Fuller Warren's proposal to double the homestead exemption is the most diabolical, demagogic, dangerous device ever designed to buy public favor. It would destroy the public school system which relies on the property tax to meet its obligations under the minimum foundation program; it would cripple cities and counties in their efforts to meet the demands of their citizens; it would force additional state taxes to provide more grants in aid to local government and accelerate the centralization of government in Tallahassee; it would force repeal of the present 20-mill limit on school taxes. Fuller Warren started out in 1949 to place the entire burden of government on the consumer--in 1956 he has set out to finish the job.
