In Keeping With The Modern Trend Toward Greater Flexibility In Yearbook Organization, The CHS Annual Staff Is Introducing An Entirely New And Different Format In The 1971 Caribbean. Departing From The Traditional Concept Of Separate Sections, Each Introduced By A Division Page, On Each Facet Of The School Life, The Yearbook Is Divided Into Only Two Main Sections: Formal And Informal, Appearing In The Formal Half Are: Administration And Faculty, Class Pictures, Organization Pictures, Team Photos, Queens And Cheerleaders, Advertising, And Index. This Section Contains All The Formality Required Of A Good Yearbook. In The Exciting Informal Section, We Have Attempted To Present An Uninterrupted Candid Story Of School Life. Just As You Experienced It.
Dedication

Mrs. Adamary Bright
The CHS annual staff wishes to dedicate the 1971 Caribbean to Mrs. Adamaary Anderson Bright, in recognition and appreciation of her many years of devoted service to the students of Cristobal High School.

Mrs. Bright was born in Jacksonville, Florida. She attended school in Houston, Texas, during her early years, but returned to Jacksonville to complete her secondary education at Duval High School. She received her A.B. in Education at Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee, and completed her graduate work for a degree in history at the University of Ann Arbor in Michigan.

After teaching at Jacksonville Junior High School for a short time, she came to the Canal Zone in 1935. Since that time she has served capably and well in many positions at Cristobal High School. Among these are: a teacher of seventh and eighth grade English, social science, vocational guidance, social studies, girls' advisor, and the position as a Guidance Counselor which she has held from 1951 to the present. During her many years at CHS, Mrs. Bright received a number of Outstanding Service Awards for her distinguished service to the Canal Zone Schools Division.

In addition to teaching and counseling, Mrs. Bright also sponsored a number of school activities and organizations such as the National Honor Society. It was Mrs. Bright who originated the Zephyr, and the Caribe Club. She is truly an outstanding organizer; efficient, and hard-working.

Mrs. Bright has done a great deal of traveling during her years at CHS, visiting many countries in both Central and South America, as well as in Europe. Both faculty and students are saddened by the journey Mrs. Bright is about to make as she retires from the faculty of CHS. Her guidance will be long remembered by the countless students whose educations and careers she helped plan.

The halls of CHS were a mass of confusion on September 1, 1970, as hundreds of students congregated around the bulletin boards on which homeroom numbers were posted. Others lingered to chat with old friends or to make new acquaintances; summertime experiences were shared and compared. The perennial excitement of the "first day of school" was in the air. This enthusiasm persisted throughout the orientation assembly, in which students were welcomed to CHS, new teachers introduced, and the new Student Association officers installed. However, with the ringing of that first bell, order began to emerge as students fell back into the familiar routine of school life. Another school year had begun.
The deserted halls are quiet, a soft breeze whispers through the empty corridors there is no indication now of the activities and incidents which the coming day may bring.
Suddenly, the stillness is shattered by the slamming of a locker door, the sounds of shuffling footsteps, shouted conversations, and noisy greetings are heard once more. A new day has begun, the magic of the morning is no more.

Morning Routine Resume

Senior High Band
Upon entering the classroom, a student assumes more than a seat, he assumes all the privileges and responsibilities which accompany his position in this place of learning — the school. Having brought together the teachers and the taught, the school has fulfilled its function — what follows is determined by these individuals.

Often, it seems, minds are more eager and alert as the day begins, and the opportunities afforded by the morning hours should not be missed. To bring to each student success at last — this is the goal of every morning class.
More complaints were heard concerning the lunch hour than perhaps any other facet of school life. Lunch was served in four shifts; those on the early shift complained that it was too early to eat, and those on the late shift complained that it was too late. Once in the cafeteria, however, no one seemed to have any real trouble eating.

The lunch hour provided a brief respite from classes which was welcomed by all. Juniors and seniors took advantage of their open-lunch privilege to "eat out" on alternate days. In spite of this, and the many meetings scheduled during the lunch hour, the cafeteria was always filled with hungry, noisy students; eating, chatting with friends or doing a little last minute studying. Those wishing to leave the cafeteria early, spent their lunch hour in the pleasant surroundings of the student lounge located directly beneath the cafeteria.

Then there were those who just laughed, and...

Refreshed from a relaxing lunch hour, students returned at 11:30 to resume their regular routine. Each afternoon included three hours of classes — with the exception of seniors with sixth-period study hall, who were permitted to leave early. For some, the enthusiasm characteristic of the morning hours appeared to wane; while others seemed to have awakened at least. All, however, evidenced an increased restlessness as the hour approached 2:15 and the ringing of the final bell.
Tigers Display Eager Enthusiasm For Afternoon Activities

Jose Medina and Mike McCann.
With the ringing of the final bell at 2:15, many students rush eagerly to the waiting buses thinking only — "Free! at last!" Others also hurry — anxious to begin the extra-curricular activities which play such an important role in the life of a student. Enjoying the company of those who share similar interests; whether it be an advanced math or foreign language class, sports, drill team, journalism, or dramatics, it is a pleasant and profitable way to spend an afternoon.

To the Yearbook Staff:

"Thanks for the Memories" is the title of a song that was popular some years ago. As we record in this book the events of the 1970-71 school year at Cristoal High School we can surely say with gratitude and even a bit of pride, "thanks for the memories."

You who have studied hard and have given of yourselves to school activities have shown by your Tiger spirit that the busiest people are also the happiest people.

Best wishes to all of you as you continue your education here or elsewhere. Although your highest commitment may well be to academic excellence, you would not be wise to pursue scholarship at the expense of the development of an honorable character, physical well-being, or a pleasant personality. It is hoped that the discipline of commitment to these qualities will earn you a happy freedom of spirit and a sense of accomplishment. May you continue to mark each milestone with satisfaction and happy memories.

