FORMER Prime Minister Perry Christie will face a leadership challenge at the PLP’s February convention if the election court case involving Senator Albyson Maynard-Gibson goes against the party, insiders claim.

Senior Justice Anita Allen and Justice Jon Isaacs are to rule within the next three weeks on the PLP’s challenge of the May 2 general election result in the constituency of Pinewood.

If the court accepts that 85 votes should be disallowed, Perry Christie will face a leadership challenge at the PLP’s February convention.

The PLP and FNM have already acknowledged, based on the evidence, that 65 votes should be thrown out. Mr Christie should remain, with another 42 still to dispose.

If the court accepts that 85 or more votes should be disallowed, scrutiny, or a recount, would be necessary or more votes should be disallowed, scrutiny, or a recount, would be necessary before the lawful winner of the seat is declared.

If the PLP were to win the petition, Mr Christie, sources agree, would be given a “new life” as leader and retain the party at next month’s convention.

Several PLP insiders claim that Dr Nottage, while Dennis Hadaway is leading the party, is apprehensive about vying for the post again and will only do so if he is nominated and assured of an outright victory.

Four men charged with killing officer

Four men, accused of the broad-daylight murder of Constable Raimon Williams, were arraigned in Magistrate’s Court on Monday.

Marie Flowsie, 26, of Sapodilla Boulevard, Shawn Fraser, 35, of Batts Road Avenue; Raymond Thompson, 25, also known as Raymond Jones, of Wulff Road, and Sylvester Arin, 25, of Pitts Lane, were arraigned in front of Chief Magistrate Roger Gomez at Court One, Banc lace, on Monday morning.

All four men have been charged with killing police Constable 2872 Raimon Williams on Saturday, December 24, in the district of Bimini.

Williams, 26, who was attached to the Wulff Road police station, was on mobile patrol in a marked police vehicle with two other officers around 7 am.

When several persons were observed to a Nissan Sentra driving from Collins Avenue onto Shirley Street.

The officers reportedly became suspicious and followed the car, which stopped in Deveaux Street just in front of The Tribune.

Officer Williams was reportedly shot several times as he got out of the parked car. Williams staggered across the street and took cover behind a yellow storage container in the parking lot next to The Tribune as the gunman continued.

He was taken to hospital where he died of his injuries.

Oscar-winning actor aims to bring musical to Bahamas

Star with Cat Island roots in talks with govt officials

By KARIN HERIG  Tribune Staff Reporter

The actor was a guest at the official Christmas Eve opening of Codrington Masque's Nassau Beach Restaurant, Bar and Lounge on Love Beach.

LOUIS GOSSETT JR, 71, takes on Oscar in Los Angeles Monday night, April 11, 1983 after winning in the best supporting actor category at the 55th Annual Academy Awards for his role in the film "An Officer and a Gentleman."

The actor was also a guest at the official Christmas Eve opening of Codrington Masque's Nassau Beach Restaurant, Bar and Lounge on Love Beach.

Mr Gossett was born in Brooklyn, New York, where he grew up with other famous people such as Ella Fitzgerald, Lena Horne and Duke Ellington.

He last starred in "Tyler Perry's Daddy's Little Girls", which was released in 2007.

The 71-year-old thespian, whose father hailed from Bahamas, said he wants to bring musical to Bahamas. "Footprint" — executive produced by Richard Loring, producer of Cat Island roots, has vowed to help government officials to discuss musical to Bahamas."

If you don't know where you are going, you won't know where you are going," the actor said in a press release.

"Even if they get housing and they pay their rent, it doesn't mean they will be able to embrace the opportunities," he added.

The actor aims to help bring the diverse history of South Africa with a mix of Afro- and Euro-centric music and dance.

"The stage show, written and produced by him — to the Bahamas."

Mr Gossett met with some members of the African community in South Africa, Europe, the UK, and the US.

Mr Gossett, whose father hailed from Bahamas, said he wants to be responsible for bringing the movie to the Bahamas. "The reason for this is not for me to make money, but for the development of the Bahamas."

However, Mr Wilchcombe protested, claiming that not enough notice was given, and that the hurricane season was an inappropriate time to carry out such an eviction.

Shortly afterwards the government announced that Mr Wilchcombe had taken over financial responsibility for the community, which it has in the past claimed to have been unable to support due to a shortage of available accommodation or temporary housing.

In November, the MP had said he anticipated having all the individuals out by mid-December. However, Mr Wilchcombe said that he believes the development company had not put in a "valid" one.

"We want to ensure that we give (Ginn) the opportunity to go ahead, because once they are able to embrace the opportunities that we can then introduce the opportunities that we have been tediously developing for some time," he said.

