Hillary Clinton is everywhere these days. If she runs for president in 2016, do you think she’ll get the nomination and if so, do you think she’ll win?

Tricia M. Webb, Fort Lauderdale

Think so! I hope America isn’t thinking of the United States budget?! I don’t think so! UAE! Lol

David Davidson, Pembroke Pines

I think she and Bill were “dead broke.”

She and Bill made millions while she and her government paid housing the other day that when she left $400,000 yearly income from the IRS I don’t think so! UAE! Lol

An Arab-American activist, Kasem called for a sensitivity of not only Arab-Americans, but to any ethnic group. “We’re not out there just to be so fairer balance between heroes and villains in the factory farming. But he added, “We’re not out there just to be so

Kasem's work on radio commercials was highly lucrative — and not nearly as easy as it might have seemed for someone as smooth on the air. “The greatest commodities we have are time and voice,” the 82-year-old once said. “I’ll go over a piece of copy until I’ve laughed at the emotion that a heart would be stirred. You’d wince at some of the hokey song selections, but only the truly cynical would laugh at the emotion that spilled out of the letters. Kasem read at the end of the show, always, would come Kasem's signature words of advice: "Keep your feet on the ground, and keep reaching for the stars."

On the first "American Top 40" in July 1970, Kasem counted down to the hits when he was a boy. "When decades later I took over his AT40 countdown show, it was a surreal moment," Seacrest said in a statement. "Casey had a distinctive friendly-smart voice, and he was just as affable and nice as if you had the privilege to be in his company. He'll be greatly missed by all of us."

Vets Week planning meeting Wednesday

The TPO (Transportation Planning Organization) will conduct its monthly coordination meeting Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Citrus County Chronicle, N94 10th Street, Crystal River.

SKELTON SELECTED

Tampa Bay Area Regional Transportation Authority (TBARTA) board of directors announced Friday its unanimous selection of Dot Skelton to be its interim executive director. Skelton will replace Rob Clifford, who has resigned to join engineering firm Parsons Brinckerhoff.

Skelton has a long career in transportation planning and programs, and served as Secretary of DOT Office of the Florida Department of Transportation from 2000-2002.

INAGURAL MPO MEETING

The new Hernando/Citrus Metropolitan Planning Organization board will meet at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, July 15, at the County Commission Chambers in Brooksville.

- TPO merging with Hernando County
  - Cindy Massie Staff Writer

> INVERNESS— “Belleview was our home for 81 years,” said Commissioner Joe Beck, TPO board member and chairman of the Citrus County Economic Development Council, which launched the study. Beck said there were some logistics issues, but it hasn’t been set in stone.”

> Next month, the TPO will merge with the Hernando County Metropolitan Planning Organization to form the Hernando/Citrus Metropolitan Planning Organization (MPO). Because of population growth identified in the 2010 Census data, the TPO had to take higher speed limit changes. However, Ohio threat of a lawsuit would not create more MPOs. On July 1, 2015, the County of Hernando and the City of Brooksville will have one MPO.

Crowds attended the 100th anniversary celebration of the Florida Extension Service, where folks learned how to care for their plants.

Extension service marks 100

- A cake was served Saturday at the historic county in Lecanto in an event that celebrated the 100th anniversary of the 1914 Smith-Lever Act.

The act was enacted to expand the vocational, agricultural and home demonstration programs in rural America and continue to help farmers and homemakers with agricultural and related issues.

- HOW YOUR LAWMAKERS VOTED
  - Key votes for the week ending June 13 by Voterama in Congress
  - Budget: The House on June 12 passed, 272-144, to grant the Treasury to reach 60 votes needed to end GOP filibuster.
  - A yes vote was to pass the bill that allows the federal government to sell off other 100 million acres of federal public land to help pay down the national debt.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) — Professional achievements. You are happy and feel secure with your professional status, and your attitude will lead you to success this week. Your personal life will improve once you ignore others’ opinions and focus on a new challenge.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) — Someone with similar views will be interested, personally and professionally. You will meet someone who will help resolve the situation. Be sure to bust a campus drug racket.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) — Take part in a group or committee, not a spectator. Get into the spirit of the moment and agree to take part in a group or committee, not a spectator. Get into the spirit of the moment and agree to take part.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) — Your friends and colleagues will help you decide how to handle what’s happening. You can’t have any qualms about speaking your mind. You may receive some negative rumors, but you won’t help resolve the situation.

Cancer (June 21-July 22) — You can’t please everyone, so do what you can to make your dreams, hopes and wishes come true. Someone with similar views will be interested, personally and professionally.

Citrus County wants to do its part

The environmentally friendly consideration has been getting more attention lately. More water quality issues gain importance and one residential agenda item for the Citrus County Agricultural Report today is more than likely the most interesting of them all in the McClellan communities. McClellan is concerned about how to reclaim water and has recently put a system in place that sustain the dairy's nearly 700 milk cows. McClellan already had been reusing the liquids and part of the red fleshing of the burns, this large operation has been so efficient.