James H. Pfau
Principal

SUPERINTENDENTS STAFF, U.S. SCHOOLS: Mr. Ross Anderson, Supervisor, Physical Education and Athletics, U.S. Schools; Dr. Kenneth Lake, Director of Curriculum; Mr. Stewart Brown, Supervisor, swimming pools and safety; Dr. Charles Latimer, Deputy Superintendent of Schools; Mr. James Cook, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Secondary Schools; Mr. George Willingham, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Secondary Schools; Mr. F.A. Castles, Superintendent of Schools (seated); Mr. Vernon Caturl, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Elementary Schools; Dr. Victor Herr, Supervisor of Music, U.S. Schools; Dr. James Wol, Coordinator, Special Education; Mr. David Speir, Assistant Superintendent, U.S. Secondary School; Mrs. Shirley Makibbin, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Schools; Mrs. Frances Sampsell, Assistant Superintendent U.S. Elementary Schools; Mr. Zander Krowitz, Administrative Assistant; Mr. Robert Dahlstrom, Supervisor, Education Data Processing.
Office Staff

The competent members of the CHS office staff handled all general clerical work for the administration and faculty. Included among their duties were official correspondence and paper work. They were also in charge of operating office machines and the intercom system, and answering the telephone. They maintained the record and files of each student, mailed report cards, and sent and received transcripts.

Clinic

The clinic was an important provision for the health and safety of Cristobal High School students. The clinic was staffed with trained nurses who provided emergency first aid; and performed certain routine checks on each student. The clinic was also a place for students to rest when unwell, and for the storage of each students' permanent health records. The clinic also sponsored tuberculosis and chest X-rays for students in certain grades. Dr. Levin, the Public Health Officer for the Atlantic Side, visited the school almost every morning. Dr. Chevelle, the school physician for the Canal Zone Schools, was available every Wednesday.

Guidance is the process of helping persons make the best possible decisions concerning their lives, and aiding them in solving their problems. It includes helping students choose the proper courses to take in school, and aiding them in deciding what careers to follow after their education is completed. Such decisions require that a person have full and correct knowledge about himself and his world. The guidance counselors at Cristobal High School aim to provide students with information so that they may make the best possible decisions in life. The two principal methods used for this are counseling, and testing. Counseling consists chiefly of discussions between a student and his counselor concerning his interests, aptitudes, and special problems. Testing is an important guidance tool. Aptitude, personality, and intelligence tests provide counselors with much useful information. Other important guidance tools are books, pamphlets, and films used to help students decide on courses of study and future careers.
Library

The library, with its vast collection of books, was a familiar stopping place for CHS students. Throughout the year, they used the library and its many resources. The quiet, academic atmosphere made it the perfect place for studying and peaceful solitude found there provided an excellent background for the reading of books. Students made good use of the library during homeroom and studyhalls; checking out books for reports, using reference books, or simply browsing through the library's collection of paperbacks and magazines.

Mr. Wells, the school librarian, was always available for students who needed help in locating a certain book or in making a special report. There were also at least two girls serving as library assistants each period. They helped students use the card catalog and check out books.

“Peace at last!”

GRACE S. PFAU — Reading, B.S., Valley City State College; M.A., University of Minnesota. "If talented, capable people can match their dissatisfaction and concern with positive, concerted action, they should be able to correct the ills they so rightly deplore."

The Special Education department was added to the CHS curriculum in 1960. In Special Education, students received extra help in their academic studies, learned crafts, and learned the perspectives of human relationships and civic responsibilities.

The remedial reading program provided special instruction to improve reading skills and helped assure a student of success in keeping with his ability. Seemingly average students improved the quality of their reading skills with the help of the Special Education Department.

In creative arts, a student learns to express himself through different media. With this in mind, the following courses were taught at CHS this year. Art 7, an introduction to drawing, painting, lettering, ceramics, crafts, covering techniques, and the use of tools — with emphasis placed on developing skills, imagination, and art judgement. Art 8, a reinforcement of knowledge gained in Art 7, with greater emphasis placed on the basic elements of design. Art I, a basic beginning art course for all student grades 9-12 which emphasized the development of drawing skill and the study of design concepts. It involved drawing, painting, lettering, poster-making and a variety of crafts. Art II, an advanced art course for all students grades 10-12. It involved art appreciation and a deeper investigation of design and color theory with emphasis placed on individual organization and the carrying out of art projects. The student had an opportunity to develop skills in the area of his choice, Art III, which included appreciation and advanced creative work.
"Would you believe the class average is 85 wpm? Would you believe 35 wpm with 3 errors?"

The Business Education department offered an excellent selection of courses for the student planning a career in business, as well as for the college-bound students. The skills and knowledge taught by this department will be useful regardless of the student's future occupation.

General Business gave the students a basic understanding of business practices useful in daily living. Typing I gave students an opportunity to develop speed and accuracy on a typewriter. They were taught to type letters, tabulated reports, manuscripts, and business forms. Typing II was a continuation of Typing I with emphasis on constant practice for increased speed and accuracy. Seniors taking Shorthand learned to read, write, and take dictation. Another course offered only to seniors was Bookkeeping. In this course, students learned the fundamentals of single and double-entry bookkeeping and were given practical problems for the application of these skills.

"This is almost as bad as Latin."
English

English, an extensively wide field, was one of the largest departments at CHS. It was a required subject for all students, since the ability to understand and to use well his native language deemed necessary for a student's success in any endeavor.

Regular English classes included the study of grammar, composition, and literature. In addition to these regular courses, the English department also included journalism, speech and drama, and remedial reading. In journalism the student learned to write in newspaper form and received much practical experience. Speech and drama was a course which taught the students the art of oral expression. Besides this, the course required a great deal of research work. Remedial reading provided students who required extra help an opportunity to improve their reading ability.

Books read in the various classes include; Johnny Tremain, Great Expectations, A Tale of Two Cities, The House of Seven Gables, The Red Badge of Courage, Wuthering Heights, Lord Jim, and The Moonstone.

When will they ever learn?

Is it third declension, accusative, masculine, plural, or comparative? I’m mixed up!
The foreign language department at CHS was a wide and interesting one. Its aim was to increase a student's understanding of the history and culture, as well as the language of countries other than his own. In order to fulfill this aim, CHS offered courses in three modern languages; French, Spanish, and Russian. Three years of each language were offered, students being placed in the level appropriate to their development. In addition, a second year course in Latin was offered.