The MP mentioned that, having spoken to a Ginn representative personally about his office's progress in having the people resettled, Ginn was "pleased", but he asserted that the development company had not put "enough" one on the right track.

The company signed a heads of agreement with the former government to create a luxury resort in West End, consisting of a 180-room luxury resort in West End, consisting of cross-leased land, benefits ensue that will improve the quality of Grand Bahamians.

Mr Gossett is one of the careers you don't retire from."
Barbados basketball team ‘robbed on Florida trip’

A high school basketball team from the Bahamas was robbed of its uniforms, trims and money during a trip to Central Florida, US media outlets report.

Investigators told CBS Florida affiliates Local 6 that 13 of its players were underprivileged and raised money for the trip to play in several tournaments in Florida.

The team’s trip to Oak Ridge was their first time in Florida. According to police reports, the team was visiting the West Oaks Mall in Ocoee when someone stole their rental van from the shopping centre’s parking lot. In the van were the team’s luggage, money, uniforms and several trophies.

Investigations into this incident continue and the police believe several leads the team is heading back to the Bahamas without their belongings.

Oak Ridge High School athletic director Red Johnston said that this incident shows that “people don’t care about other people anymore.”

“There’s no conscience in young people today. You know, they just go out there and steal from other people,” he said.

Bahamian basketball players visiting Florida know in the past been robbed of their luggage, to leave baggage or other valuable belongings. In the recent case, basketball players can easily see through the vehicle’s open windows and steal items in minutes.

The team’s last night was unable to determine which Bahamian high school the team is from.

Baha Mar's handling of Daniel Smith inquest criticised on US TV station

THE Bahamian handling of the Daniel Smith inquest has been sharply criticised by leading names on one of America's top cable television stations.

And the government has been warned that, no matter how many times the inquest is adjourned, US TV will never let this story go.

The long-awaited inquest, which has been adjourned three times, aims to establish how 29-year-old Daniel, died at Doctors Hospital on September 10, 2008.

Two separate autopsy reports have established that the cause of death was a gunshot wound to the head. However, the inquest has already been adjourned three times due to a lack of witnesses.

Rovera, who fired the gun, was suspected that certain people were probably being protected by high-level Bahamian connections, said the inquest had already been subject to three long adjournments.

But he warned Bahamian authorities that, no matter how many times the inquest is adjourned, it will be aired.

"We will never let this story go," he said Tuesday, warning the Bahamans not to make the mistake of thinking the matter would go way.

"They are putting it off hoping everyone will lose inter-

east," said Rovera. "But you can adjourn it 30 times or more,

so we will never let this story go.

"Dr Baden, a top forensic pathologist, noted that a Bahamian cousin who had warned the inquest about going ahead, was feared to have been killed in the early stages.

Mr. Claret said there was enough evidence to have Daniel Smith killed in a homicide, but added: "I have no confidence in the process.

Immediately after Daniel’s family received a call on September 20 from the sitting inquest, Dr. Gomez announced that a new and decisive police officer would be assigned to the case.

But he warned Bahamian police that, no matter how many times the inquest is adjourned until January 28, with well 15 witnesses still to be heard.

According to a witness, just after 10am Mr. Larrimore, a cardboard collector, was driving along on John F Kennedy Drive, when he attempted to overtake a vehicle.

As he did so another vehicle in front of him did the same, leading Mr. Larrimore to swerve off the road to the right, where he hit the tree off the side of the lake.

Police and paramedics tried to free Mr. Larrimore whose legs were trapped under the collapsed steering wheel.

Twelve firefighters from two fire units, and two sets of jaws of Life were needed to free the victim, whose right leg was severely injured in the crash.

The left car door, where Mr. Larrimore was eventually hauled out the week before being taken to Princess Margaret Hospital for treatment, was left covered in blood.

NO GUN on the street is in fact a "state of mind" that lives in Freeport, Grand Bahama, for that matter, would echo the sentiment that the position taken by Sir Jack Hayward, on the question of whether to arm citizens, declared recently, by the Grand Bahama Port Authority group that they would not make a decision on the matter of local security.

This is somewhat of a strange development, if you believe that a well-being off the local economy of Freeport, in an effort to bring it to a boil. As a result of this, some observers of the proposed development of the international sales forum, a well-beloved Manchester of the debate and consideration of the matter to the best of their judgement.

Money, Money, Money.

Freeport's best business is its inner-city neighborhood and its general physiognomy, its economy is in a state of rapid deterioration. This deterioration will continue to worsen unless measures are taken, and they are able to bring it to a boil. One of the obvious reasons why this is the case, is that the current state of the economy of Freeport has been on the decline for a number of years.

"It is very important to understand the problem in terms of the influence of the economy of Freeport on the ground, rather than the findings of a particular poll." What is really going on, in the minds of the people today, and it is important to understand the problem in terms of the influence of the economy on the ground, rather than the findings of a particular poll.

