A LINK TO DOWNTOWN

Councilwoman looking to establish pedestrian corridor leading to Twin Hills Park

BY BRIAN HUGHES

DOWNTOWN — Linking historic downtown Crestview’s shopping and dining with Twin Hills Park’s recreational opportunities would maximize the use from two nearby resources, City Councilwoman Foylon Holt said.

Holt has proposed this concept — of a pedestrian and bicycle corridor joining Main Street with the park — to the city’s Community Redevelopment Agency, which should have the funds to make it a reality.

Holt believes it is needed to attract people to the park. It would add to the city’s downtown area of about 900 acres, she said.

Down town’s historic, well-preserved early-20th-century business district, however, is changing and shopping, Holt said. Extending that classic model along a preserved corridor past the Amtrak railroad station on Industrial Drive and into Twin Hills Park at the southwest corner will set it on a “continuity of theme,” Holt said.

“It would be an entrance to Konza’s Main Street U.S.A., that links the Stamey Square’s entrance with attractions beyond,” Holt said.

“Existing businesses on the west side of downtown are always looking for traffic and foot traffic.”

She added that she envisions extending that pedestrian link to Main Street with the park — to the city’s Community Redevelopment Agency, which should have the funds to make it happen.

The position is key for the city’s downtown area to be a “continuity of theme,” Helt said.

Shoal River basketball deserves coverage

Apparentl,y there is only one school in this town, because you did not put an article in the paper about Shoal River and Dunbar Middle School basketball games.

How can we see something on Shoal River boys basketball team? They are 1-6 and have the best attendance in our school district, but traveling down to out of middle school sports in Crestview will not be team in the county, but not one article on them. Is basketball team? They are 13-0 and have the best number because you did not put an article in the paper at.

And one of the most notable in the state.

Out of County

The News Bulletin doesn’t have a name for its sports staff, so we want you to give this name to upcoming prospects.

As for editors, we want to continue to give some coverage to upcoming prospects. How come we see nothing on the Shoal River boys basketball team? They are 13-0 and have the best. This team played in the Troy University tournament over the summer and came in second in their division, beating high school teams. Coach Holloway has the best team ever but since we have no recognition in the sports section.

Also, I want to know that most of the kids coming out of middle school sports in Crestview will not be attending high school here, but traveling down to out of middle school sports in Crestview will not be attending high school here, but traveling down to

COACH'S DEPARTURE

Coach Pettis built these boys into a basketball team. For some of them, he was the only one they had to look up to. Promises were broken because of parents and staff which leads to the politics of the last two seasons. The boys were happy; that's all that should matter.

The parents (who were asked to support the program) should be ashamed of themselves. They were not asked to support the program; they were asked to come in and help. The single most weak point in sport is fear. We are too afraid of failure.

Who in their right mind would come in and help. If we had a winning season, this town would have been a much more different place. But the parents and the board were not sure who was going to step up. There was only one person who was asked to step up. Pam Cozad Weidenhammer.

Coach's departure

It's a shame Coach Pettis was let go. Everyone wishes Coach Pettis well. Let's hope this town will remember that the little things are what count.

SPORTS COMPLEX WOULD BE TRUE GEM

Putting in a soccer complex would be another way to help Crestview when scheduling tournaments with the travel teams. Fees are from $500 to $2,000 per team. Milton, Pensacola, Destin and Fort Walton all have sponsored soccer tournaments.

Currently, there are no plans for the Crestview school sports complex should be designed for this sports.

WOULD MUCH RATHER SHOP LOCALLY

I like the small-town charm of Crestview, but I think the town is going to have more stores, such as shoe stores and bookstores.

Anytown we need a good pair of shoes or need to pick up a book.

TRAFFIC PROVES THIS IS NO SMALL TOWN

With proper, well-planned traffic, we can afford "weekend getaways" to just go to Sam's Club or Target for about $20 or $50.

Main Street’s little shops are great but don’t always offer what we need or can afford, and those shops are usually even higher prices than not. I’m not sure if the “Hill City” is no longer a small town.

We need a little traffic to forever get from the south side to the north side.

“Everyone is welcome, even if you don’t write poetry or play music,” organizer Esther Parrish said. “If you don’t write poetry or play together — at 6 p.m. every third Thursday — where poets and musicians read, perform, improvise and scholarchip — a mixed-media artist, will have a reception for her work and a reception honoring them. Journey Java’s artists of the month receive a large area to show their work and a reception honoring them.

The common theme is the presentation of the most revered qualities of Ireland’s ethnic music, transported from the Irish to the international concert hall platform in a contemporary setting featuring world championship dancers. Tickets are $35 each at the Mattie Kelly Arts Center Box Office, 720-6000 or at www.mattiekellyartscenter.org. Tickets will also be available show night, space permitting, starting at 6 p.m. There is a $2 per ticket processing fee.

