MORE LIGHT

It is hardly necessary for us to claim that ever since the first issue of The Tribune we have tried to keep abreast of the times, advocating those things that tend to the social, intellectual, moral and material upbuilding of the town, county and state.

Our town has many advantages, and is one of the best on the East Coast. At our front door lies the finest body of water in the world—Indian River, which supplies not only pleasure and recreation for our people, but adds to the commercial wealth.

We might go into detail and name scores of other things worth while, but we wish to call attention to one thing which we have not and of which we are badly in need.

As a promoter of public and home comfort, health and general well being, there is nothing, aside from shelter, food and raiment, that can for a moment take precedence of the subject of public and home lighting.

There are many systems for lighting and of course the best is what we want. While on the subject of "systems" we want to say that as a light for residences, stores, factories, churches, halls, parks and towns, and, in fact, wherever artificial light is used, acetylene has already proved its right to preference and is rapidly superseding all other systems.

The subject of street lighting in Fort Pierce has been under discussion for a long time, but as yet no definite action looking to its accomplishment has been taken.

A DELAND man in an article on the political question has predicted that Hearst will be the next President, with Hoke Smith in second place.

THE TIMES-UNION "Pictorial Comment on Current Events" say cotton is king over all other merchandise.

On our first page will be found an article from J. E. Ingraham, directed to the alleged stealing of the South lands in the railway company. No one is better qualified to tell the truth than Mr. Ingraham.

The Journalist's Note on the subject of printing is a very interesting one, and one that should be read by all who are interested in the printing business.

What street in America has ever received such a visit from William Jennings Bryan?

Contract Let for a New Drug Store. A. E. Trowell and Dr. W. E. Van Laningham have let the contract for a building on Pine street.

A Popular Daytona Hotel. The new hotel at Daytona is rapidly becoming one of the best in the State.

Donor To Be put in Commission. Dr. F. H. W. is to be put in commission of the State.

"Tear Pits" of the Deer. Both the male and female deer possess a gland which secretes a greasy, waxy fluid of very disagreeable odor.

The big water pipe. Covered pipe under the street is a common sight.

There is of course some poetry that truth is these references to the great shedding of tears of the deer.

The uses of this queer set of so-called lacrymal organs is not clearly understood by the zoologist.

The Road Situation.

Jensen, Fla., Sept. 3 1906. Editor TRIBUNE:

One of the most perplexing matters that confronts our commissioners have to do with the public roads. This is a matter that has been discussed for years, and having no material to go on, it has been left to the commissioners to decide.

I have seen the statement in print, and I have verbally made a statement in my office of that contentment and satisfaction set up some time since that the local county commissioners are doing a good job.