In all language courses, speaking, writing, reading, and understanding of the language were stressed. The Audio-Linguual Method, ALM, was a new system used to teach Spanish and Russian. This system involved intensive oral practice in the language laboratory.

"How can I concentrate on "Hablar" when I'm thinking of HIM?"
Home Economics

The homemaking program placed emphasis on three areas: foods and nutrition, clothing selection and construction, and family living. It was the aim of the department to provide girls with knowledge helpful for their futures as homemakers.

Junior high home economics students learned the basics of sewing by making simple household articles and garments. They were also taught the basics of cooking which included the preparation and serving of formal and informal meals.

Senior high students were offered one semester of sewing which included personal grooming, the planning and construction of clothing, and a study of personal and family relationships. In the second semester’s cooking classes, students were taught the fundamentals of nutrition, the use of recipes, meal planning, marketing, and various methods of preserving food.

The Industrial Arts department at CHS attempted to provide pupils with insight into their own interests; to develop their abilities to work with their hands and with tools, and to sharpen their interest in creative crafts. The Industrial Arts department offered four groups of courses: Mechanical Drawing; Wood Working, Metal Shop, and Plastics.

Mechanical Drawing I taught students to visualize how an object is put together. Neatness, correct lines, measurement, and following instructions were stressed. Mechanical Drawing II was a continuation of this course for students planning to continue their education in this field. Woodworking students learned about tools, joints, shop safety, and the operation of power tools. They used their knowledge to carry out projects. Metal Shop I taught the basic skills of benchwork, forging, welding, sheetmetal, and machine operation. Plastics students learned the properties of plastics and how to shape them into useful objects.

"They didn't tell me about this when I filled out my class selection sheet," grumbles Robert Johnson.
In this modern age, as well as in the past, mathematics remains a basic part of everyone's life. The CHS math department offered all the math courses required for success in college as well as in the students' daily lives.

Five math courses offered were to be taken in order as each was a prerequisite of the subsequent one. These courses were Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Introduction to Analysis, and Calculus. General Math, and Introduction to Algebra were also offered for students not majoring in math.

General Math captured the elementary forms of mathematics. It pushed the students to have a mathematical background.

Algebra I, the first step up the ladder to higher mathematics, caught the principles of mathematics. Word mastery of the language of mathematics was attained in this course.

Geometry dealt with the art of drawing. Proving theorems was a major part of geometry. The students learned how to deal with space figures. Algebra I was also reviewed for the students.

Algebra II taught the principles of factoring, polynomials, logarithms, and basic trigonometry. The pattern of reasoning was also learned in this course.

Introduction to Analysis went deeper into trigonometry. Linear and quadratic equations were studied in great depth. Functions and relations were the beginning notion of this course.

Calculus, the last step up a steep ladder of mathematics in high school was a college preparatory course introducing the fundamentals of differential calculus.

The following courses were offered this year in Music. Music 7 and 8: the exploration of all kinds of music and music skills with emphasis placed on music fundamentals as a step to the enjoyment of music. Beginning Instrumental Class: a specialized class for students desiring to learn the basic techniques of a band or an orchestral instrument. It is open to all grades but it is recommended that a student wishing to participate in advanced music classes begin the study of instruments in seventh grade. Educational values stressed are: reading of musical notation, development of good tone and the ability to express oneself with confidence on a musical instrument. Also stressed are pride in personal achievement, concern for group results, and the discipline of concentrating on details to build confidence and ability. Intermediate Instrumental Class: a specialized class for students having had one or two semesters of work in beginning instrumental class. This class is open to all grades. It provides a chance for students to work with symphonic music of easy to medium difficulty. The educational values stressed are: continuing exploration of musical expression, building of confidence in personal abilities, and striving to do one's best. Senior Band is a specialized class for students with at least one year of the equivalent of beginning or intermediate instrumental class. This is an activity group. It serves the school by providing music for assemblies, football games, pep assemblies, and other occasions. Concerts are planned to expose the student to the classical and modern musical world. Students are encouraged to participate in musical groups of all kinds. These include college, community, and jazz groups. Values stressed are: self-discipline, appreciation and tolerance of new sounds and musical experience, and exploration of the student's abilities in music. The music program also provides courses in 7th and 8th grade chorus and senior chorus where students learn how to sing and read music.

Gym can be relaxing! . . .

The importance of physical, as well as mental development in achieving success in a highly complex society was stressed by the physical education department. Its aims were to teach good sportsmanship and a sense of fair play, to discipline the mind, and to educate students in leisure time activities which can be carried into adulthood. The department strove to give each student, regardless of his stage of development, a chance to develop his skills, his attitude, and his physique.

During the year 1970-71, Cristobal High School’s girls’ physical education classes participated in basketball, volleyball, tumbling, track, tennis, and various other sports. The boys’ physical education classes participated in football, baseball, basketball, swimming, weightlifting, and track. Through these activities as well as intramural and varsity sports, the department succeeded in achieving its goals.
Mad scientists at work!

CHS boasted a wide-ranging science curriculum. The student who followed this program can be assured of a solid foundation in scientific knowledge. The courses offered were Life Science, Earth Science, Introductory Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

The seventh-grade Life Science course taught the basis of life and the student’s role in the realm of living things. Earth Science, offered to eighth-graders, was an interesting study of the structure and function of the world and its surrounding environment. Introductory Physical Science was a preliminary laboratory course. Students were taught the procedures of scientific research and discovery. Biology offered a change from the world of physical actions and reactions. This course was highlighted by three dissections during the year. A basic course in Chemistry acquainted students with methods of scientific thinking and problem solving. Emphasis was placed on performing laboratory experiments and reaching logical conclusions. Physics, the science of measurement, dealt primarily with practical applications of science in daily life. Vector analysis and other physical aspects of science were the major concepts studied in this course.

EMMA LOUISE MASON — Life Science 7, A.B., Randolph-Macon Woman’s College, M.A., Colgate University. "In order for students to learn they must be an active participant which requires much more than mere physical presence.”
LUKE T. PALUMBO — Introductory Physical Science, B.S., Northwest Missouri State College; M. Ed., Univ. of Florida. "Things could be better."