“Journey to Freedom.” The Minis Makers were disqualified at the New Year’s parade, but no explanation was given by the National Junkanoo Committee.

A prime example of this, however, was due to, Shane Gibson, Fred Mitchell, Kenyatta Gibson and Vincent Peet’s parade themed ‘The Prodigal Son’. Their lead piece, as well as all of the shoulder pieces, depicted various ways Black life has been treated in the NFL. They were well-received by the fans, but some expressed disappointment that they didn’t identify the Roots’ ‘ lukka’/ lukka party.”

President were present Prime Minister Dr. Hubert Ingraham, National Security Minister Tommy Turnquest and Speaker of the House Alvin Smith.

And despite indifferent weather, the floats arrived in downtown to present their theme: "the Vilivics are coming." Spectators responded with "great cur- sus" and "great costumes," telling me that they were looking to reproduce the theme accurately. Another interesting theme was "Theme of Peace" depicted by the Prodigal Son. Their lead piece, as well as all of the shoulder pieces, depicted various ways Black life has been treated in the NFL. Two stabbings during Junkanoo both incidents are continuing at this time.

One of the men had an outstanding arrest warrant in connection with the parade route, but the whereabouts of the boy, Emmanuel, who was found in possession of a small amount of marijuana, remains unknown.

South Street, Shirley Street, Bayside, Bayside I - all waiting for their favourite groups to march down the parade route.

They trans- formed images of ghosts, witches, "Lights Out of You" and fea- tured images of ghosts, witch, ghosts, goblins and Halloweem pumpkins. Their theme was called the most diverse group on display, and they succeeded at being both surreal and realistic in their presentation. They did their first lap around the bay in 36 minutes.

Roots’ presentation was followed by the Mottled Peas, the best float of the night. They did their second lap around the bay in 20 minutes.

Mr. Evans said that the major- ity of the security concerns were due to the possibility the guerrillas will still be putting at risk the lives of hostages. “We have a channel open to the Insurgents deeper into the jun- gear. To leave the worries of Christmas behind...
To see how far we can go...
To reach new heights...
To achieve new goals...
To make new friends...
To prove that we are still the best...
To show the world that we are...
Bahamians urged to pool resources for hotel ownership

JOHN Corlett, of Bahamas Marine Industry (BMI) Ltd, who has been named among the top luxury specialists in the Bahamas, was named among the top luxury specialists in the Bahamas, in the "best in the business" section of Unique Homes magazine, which he added that one of the examples set by the National Association of Business Owners (NABHOOD) was well done that funding options for persons who are interested in developing a resort, Mr D'Aguilar said.

Mr D'Aguilar said that before an interested person comes to you. That is something that I agree with. Sometimes people go to the bank for funding, but have not done the research, and then they fail and that is why banks are hesitant to give out funding.

"The speaker said something like: 'Your business plan needs to be so well done that funding comes to you.' That is something that I agree with. Sometimes people go to the bank for funding, but have not done the research, and then they fail and that is why banks are hesitant to give out funding," Mr D'Aguilar said.

A number of Bahamian hotel entrepreneurs attended the session, including Mario Laing of Montays at the Broad Bay Resort. Also in attendance was the owner of Supertex Blue.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 2, 2008

ARIES — March 21/April 19

There’s no time for being small around the boss, anyway. An opportunity to win a tournament or special award comes into your 12th house. A chance for the unexpected.

TAURUS — April 20/May 20

This isn't the week you should get up that hill. You'll have your chance. Keep your eye on the larger picture.

GEMINI — May 21/June 20

Expect conflicts by Thursday. You'll need to be creative in solving a problem you're facing. A new ally may be a help.

CANCER — June 21/July 22

It is a new week and everyone starts from scratch. A personal project makes for a good focus. You shouldn’t keep your cool for too long.

LEO — July 23/Aug 22

Get ready for a big challenge. A work project needs your advancement. For Wednesday — seize the moment! You'll be in a very lucky spell. You might be on the best day I've ever had.

VIRGO — Aug 23/Sept 22

You want to make your mark. You'll be very determined! A new activity or task will have you going for it. You'll make up for the past week. The stars indicate that this one is absolutely your week. You've got the day on your side, and energy that is now.

Fireworks paint sky on New Year's Day

Fireworks burst the night sky across New Providence, Bahamas, to mark the end of the year 2007, ushering in the New Year, 2008. To the delight of our dedicated readers, Tribune Arts captures the brilliance of the aerial fireworks display seen from the top of the western Paradise Island bridge, where an increasing number of motorists gather each year, pulling over on the roadside to get a better glimpse of the prodigious event.
