a motorcyclist struck a bicyclist, who rolled into the path of the motorcycle at a busy intersection near West Melbourne on Saturday, police said. Officers say the 25-year-old motorcyclist, Queen Stinson, was then run over by the SUV as he lay in the road.

The Florida Highway Patrol reported the bicyclist, 50-year-old Timothy Robinson, also died. Authorities say Robinson was hit by the SUV.

Five agencies are investigating.

Friends of Music welcome Ciulei from Romania

By AMANDA WILLIAMSON

Experience the mesmerizing sounds of the classical guitar performed by Romanian born Silviu Ciulei during the second concert of the 2013-14 Friends of Music Concert Series in Live Oak.

The Friends present Ciulei on Friday, Nov. 22, at 7 p.m. in the Covenant First Presbyterian Church of Live Oak. All concerts held by the Friends of Music are free and open to the public. A reception follows each concert.

“With so many people playing the classical guitar around here,” said Linda Poplin, who organizes the Concert Series with her husband, “I think this will provide a different perspective around what the guitar can do when it has the right master.”

Born in Romania, Ciulei began his musical studies at the age of six and attended the High School of Arts in his hometown, Constanta. By 13 years old, he had won his first performance prize. Over the years, he has won numerous awards in Romania, including the National Music Olympic and Gold Medalist three consecutive times in the George Georgescu International Music Performing Competition.

After graduating top of his class, Ciulei was selected for the flute in the Romanian National Symphony Orchestra with the Black Sea Philharmonic Orchestra. In 2004, he earned a Flute Performance Scholarship to study graduate degree performance from Dr. William Vollmer at the North Carolina State University. He then transferred to Florida State University to complete his masters degree in classical guitar from Florida State University and a Doctor of Musical Arts degree in classical guitar performance from Florida State University in the past, he was a graduate student professor for Dr. Bruce Holzman, who often introduced him to the Friends of Music Concert Series.

Poplin said she is unsure what kind of turnout will receive. She believes the classical guitar performance during his performance in Live Oak.

“I am going to be just as surprised as the people attending,” she said. “I don’t think it will be a pleasant surprise.”

Poplin encourages the public to come out and enjoy the musical performance, but also to give them some of the best of what kind of talent Ciulei will receive. She believed that Ciulei’s music is “in tune” enough to bring the people he has and curious new fans to Live Oak’s Covenant First Presbyterian Church.

Caffo, 6 step-children:
Two Lake City men were arrested Sunday morning following an incident which one of them threatened and harassed his ex-friend and her friends, the Columbia County Sheriff’s Office reports.

Joseph Harrelson, 28, and David Scott Archer, 25, both of 610 Tazewell Street, arrived at the home of Harrelson’s ex-girlfriend around 11:15 p.m. Sunday. Both men said they were at the woman’s home to retrieve an item she had taken, the sheriff’s office reports.

Harrelson then reportedly brandished a gun and pointed it at another male and female who were sitting on the front porch with his ex, the report said.

Harrelson then attempted to punch the male in the face with the handgun and later threw both his ex and her female friend in the closet once they tried to intervene, deputies said.

Deputies alleged that he would kill anyone who got between him and his ex, ran back to the truck and fired “at several” in the air in the direction of the vehicle before he and Archer sped off.

Deputies said they found a single spent bullet bul- let casing a short distant from where the argument took place and the debris when they arrived on scene around 11:35 p.m.

When authorities attempted to make contact with the suspects at their last known residence they were unable to make a light through the window, heard the sounds of a television and a “scuffle” after deputy- nesses knocked on the front door, the report said.

Deputies were able to tranquilize Harrelson’s cell phone and were able to get him to come out of a vacant residence in CCSO Scout to handle the apprehension of several more barricaded suspects, the report said.

Deputies said both sus-pects were found inside and barricaded suspects, the report said.

Jeff Tyre, who had known Christopher Curry for around 20 years, said Wednesday he and the fami- ly were still trying to figure everything out.

“We’re not sure why it happened,” he said, add- ing that he wasn’t present- ing during the accident. “They’re been estranged a few times, but we’re not sure why it happened.”

Christopher Curry is survived by a 32-year-old daughter and Michelle Curry by a 12-year-old son, each from previous marriages, Tyre said.

The daughter was away attending college and the son at his biological father’s home during the incident, he said.

An investigation is ongoing.

While the United States of America has experienced many tragedies specific to the destruction caused by Tropical Storm Debby, the agency’s focus is on helping others.

That’s where Perry Roofing Company stepped in.

“Volunteer labor for roof- ing is a challenge,” stated Perry Roofing’s president, Roger Whillet.

According to reports, the Lake City area was hit by Tropical Storm Debby. As a result, many Lake City homeowners were affected by storm damage.

Debby then turned her attention to the homes near the Lake City area.

In a statement, Debby’s spokesperson said: “We’re working hard to ensure everyone’s home is safe and secure.”

“Without the necessary repairs to the roof, interior work is impractical. Perry Roofing’s commitment is also a huge blessing to our community,” said Swanton Valley Long Term Recovery Committee chair Pastor Albun Baker.

The United States of America also donated a variety of long-term recovery construction codes to the town of Wake Forest, North Carolina. Thus, United States of America “is not a rebuilding agency which can be assigned to working with these groups.”

Touring the Ichetucknee
BELOW: Science teachers from Fort White High Middle School joined Jim Stevenson, retired biologist from FWC, for a bus tour of the Ichetucknee Trace on Saturday, Nov. 9. The group began in Lake City and followed the Ichetucknee River and its tributaries from the headwaters at Alligator Lake to the Head Spring within the park. Stops were made throughout the course of the tour to discuss the many ways that citizens of the county impact the water of its rivers and aquifers. Teachers will use the information they learned to teach their students about the need for water conservation and preservation.