CHARLES T. REEVES — Physics, Earth Science, Mathematics, Driver Education; B.S., B.A., M.A., Arizona State University. "To thyself be honest and think before you act."

JAMES D. NORMAN — Biology; B.S., Michigan State Univ.; M.A., Oregon State Univ. "Live, love and be happy for tomorrow we die." "Smile and have a full life."

Nai-Yuen Shum. "I think the one I just cut up is the one I needed."

"Beware of this plant!"

The formula for problem No. 2 is not on the clock!
The purpose of the social science courses offered at CHS was to help students learn about their world; its past, its present, and its relation to them — both now and in the future.

The aim of the social studies instructor was to aid the student in learning to view history in an objective and unbiased manner, and to give him a broader approach to such problems as national and international relations. Social Science courses offered at CHS included Geography, World History, U.S. History, and American Institutions.

Geography dealt with the study of maps, climates, and the physical features of various countries. World History was the study of the different nations' pasts and their relationships to one another. U.S. History provided the student with knowledge of our nation's past and its accomplishments and led him to a better understanding of our nation. American Institutions taught the student about the workings of government and the basic principles of economics.

The objective of all social science courses was to lessen misunderstanding of the people of other nations and to help the students learn to respect cultures other than their own.

This year, CHS social science teachers attended a special workshop conducted by Dr. Edwin Tenton of Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He was an advocate of the use of original source material in the teaching of social studies.

ROANALD JACOBS — World Geography, Bachelors, Southeastern State College; Masters, Northern State College. "Make the best of what ever situation you are faced with."

ROBERT MCCULLOUGH — Social Studies, B.S., St. Cloud State College, M.A., Univ. of Northern Colorado. "Be kind to animals."

Now this is a real classroom with real students!

Long live democracy!

Mr. Gansen. "This is an example of a good screen."
The Reserve Officers Training Corps at CHS was established to help prepare high school students for future careers in the Armed Forces, and for ROTC in college, should they decide to take it. It's chief aim was to help students achieve the maturity necessary to become officers and leaders of men.

This year the ROTC was headed by CPT Juan F. Mata, who was assisted by SFS Murphy, SFC Piccoli, and SSG Alford. The ROTC unit at Cristobal consisted of "E" Company, "F" Company, Color Guard, Drill Team, Rifle Team, and the Battalion Staff. The staff this year included Battalion Commander Major John Martin; Battalions sponsor, 1Lt. Hila Lyman; S1, 2Lt. Donald Byrd; S2, 2Lt. Daniel Valentine; S3, 2Lt. Jaime Darraga; and S4, 2Lt. Lewis Valdez. The Drill Team was commanded by 1Lt. Eligio Thomas, and sponsored by 1Lt. Jean Smith. "E" Company was commanded by 1Lt. Dennis Maxwell and sponsored by 1Lt. Jackie Springs. "F" Company was commanded by 1Lt. Isaac Heres and sponsored by 1Lt. Denise Foshee.

Reviews were presented by the ROTC each nine-weeks during the school year. A large and important review was Field Night, held on March 27th. Among the types of competition included were: personal, squad, platoon, company, and most exciting of all, Drill Team competition. Another exciting competition of the school year was the Brigade Review. In order to make competition fair, the Brigade Review and Field Night are held on the Atlantic and Pacific sides on alternate years.

The Lighter Side Of ROTC Life

Cadets steal a moment of relaxation during ten grueling days at leadership school.

"So this is what they teach you at leadership school."

"F" Company Commander Isaac Heres "drops for ten" with a smile.
Girls’ Drill Team Wins
Veteran’s Day Parade

The 1971 Girls’ Drill Team at CHS consisted of twenty-nine girls. They were under the expert leadership of Commander Jan Bjorneby. The girls performed during halftime at all home football games in the Tiger Stadium. They also marched in the quarterly ROTC Reviews. As an additional activity, they participated in the annual Veteran’s Day Parade. At this time, they were selected as the outstanding girls’ drill team on the Isthmus. The girls considered this an honor which made the long hours of after-school practice well-worth the time and effort it required.

The Drill Team also helped with Orientation Day for the new students of CHS. They provided guidance and assistance when necessary.

Despite overwhelming odds against them, the majorettes Patty Hill and Tita Cobb, presented a fine performance on the last Junior Varsity game. They carried on their tradition by performing at the basketball games. To be a majorette, one must be willing to devote intensive hours of practice over the summer, and almost regular practice after school when school begins.

Tryouts were held during the month of April.
Cristobal High School teachers began the 1970-71 school year on August 31. On this date, the faculty attended a special meeting at which school policy and plans for the coming year were discussed. Mr. Speir, assistant Supervisor of U.S. Secondary Schools and Mr. Cook, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Secondary Schools attended and were introduced to the faculty. Following speeches by Mr. Pfau, Mr. Jeffries, and Mr. Speir; coffee was served to the new teachers in the home economics room.
Caribe Club Sponsors Cultural Exchange Program With Colon High Schools

In order to provide students from a Panamanian school with an opportunity to observe the workings of the U.S. school system, the members of the Caribe Club invited the students of St. Mary's and St. Joseph's academies in Colon to visit CHS. On the morning of December 9th, the entire senior class of St. Mary's Academy and a number of students from St. Joseph arrived by bus. Each girl was assigned to a member of the Caribe Club and whom they accompanied to class. They had originally planned to leave at noon, but refreshed by a lunch provided by the Caribe Club, they attended afternoon classes as well. Both Panamanian and American students agree that they had profited from this cultural exchange.

"I knew I should have brought my lunch!"

"Mrs. Fattorosi won't let us on the gym floor in our oxfords."

"You're kidding! I'm glad I came so I can catch up on the news."

Raul served on the committee for the Jr-Sr Prom, and as a member of the Senior Class Advisory Council and Board of Directors. Raul plans to attend Amherst College in Massachusetts and take a liberal arts course.
The 1970-71 school year was one of innovation for CHS seniors. Under the leadership of capable class officers, and with the expert guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Fattorosi, the senior class set out to do great things. The first project was to secure an open lunch. A committee was established to prepare and submit for approval a list of regulations, and the privilege was granted. In order to provide a sounding board for the complaints and suggestions of seniors, the Advisory Council, consisting of twenty representative seniors was established. Another new group was the Senior Board of Directors, made up of representatives elected by students in the senior class. Both groups worked hard to make the year a successful one.