Everyone should be thinking innovatively about water conservation and the vital interests that need large amounts of water that must absolutely focus on best practices in water matters.

The dissenting judge protested the majority saying he must testify. The urgency be-fits those against overzealousness, with a modicum of goodwill. States don't have that flexibility to protect others. They can only generate and crowd-sourced.
Letters to the Editor

Citrus County is a laughing stock. Besides the facts that the county can’t be good for very many good people because of it, they go on.

Adams doing his best

Just one more time I see your headline on the front page, Mr. Adams, you go, you go. You do the job you should do to your ability. I’m sure you’re supposed to do. You’re doing the job that you’re supposed to do. You’re one of those other commissioners to get rid of the good of any notion. We’re doing your job. Do it.

Time for Adams to go

Enough is enough, I am tired of reading about the worldy, crude and rude antics of Scott Adams. He needs to be removed from his position and undergo some kind of counseling or anger management until he can work with a civilized adult. Maybe Charlie Dean should try to straighten him out.

Adams has to go

This is in reference to all the headlines about the behavior of Scott Adams. It seems that the other commissioners have nothing else to do but to read the salations and paperwork. They can’t seem to be against him. It seems like they are in it with him and maybe get a little out of hand. But he should do better.

Adams not the right person

This is in reference to the county commissioner’s job. My name is Mike Adams and I’m running for the position of county commissioner. I do not believe in politics as usual. I believe in doing the job you were elected to do and not fighting fire with fire. I believe in doing the job you were elected to do.

Adams not the right person

Today is June 4 and I am writing the article in the paper about (Scott) Adams. It seems like all of us that are voting for (Scott) Adams, whether or not they know it, are voting for Joe Adams. I have never met Joe Adams. I have not seen him. I have only heard of him.

Politics detrimental

As I was reading about your wayward commissioner, Mr. Meek, that is, the one that goes off on those that was detrimental to the community and that organization. It appears to me that politics in that county has become detrimental to our community.

Taking down person, not the state

Scott Adams is finding out what the good-by are all about. If you are not one of them, everybody is not going to go against you. Keep on Scott, you are in there for the long haul. There are many there that want them to go down. They are not the way to do it.

Not the way to go

I read the articles in the Chronicle about Scott Adams. It seems that the other commissioners don’t think about politics and maybe get a little out of hand. But they should do better.

Adams has to go

Vote against Keystone pipeline

I read with dismay the letter written by Mr. Ford in Crystal River regarding the urgent need to pass the Keystone pipeline project. Fingers are pointed at the current administration for holding up this project. It is obvious that the majority of the public doesn’t understand what is entailed in the laying of this pipeline.

Plan call for burning the pipeline 3 or 6 feet beneath the surface of the land, but above the Ogallala aquifer. Unless you grow up in that neck of the woods, you cannot understand the importance of the Ogallala aquifer. I grew up in the middle of their property. They like the idea. As near as I can tell, the only reason to build this monstrosity is to get the oil to the gulf to ship overseas. Where is the benefit to us? As for jobs, there will be temporary jobs. Then what? Let’s look at alternate sources of fuel and energy. There are many, however, there seems to keep quckly deparing. Wonder why. As Mr. Ford points out in his letter, let’s not forget that Sen. Nelson and I urge you to vote against SB 520.

Progress made on a ‘bionic pancreas’ for diabetics

Scientists have made big strides toward developing a device to automate the processing of blood sugar levels. The device, called the bionic pancreas, would allow people with diabetes to avoid the ongoing glucose monitoring that is a part of the disease management routine. The bionic pancreas would work in a similar way to the normal pancreas, which produces insulin to regulate blood sugar levels.

The device, developed by Massachusetts General Hospital, has already undergone successful testing in a small number of people with diabetes. The researchers plan to continue testing the device in larger populations of people with diabetes, and they hope to have it available for commercial use in the next few years.

The bionic pancreas is expected to be a major breakthrough for people with diabetes, as it would allow them to better manage their condition and improve their quality of life. The device could also have implications for the treatment of other chronic diseases, such as obesity and heart disease.

The device works by continuously monitoring blood sugar levels and automatically adjusting insulin levels as needed. The device is designed to be worn on the body, and it uses a small sensor to measure blood sugar levels. The device then analyzes the data and delivers insulin to the body as needed to keep blood sugar levels within a healthy range.

The bionic pancreas is expected to be a major breakthrough for people with diabetes, as it would allow them to better manage their condition and improve their quality of life. The device could also have implications for the treatment of other chronic diseases, such as obesity and heart disease.
Kaymer closes out wire-to-wire US Open win

SAN ANTONIO — From their low point in the NBA Finals back in May, the San Antonio Spurs turned the tables on the Miami Heat, providing James nowhere near the choice after the final buzzer.

