Dear Bob:

On returning to the office today I noticed your name again on the list of contributors, and I can't tell you how much encouragement and strength it gives me to know that you are still in there pitching. We are using the money you provide to get the maximum value out of every dollar, just as we will the tax payer's money later on.

Remember we value not only your financial help but also your advice.

With deepest of gratitude, I am

Sincerely yours,

Farris Bryant