Among the special activities of the year were a trip to the other side to visit Canal Zone College, the Senior Banquet, and the Junior-Senior Prom. School events of special significance to seniors were the Jamboree where Wendy Flores reigned as queen, the homecoming game victory and the dance which followed with Rosemary Christian as queen, and the Christmas formal at which the Hall of Fame winners were announced.

It was a year which included those once in a lifetime events which are so much a part of being a senior; selecting invitations and cards, senior skip day, baccalaureate, and of course, graduation. Altogether, it was a great year — one which the Class of ’71 will never forget.

A time in the life of each girl and boy
A time of sorrow, and yet of joy;
Graduation realization brings.
Of the end of many things
Classes, dances, football games will be no more,
The magic of the high school year is o'er
Though some may consider all things done,
They soon will learn Life's just begun

The class of '72 was the largest and one of the most active and spirited classes of Cristobal High School. Through the efforts of class officers the Juniors obtained an open lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week. Another highlight of the year was the selection of the class ring which was round with a gold stone. The Juniors will long remember PSAT and NMSQT which are among the many tests they took in preparation for college. The girls in the Junior Class organized and presented a fashion show which demonstrated the do's and don'ts of pants wear. Juniors also planned and presented a Junior Class Assembly. They were also responsible for the annual Junior-Senior Prom honoring the graduating Seniors.

Sophomores
This year's sophomore class was outstanding — both as a group and as individuals. Scott Loizeaux and Paul Bleicher received High Honors during the first semester.

The sophomore class was active both in special class activities and school events as a whole. They organized a float for the Homecoming Game Parade, choosing Debbie Meeker and Jan Janosik as their representatives.

In cooperation with the Freshman class, the sophomores sponsored the Freshman-Sophomore dance on February thirteenth. Ted Scott and Barbara Bloemer became king and queen for the evening.

Overwhelmed With Tiger Spirit

"For-r-r-eel!"

Football has always been an extremely popular sport with the junior high school boys at CHS. This year, for the first time, they played regulation 11-man football. In September, over eighty seventh and eighth grade boys tried out for the team. Of these, fifty-six were chosen and divided into two teams, the Blue and the Gold. The two teams practiced on alternate days and competed against each other in three games. The first game ended in a tie, with a score of 6-6. The Blue Team won the remaining games, with scores of 22-0 and 14-6 respectively.

Outstanding players for the Blue Team were: George Medina (quarterback), Glenn Moore (fullback), Mario Pino (end), and linemen Paul Baker, Alfred Sandrock, Reggie Robinson, Michael Romero, Carlos Coronado, and Edward Morrell. Outstanding players for the Gold Team were: Alexis Nieves (quarterback), Philip Wilkins (fullback), Craig Dohe (flanker), and linemen James Bird, Michael Ridge, Robbie Currier, David Alger, and Bill Vest.
Skit Opens National Junior Honor Society Initiation

On December 17, five new members were initiated in the National Junior Honor Society. The old members presented an amusing skit, explaining the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, citizenship, and service required for membership in this organization. Following the skit, a "tapping" ceremony was held. The selected students were escorted to the stage for the traditional candlelighting ceremony. Mr. Pfau congratulated the newly initiated eighth-graders and presented them with pins and certificates of membership. A reception, honoring the new members and their proud parents was held in the home economics room following the ceremony.

The National Junior Honor Society held its spring initiation in March. At that time, seventh-graders were eligible for membership.

The Junior High Debate Club was organized in an effort to provide students with an opportunity to express their thoughts and feelings on various issues. Many of the topics discussed were based on events currently in the news. The sponsor of the club was Mr. Berger.

This year the Debate Club debated for the different Junior High home rooms. The students served as judges of these debates. The club also presented an assembly for the entire Junior High student body. The judgment of this debate was left to the audience.

Junior High Student Association Serves As Unifying Force For Students

The Student Association is the backbone of any school. This is true of the junior as well as the senior high school. The Cristobal Junior High School Student association served as a unifying force for the students and afforded them an opportunity to voice their thoughts and opinions on various issues. Through the S.A., students were able to participate actively in the government of their school and thus aid in making it a more pleasant place in which to learn.

The year 1970-71 was a highly successful one for Cristobal's Junior High Student Association. Continuing from the point it stopped last year, it went on to make this an active and exciting year. Among the activities planned and carried out by the S.A. were the Blue and Gold Intramural Football games, and various drives and dances held throughout the school year.

The Zephyr was the Junior High counterpart of the CHS Tradewind. The staff was composed of seventh and eighth grade students interested in learning the fundamentals of journalism while providing a valuable service to their fellow students. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Tanner, these students published a paper once each month. Each issue contained articles concerning events and topics of interest to junior high students as well as an advice column, cartoons, and letters to the editor.
The Student Association has been an important part of the school life at Cristobal High School for many years. It was organized in 1932 to encourage the exchange of ideas among students, to create friendlier relationships among students, and to increase student participation in school activities. Its primary purpose is to function as an organization in which students may practice realistically the basic principals of democracy and learn to handle the responsibilities which accompany the privileges of self-government.

Each year a nominating committee considers long and carefully the qualifications of various students and then selects those best suited for the job as S.A. officer candidates. These candidates then enter the exciting competition known as "Campaign Week." Each candidate strives to obtain the students' votes by hanging posters, coining slogans, and passing out buttons and tags. The highlight of the week is the campaign assembly, during which candidates and their managers speak and various amusing or informative skits are presented. On election day, students vote for the student they feel is best qualified for the job, realizing that the election be responsible for running CHS the following year is much more than a mere popularity contest.

Race From Gatun To Pina Highlights “C” Club Initiation

Outstanding male athletes at CHS were eligible for membership in the "C" Club. This organization gave recognition to those who excelled in football, swimming, track, basketball, or tennis. All lettermen were invited to join during one of the two initiations held during the year. Aspiring members were required to perform humorous and often embarrassing feats. On the final day of the initiation period, the future members ran from Gatun to Pina where they completed their "ordeal."