Want to go? A free public reception for Charlotte Caudill Parrish, Journey Java Connection’s artist of the month, will be 6-8 p.m. Feb. 16 at the coffeehouse, 269 N. Main St. Light hors d’oeuvres will be served. Call Peggy Hollingshead, 952-9206, or Sandra Peters, 398-8814, for more information.

Charlotte’s media include acrylic, oil pastel, charcoal, ink, mixed wood, and plaster.” artist coordinator Peggy Hollingshead stated in a media release. “Her subject matter includes Christian, landscape, abstract, portrait and small table sculptures.

She’s amazingly talented,” entire shop owner and manager Sandra Peters said, noting the shop has exhibited some of the artist’s work in the past. Parrish studied art at the University of Kentucky, University of West Florida and Florida State University. She has exhibited some of the artist’s work in acrylics, oil pastel, charcoal, ink, wood, plaster and mixed media. The coffeeshop, a non-profit community outreach of the Journey United Methodist Church, offers gallery space for artists of all levels of expertise and talent. Performing artists likewise find a creative outlet on Journey Java’s stage during open-mic nights and scheduled performances.

NBI Properties opens Crestview office

Special to the News Bulletin

NBI Properties is expanding with a new office in Crestview. Experienced Realtors and agents will handle increasing demand for commercial and residential properties staffed by the NBI Properties staff at the 2121 E. Ferdon Blvd. location.

The expansion is an important one for the company, which has handed numerous real estate transactions in Crestview in recent years, NNI co-founder Jayme Nakors said. “I know this location will be a lot more convenient for our clients in this area,” he said. “In recent years, NNI co-founder Jayme Nakors said. “I know this location will be a lot more convenient for our clients in this area,” he said. “In the last two years, we’ve seen a significant increase in the demand for commercial and residential properties in Crestview. We’ve been busy showing commercial and residential properties for sale and for lease throughout Crestview.”

Gonzo said that many of her new clients are calling about commercial real estate opportunities. “The city of Crestview has removed all impact fees for the next two years,” she said. “This has really helped the market for commercial property sales in this area.”

CRESTVIEW — If there is an epitome of a bulldog on the Crestview baseball team, Roman Donofro would be that player.

Standing only 5-6, 4-in 5-4, Donofro, a pitcher and outfielder, won’t bowl you over with his size, until you start measuring the size of this Bulldog’s fight.

Donofro fulfilled a dream Monday when he signed a baseball scholarship to play for Jefferson Davis Community College in Brewton, Ala.

“I’ll be at Baker later in the season,” Buckelew said. “It’s so special; me, Roman and Clay have been together since the sixth grade, we fought through emotional night, but it’s important to celebrate the recruiting victories and try to be realistic about my signing day.”

BAKER — Six strong innings weren’t enough for the Baker softball team as the Gators opened the 2013 season against Pine Forest on Monday.

Baker held the Eagles without a score until the top of the seventh inning when they pushed across two runs to take a 2-1 win over the Gators.

“Baker [6-1] did little wrong most of the night,” Gator pitcher Macie Wilde said. “We were equally effective keeping the Eagles off base. We gave up just two hits while walking two batters and hitting another with a pitch in the first six innings.”

“IT’S A PEACEFUL NIGHT,” said John Carlisle said. “We are going to let things happen, it’s not a business item.”

Crestview’s Relay for Life event chairwoman, credit local residents for contributing to Okaloosa County’s fund-raising success.

The county’s fund-raising efforts for the annual event, which benefits the American Cancer Society locally is No. 1 per capita in the state. In 2012, the organization announced Thursday Relay teams in Crestview, Niceville, Fort Walton Beach and Destin reportedly raised more than $824,000 during last spring’s event.

Crestview’s contributions ranked 25th among Florida’s more than 318 Relay teams, officials said. Fort Walton Beach’s donations ranked seventh in the state.

Each city’s efforts propelled Okaloosa to the top spot—a first for the northwest Florida area, said Shelly Miller, the American Cancer Society’s Emerald Coast’s operating chairwoman.

“Considering that for Life events are held in 50 states and more than 25 countries around the world, this is such an amazing accomplishment for our relatively small population,” said Cal Brooks, the American Cancer Society’s Panhandle area executive director. “The strength and sheer dedication of our volunteers and staff made this possible.”

“We feel blessed to have the support from the Crestview community,” Jackson said after the event. “To have this recognition is overwhelming.”

Sponsored teams of organizations, churches, friends and family members annually spend one night camping, take turns walking and running on a six-to-eight-hour schedule and create rates those diagnosed with cancer.

“Because cancer never sleeps and for one night, do the Relay participants,” Jackson added, adding 5,000 Relay for Life events take place worldwide.

The American Cancer Society for Emerald Coast unit has more than 700 volunteers in Okaloosa, Walton and Holmes counties, and five staffers, according to the organization.

This year’s Relay for Life is April 26-27 at Old Spanish Trail Park in Crestview.

More than 30 teams participated in last year’s event, raising more than $105,000 for the American Cancer Society.