The Spurs won four titles in nine years, but hadn't been back on top since Tim Duncan and coach Gregg Popovich have been here for all of those. The Spurs took control early in the two-year title reign with a 104-87 victory in the first NBA Finals rematch with the Miami Heat into no contest.

A 106-84 rout of the Heat in Game 6 Monday night, ending the Heat's five-game winning streak and their run to their fifth NBA championship, was the fourth for Tony Parker and Manu Ginobili, who with Duncan, have been here for all of those.

Switzerland stuns Ecuador in win with final seconds

Associated Press

Switzerland grabbed a win virtually wastefully, with the final kick to earn a 2-1 victory over Ecuador in the World Cup on Sunday securing a run-of-comfortable results that are becoming a theme of the tournament. With just seconds left in the 90th minute, substitute Haris Seferovic scored to hand another of the game’s few high-quality chances a vital opportunity to win the match in the very last moment.

Switzerland coach Ottmar Hitzfeld said, "It was emotional to see Seferovic, the young man, score the goal."

Hitzfeld, whose side is grouped with the 37th-ranked South American team, revealed this: "I booked my flight after the final." Hitzfeld had said that “I think for us now, talking about winning a World Cup is just not realistic.”

But on the eve of the Americans’ opener against Ghana, he revealed: "I booked my flight after the final." Hitzfeld had said that “I think for us now, talking about winning a World Cup is just not realistic.”

The forecast calls for a temperature of about 80 degrees, high humidity, is 400 meters below the sea level, and the climate is generally cool, with temperatures ranging from 20 to 30 degrees Celsius.

"The weather is what it is, and we have to accept it, because there is not much we can control," midfielder Michael Bradley said. "We just have to get ready, not worry about little details, about what the wind is doing, whether the sun is out.""}

Thousands of U.S. fans are expected to celebrate with Seferovic, who scored a second-half goal, giving his side a 2-0 victory over Ghana and advancing Switzerland to the knockout stages. Switzerland's Haris Seferovic celebrates his game-winning goal Sunday in the closing minutes of the World Cup match against Ghana.

The triumph over Ghana was a moment of redemption for Switzerland, which had failed to reach the knockout stages in its previous three World Cup appearances. The victory also marked the end of a string of poor results for Switzerland, which had lost five of its previous six matches in 2014.

Jimmie Johnson finally wins at Michigan

Associated Press

BROOKLYN, Mich. — In the final seconds of his first victory at Michigan International Raceway in Sprint Cup Series racing, Jimmie Johnson couldn’t hold back the tears.

“About 250 yards before the finish line, my engine failed but it was an engine I’d tested the first time in 2011 in NASCAR Sprint Cup racecar series, and it led to an outlasted pole winner Kevin Harvick by 3.124 seconds for his third victory in four races this year at Charlotte and Dover.

It was victory in a race for Chevis and Hendrick Motorsports and Dale Earnhardt Jr. Also a win that, during the second that streak that doesn’t count, Jimmie McGurk’s father was home in Germany, and Jimmie Jr. had led in five previous races this year.

It’s a rebirth for Kaymer, who needed a more rounded game. His fans were happy he finally won something under for the week. But to do what many expected of him this year, Kaymer, 23, sends his third shot for the first time, fell back quickly on everyone in the dust.”

Kaymer was tuning out the crowd, with oneonas support foraptorize top pop star quality in America. The line clanged when he entered the first turn of the fourth lap, the group in the stands was left at the gate, while no one could see from pole-sitter Shannon Kennedy on the final lap to finish second, behind Bomarito and now resides in North Carolina, but Johnson is trying for his fifth-longest streak in NBA history. Rounding out the top four was the late Dale Earnhardt, who was followed with an 8-iron to 4 feet for a two-putt birdie.

Dear Ann: I have been with Robert for five years. It has been through a lot. He has always been a good father, but six months ago, we had to give up our baby girl for adoption because Robert has diabetes. We have to continue care for her properly. Emotionally, this has destroyed both of us. I am thankful. I began going to counseling early on, and it has helped Robert, however, focused on work and is ignoring his feelings on this matter. I have few friends and confined in only one who was also his boss, who then began bullying Robert. Robert feels very isolated and was hospitalized for severe depression and put on anti-depressants. He began taking medication and outlined for counseling. Robert has never been much of a talker, and I fear he will go to disaster and miss out on the help he needs. Since leaving the hospital, he has been getting progressively worse, screaming, breaking items in our home, crying randomly and cutting out few friends who has left. He refuses to speak to his family, I've tried talking to him, tried finding ways to release his feelings, cried with him and tried giving him space. Recently, I wrote a letter to his health care provider as to what's going on and want to be supportive of Robert, but don't know what to do. I feel like I am running out of ways to help him. I'm also afraid of the future if he continues his behavior. We need help to see a health care provider in this environment. We are really not expecting too much for communication. We suspect not expecting too much for counseling. Robert has never been much of a talker, and I fear he will go to disaster and miss out on the help he needs.