"That's it, Apodaca, up and down." orders Billy Deaton.
The Girls' Athletic Association was the female equivalent of the "C" Club. The members were girls who demonstrated outstanding athletic ability through their participation in the CHS athletic program. Aspiring members were required to participate in all intramural sports and letter in at least two varsity sports. In addition, these girls had to pass a grueling initiation, similar to that of the "C" Club. Members of this club, under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Harris, served as officials at all intramural games.

The G.A.A. cooperated with the "C" Club in sponsoring the annual Homecoming Dance. This year for the first time they also competed against Cristo's male athletes in the "Olympics."

"Up, up and away!"
The purpose and aim of the International Thespian Society was the advancement and improvement of theater arts in secondary schools. The CHS chapter attempted to arouse interest in the dramatic arts and gave students interested in drama a chance to work with its many facets; make-up, direction, and acting. Any high school student who earned ten points was eligible to become a thespian. Mrs. Elfers was the sponsor.

This year the International Thespian Society at CHS produced two plays presented to the public in the CHS auditorium, one in November, and one in March. The fall dramatic production was the romantic comedy — Bell, Book, And Candle. The cast included veteran actors, Judy McLain and Donald Byrd and newcomers, Diane Carroll, Lewis Valdez, and Andrew Foshee. The play was well received by both CHS students and the general public.

Sitting: Debbie Pate, Cathy Carlisle, Judy McLain, Diane Hauke, Mrs. Elfers (sponsor). Standing: Donald Byrd, Allen Harmon.
Debate Club Broadens Minds

The Debate Club was organized with the aim of providing students with an opportunity to express their views on controversial issues of the day. Over-population, the dress code, euthanasia, and other topics provided subjects for weekly debates.

For each debate, the club members were divided into two groups, pro and con. Either the sponsor, Mr. Gregg, or one of the students served as a judge. Each team member was given one minute in which to present his arguments, then the opposing team offered its rebuttal.

The highlight of the year for this club was the Speech Festival, in which they competed with a debating team from Balboa.

Safety Club Encourages Safety Practices

The Safety Club was formed in order to encourage safety practices among the students of CHS. Mr. Reeves and his assistant, Mr. McCullough, aided the student members in carrying out their aims. Among these aims were the organization of monthly fire drills and demonstrations of correct methods for putting out small fires. These fire drills and demonstrations played an important part in keeping CHS students prepared for emergencies, not only at school, but also at home and elsewhere.

Sitting: Mr. Reeves, (safety advisor), Mr. McCullough, (safety assistant advisor). Standing: Carl Anderson, Mike Osborn, Diane Hauke, Peter Pacheco, Patty Valentine.
The Caribe Club (Future Teachers of America) was formed for the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the teaching profession. All students with a "B" average were invited to join following the second semester of their freshman year. On November 18, 1970, the new members were initiated at the Initiation Banquet held at the Brazos Heights Golf Club.

In February, the Caribe Club sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day in honor of the faculty of CHS. This was the sixth year for the club to sponsor this activity. The members also sponsored the successful Student Teacher's Day on April 22. This year was the first time that the students taught classes for the entire day. All agreed that this was a challenging and rewarding experience. The club also visited Coco Solo Elementary School, and a Latin American school in Colon, Republic of Panama.

Another activity of the Caribe Club was their tutoring program. Members aided weaker students who needed help in their studies. Frequently, members took over entire class periods for teachers when substitutes were not available.
"Le Circle Français" met twice a month in order to stimulate student interest in the language, history, and culture of France. To achieve this aim, special guest speakers or selected members presented reports on various subjects.

The club was sponsored by Mrs. Gegg. Only those students who obtained a "B" average in French were eligible for membership. These students were initiated at a banquet held at the Brazos Heights Golf Club. Each initiate was required to recite a poem, sing a song, or perform a skit.

The French Club members were involved in a number of interesting activities during the year. They sponsored French Week and elected the annual "Miss France." They also visited the famous passenger liner, "The France."
The Nurses' Aides Club was a very popular organization at Cristobal High. Its members were girls interested in nursing or another medical profession. The club encouraged and stimulated this interest by inviting guest speakers, showing films, and planning field trips to hospitals.

The most important field trip this year was the annual visit to La Garterita in Gatun Lake, on December 12. The purpose of this trip was to give Christmas gifts to the people on the island, especially the children.

The Student Association assisted the Nurses' Aides club this year in collecting food and used clothing for this purpose. The police division provided the club with a launch as transportation.

In order to become a member of the Nurses' Aides Club, one must be a freshman girl, wear a cardboard nurse' cap on the day of the initiation, and say the pledge with the other initiates during a special meeting.

In order to be eligible for this program, each girl was required to take a two-week first aid course. In addition, a one-week training period, during which the basics of hospital work were taught, was required. The girls learned how a hospital functions and how to care for patients with various needs.

In order to become a full-fledged Pink Girl, each girl had to work a total of 125 hours. In the hospital, the Pink Girls were casually referred to as "Pinkies." They were expected to adhere to the commands and advice of their superiors who were registered nurses. The fun-filled summer of hard, but rewarding work was climaxxed by a private graduation ceremony attended by the group's sponsor, Mrs. Howard, and various civic-minded citizens.

The Spanish Club at CHS was organized for the purpose of encouraging Spanish-speaking students to become active in various activities, and to increase their understanding of the Latin American countries. Meetings were held twice each month, and matters of interest to members were discussed. All discussions were conducted in Spanish.

The officers of the Spanish Club this year were: Raul Castro, President; Diane Hauke, Vice-President; Sandra Alberga, Secretary, and Jenny Wirtz, Treasurer.

The club was sponsored by Mrs. Elfers who helped with the organization of various activities and attended all meetings.

Who said that Spanish had to be spoken only at Spanish Club meetings?
The Student Advisory Committee was organized at the suggestion of Mr. Pfau, with the cooperation of Michael Dexter, President, and other members of the Cristobal High School Student Association. The purpose of this group was to serve in an advisory capacity to the principal of CHS. Members were carefully selected in order that each club and organization in the school, and each class, might be represented. Members served as a sounding board, bringing to the attention of Mr. Pfau the complaints, comments, and suggestions of their fellow students. Jose Medina served as chairman of the group, and Lana Boone acted as recording secretary.