Columbia High cross country team

The Columbia High cross country team had its awards banquet on Saturday. Ashley Jones and Cody Bass received the MVP awards. Jones also was recognized as a regional qualifier. Most Improved awards went to Caroline Cribs and Zach Smithy. The Team Spirit awards were presented to Dimple Desai and Mike Perez. Recipients of the Coaches Award were Bernita Brown and Alex Faulstich for the Lady Tigers and Noah Henderson for the boys.

By BRANDON FINLEY

Columbia High will continue a familiar road as it proceeds in the FHSAA Class 6A playoffs on Friday. The Tigers return home for the second round to take on Bartram Trail High in another rematch from the last two seasons. The Tigers (6-5) and Bears (3-7) have split the last two years, with Columbia winning at home last season. Bartram Trail knocked Columbia out of the playoffs during head coach Brian Allin’s first year with the Tigers, but after 51 years of varsity football, the Tigers are looking to break that streak.

DEAR ABBY: I am attracted to a man who is 27 years my junior. He is also attracted to me because he initiated our meeting. We have gone out a few times, and he says he doesn’t care about our age difference. He has also mentioned us bringing together his young fans and would gladly pay half the expenses even though he makes more than he does. I find it inappropriate in today’s society! I don’t look much older than he does. But I’m from a generation that believes this kind of thing would be looked down upon. Still, I realize that the world has changed, and I feel a strong attraction to him. I would appreciate any advice you can give me.

DEAR OLDER WOMAN IN MARYLAND

DEAR ABBY: I have printed letters for 15 years. We have grown through all of our changes. However, our horoscope writer has changed. She doesn’t dress like Betty White’s character “The Golden Girls” from the 1980s. She is in a fragile state right now because of her recent divorce. How do I tell her to lose the shoulder pads so she can meet a single stud? — SISTER MISTRESS IN RHODE ISLAND

DEAR WARDROBE MISTRESS: While your impulse to help your friend is laudable, it would be a mistake to suggest she change her image while she is in a “fragile state.” Let some time pass, and THEN make a date.

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a great idea for a gift I want to give for Christmas. However, the person I want to give it to has won all of their lottery winnings. It’s not to be resolved. Anger will not help you move forward. Address issues openly and honestly before deciding whether to move to together, and AGE has nothing to do with it.

DEAR OLDER WOMAN IN MARYLAND

DEAR ABBY: I have printed letters for 15 years. We have grown through all of our changes. However, our horoscope writer has changed. She doesn’t dress like Betty White’s character “The Golden Girls” from the 1980s. She is in a fragile state right now because of her recent divorce. How do I tell her to lose the shoulder pads so she can meet a single stud? — SISTER MISTRESS IN RHODE ISLAND

DEAR WARDROBE MISTRESS: While your impulse to help your friend is laudable, it would be a mistake to suggest she change her image while she is in a “fragile state.” Let some time pass, and THEN make a date.

Soccer teams receive boost

First Federal Bank contributed $325 to Columbia High's soccer program. The donation will be used to help cover the team's supplies, equipment and other necessary expenses. "We are hopeful that our contribution will inspire other businesses and individuals to also contribute to these important worthwhile projects," said Ruth Lablond, President and CEO of First Federal. Picture are (left to right) Gigi Wirt Register, First Federal Bank of Florida SVP Regional Sales Manager; Holly Wheeler, First Federal Bank of Florida; East Region Sales Assistant; Bent Williams, First Federal Bank VP Commercial Loan Officer and the Boys and Girls Columbia High School soccer team and coaches.

Columbia High's Malechi Jean hunts down St. Augustine High quarterback Cole Northrup in the Tigers' 42-24 win in the first round of the FHSAA Class 6A playoffs on Friday.

CHS: Tigers return home for playoffs

weeks of waiting the team got their revenge in a 35-14 win.

But despite their 5-5 regular-season record, Allen knows what the Bears can put up points fast behind quarterback P.J. Blazejowski.

Bartram Trail has been on fire offensively and showed their high-octane approach by knocking off Ed White High, 50-30, on the road to advance past the opening round of the playoffs and earn a rematch with Columbia.

The Bears have won six straight games and haven’t loss since a 24-21 game at Buchholz High on Oct. 3. Bartram Trail started the season off with five-straight losses before rebounding to make the playoffs.

Blazejowski leads the charge with 1,189 passing yards this season and has completed 140-of-255 attempts. He’s thrown 14 touchdowns passes to only three interceptions.

The Bears also have a solid rushing attack that has gain 2,823 yards on the ground this season.

Blazejowski is a multiple threat as he’s also put up 723 yards on the ground and 10 touchdowns, but sophomore David Coleman leads the ground assault.

Coleman has rushed for 1,127 yards at over eight yards per rush. He’s reached the end zone 11 times this season.

Allen is glad that the Tigers have the chance to return home to host the Bears.

“I’ve been saying that it’d be at least four weeks since we got to return home, because I knew we’d be going on the road to take on Ed White in the second round,” Allen said. “They came in with their guard down and Bartram Trail came out strong.”

Allen said that they won’t make the mistake Ed White did, because he knows the caliber of team that the Bears possess.

“Coach Darrell Southerland is an excellent coach,” Allen said. “They can put up points real quick with Blazejowski and we saw that from what they’ve been able to do the past two years. They’re a good ball team.”