Meetings were held on the first Monday of each month. Among the topics discussed were the reasons behind school regulations and the possibility of changing them, modifications in the dress code, and possible changes in the athletic schedule. Members cooperated with other organizations in planning and carrying out activities and projects of interest to the majority of the student body. Among these were: a special assembly in cooperation with the Canal Zone Youth Council, the "Olympics" in which the GAA and "C" Club participated, and the Powderpuff Speedball Game in which the Junior and Senior girls participated.

"Why didn't somebody tell me there was a meeting today?" queries Chairman Jose Medina as he and Robert Phillips hurry to a meeting.
Philosophian Society Is Formed

A new club at CHS this year, the Philosophian Society was formed by a group of students interested in intellectual and literary pursuits. The club's aim was to provide students with an opportunity for discussion and exploration of the various aspects of philosophy and literature. It encouraged students to develop and improve their ability to express themselves; either through group discussion, or individually through reading, creative writing, or poetry.

Membership was open to all high school students, but was limited to fifteen at any one time. Interested students applied through Mr. Fattorosi, the club's sponsor, or through any two members. Regular meetings were held twice each month, with various extra meetings scheduled for after school and on weekends. These extra meetings were planned for places such as the beach, which offered an atmosphere of informal association that helped the club members to discuss freely and honestly.

CHS Offers 3 Drivers' Ed. Sessions

Drivers' Training was an extremely popular course among CHS students. It was offered three times during the school year. Each session lasted six weeks. Meetings were held after school in room 341 for one hour and forty-five minutes, Monday through Friday. The instructor, Mr. Reeves, presented lectures and films in order to give students the background in traffic laws, safety, and automobile mechanics necessary to enable them to become good drivers. In addition to classroom instruction, ten hours of behind-the-wheel driving were required before students were eligible to take the road test and obtain a license.

Driver education students brace themselves for another "horror movie."

The LANGUAGE LAB CLUB is an organization for tri-lingual students who are skilled in the operation of the language lab equipment. These students assist the teachers of the various foreign languages by setting the equipment in the lab and taking control of the console.

Members attend bi-monthly meetings held in the language laboratory. Matters of interest are presented to the members by the officers, and lively discussions often result. The sponsor, Mr. Stearns is always present to make certain that order is maintained.

Several interesting field trips are scheduled during the year. Members visit passenger liners of the countries whose languages the members have studied. These excursions provide the members with an opportunity to converse with native speakers and to learn something about their culture.
Membership in the National Honor Society has become nationally recognized as one of the highest honors which may be bestowed upon a high school student. The Canal Zone Caribbean Chapter was formed for the purpose of providing recognition to those students who have excelled in all aspects of Cristobal High School life.

Students who have a minimum grade point average of 3.00, and have demonstrated outstanding leadership, character, and service are eligible for membership in this society.

Two initiation assemblies are presented to the student body each year, one each semester. At the fall initiation, only seniors may be inducted. This year, the assembly was held on November 19th. The theme for the program was, "Where do we go from here?" and Reverend Clarence Payne from the Canal Zone Youth Council spoke on the subject of young rebels.

New members announced at this time were: Sandra Albarga, Carmen Butler, Fred Cole, Gary Collins, Denise Foshee, and Lewis Valdez. At the spring initiation, not more than 15% of the senior class, and not more than 5% of the junior class may be considered for election.
Pink Box Gives Tradewind Insight To CHS

This year's TRADEWIND staff worked toward faster publication and a more entertaining newspaper. Work sessions were held after school three days a week. The editors, reporters, typists, and photographers devoted many hours of their own time to the paper.

In order to get the entire student body involved in making the TRADEWIND a vital and interesting part of our school, new ideas were necessary. One such idea was THE PINK BOX. This box served as a "catch all" for school happenings. Students were encouraged to drop in letters to HELP (the new advice column), letters to the editor, poems, bits of gossip, and anything they felt might be interesting and amusing for their schoolmates.

Mr. Dobbins was TRADEWIND advisor this year; it was his second year in this position. He devoted much of his time and energy to publishing an interesting, informative newspaper.

The staff consisted of many members, each with varied and vital tasks to perform. The hours of hard work required for the publication of a good paper all seemed worthwhile when the TRADEWIND returned from the press.
The yearbook staff had the challenging responsibility of producing and editing the CHS yearbook, the Caribbean. The staff consisted of a group of efficient students who worked tirelessly after school in order to meet the deadlines established by the publishing company. With the guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Johnson, and the help of an ambitious group of photographers, the staff accomplished their duty without unnecessary delay.

The staff introduced many innovations this year. One was a new system of editing, whereby the staff members, excluding the editor and the copy editor, were unassigned. Each staff member did the work which had to be done, regardless of the subject matter. This new system proved to be very practical. Another innovation was an entirely new arrangement of the Caribbean itself. Also in order to compensate for shortage of funds, the staff sponsored a number of contests to stimulate yearbook sales. As a result, staff membership enlarged to include junior as well as senior high school students. This was done in appreciation of their generous donations and enthusiastic sales of Tiger Boosters.
This year’s interscholastic Champion Tigers will long be remembered as the best team ever to play in the Canal Zone. They achieved what no other team has — an undefeated season all the way from the Jamboree to the Palm Bowl.

Cristobal’s first taste of victory came in the Jamboree. In the first quarter the Tigers defeated the Bulldogs when quarterback, Neil Patton, threw for 41 yards for the only touchdown. The College Devils were unable to stop the mighty Tigers in the second quarter and once again Cristobal came out on top 7-0.

The first game of the regular season once again brought victory to the Tigers when they overpowered Canal Zone College by a score of 22 to 6.

The quality of the performance in that first game was typical of that in the games which followed.

Balboa’s homecoming was smashed when Cristobal outplayed and outscored them 33-8. This was the high scoring game for the Tigers this year. Touchdowns were made by Neil Patton, Billy Deaton, Robert Phillips, and Willie Huffman, who scored twice.

The first home game for the Tigers proved a thriller for all. The game was undecided until the last few seconds when “Cubby” Clement intercepted a pass from College quarterback, Russ Bowen, thus continuing the winning streak to three straight wins.

The final season game, between Balboa and Cristobal, again displayed the Tiger superiority as they crushed Balboa with four wins and no losses. Cristobal became the Interscholastic Champions for the year 1970-71.

The Annual United Fund Palm Bowl Game brought the Tigers up against a strong team consisting of outstanding players from both Balboa and College. The “Devil-Dogs” were determined to obtain revenge for the losses suffered at the claws of the Tigers. Yet even their combined efforts was not enough to stop the powerful Cristobal machine. Determined to keep their undefeated record, the Tigers slipped by the All-Stars to win 7-0. It was a fitting climax to a football season which Cristobal Tigers will not soon forget.

Cheerleaders:
Power Behind Tigers

It has been said that behind every successful man there is a woman — certainly this must also be true of a successful team. The 1970-71 school year included a history making football season for the CHS Tigers. Their victories certainly gave Cristobal’s five lovely young cheerleaders something to cheer about as they remained undefeated in game after game. Before each game, however, these energetic girls practiced for many long, hard hours perfecting new cheers and routines to cheer their team to victory. They painted posters, planned pep assemblies, sponsored contests, and distributed spirit ribbons in an effort to increase student interest in athletic events, and school spirit in general. These girls, with their smiling faces and attractive uniforms, were indeed an asset to their team and to their school.

At the close of the intramural basketball season, those girls who demonstrated the greatest skill and ability were selected to play on the Varsity of A-League Team. Each team member had to be a junior or senior and maintain a "C" average.

This was a year of innovation for the Cristobal High School Girls' Basketball team. It was the first year in which a team was composed of only five girls. Also, for the first time numbers appeared on the front of the uniforms.

The 1970-71 season commenced in September and continued until the end of October. The girls played teams from Balboa High School and Canal Zone College twice each and remained undefeated throughout the season. To climax their successful season, the girls went on to a 28-21 victory in the championship game.

A dripping but happy Mrs. Harris is pulled from the pool following her "victory dunking."
The B-League Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team was composed of freshmen, sophomores, and some younger, less experienced juniors. The procedure for selecting team members was the same as that for A-League. These girls wore the same uniforms as their varsity counterparts, and practiced many long, hard, hours after school in an effort to improve their skills and teamwork. They played only two games, both against Balboa. They lost both games, but some of these girls will undoubtedly prove an asset to next year's A-League team because of the experience they have gained.
Tennis Team Composed Of Tournament Winners

Members of the Cristobal High School varsity tennis team were selected by means of a preliminary elimination tournament. Those boys winning a sufficient number of matches, and meeting the minimum scholastic requirements were eligible for the team. Practice sessions were held each afternoon after school from 2:45 until 4:30 at various tennis courts throughout the community.

Tennis competition this year consisted of two interscholastic matches and a triangular meet in which Cristobal, Canal Zone College, and Balboa participated.

The 1970 Swimming season began in late October. Practices were held each day after school for two hours. The individual work-out totaled almost a mile, and the swimmers also did sprints and relays.

CHS had looked forward to a very promising season, but they only managed to capture second place. Individual performances, however, were outstanding on both the boys' and girls' teams; and CHS captured a large number of first places in medley and freestyle relay competition throughout the season.

Quite a number of swimmers earned letters this year. In order to earn a letter, a swimmer must earn an average of approximately three points per meet, and must attend practice sessions regularly.

CHS had a number of good swimmers this year. With the help of these veterans and a number of promising young freshmen, next season may well be a victorious one.

And after the meet ... the triumphant, or perhaps only hopeful, swimmers, relax and enjoy the long train ride home.
Tryouts for girls tennis were held in February and the season ran from March 5 to March 26. Practice was held everyday after school at various courts in the community. This was done to give the girls practice on different courts where the ball bounced differently and the direction of the wind varied. General qualifications were dedication to this individual sport, self-discipline, and endurance.

Many hours of hard practice were necessary to make a good tennis player. The girls' equipment was furnished by the school except for the rackets which the girls supplied themselves.

A new scoring system was introduced in which play continued until one girl won six games. If there was a 6-6 tie, one game called "sudden death" was played, the winner of which was declared the winner of the match.

Four matches were played this year. Two against Balboa, and two against Canal Zone College.
One week before the beginning of the track season, a meeting was called, and all interested persons asked to attend. Those willing to attend the two-hour daily practice sessions became members of the varsity or junior varsity teams, depending on their ages. CHS participated in three interscholastic meets this year. Track events at each meet included: hurdles, relays, sprints, and distance running. Field events included: the shot put, the pole vault, the discus throw, and the long and high jumps. In addition to the regular meets, CHS also participated in the two-day Balboa Relays. They were co-champions with Balboa in this special event in which Rainbow City, Panama City, and Colon teams participated.

The 1970-71 track team was one of the best ever from CHS. Willie Huffman broke the record in both the discus throw and the shot put. Members of the record-breaking 880-yard relay team were: Billy Deaton, Neil Patton, Ed Bringas, and Frank Cicchetto. The outstanding runner of the season was junior, Billy Deaton. His success as due to natural ability, dedication, hard work, and a willingness to be coached. An excellent team combined with the expert coaching of varsity coach, Robert Agge, and jr. varsity coach, Randy Grubbs, to produce a very successful track season.

Attend Volleyball Clinic

At the conclusion of the intramural volleyball season, the varsity volleyball teams, A and B League, were selected. Older, more experienced girls made up the A League team while girls new to the sport were placed on the B League team. The girls drilled and practiced every day after school from 2:15 until 4:30. Emphasis was placed on bump and set drills. The achievement of power with control in all areas of play was stressed.

A new feature in volleyball play this year was the selection of a “Most Valuable Player” for each game. Winners for this year were: Aurelia Williams, Susan Mendenhall, Barbara Bloemer, and Gigi Colon. Another “first” of the 1971 volleyball season was a clinic presented by an AAU rated official, Sgt. Escobido.

Managers of this year’s team were Stella Ferris and Sherry Kern. Mrs. Fattorosi was the coach for both A and B League teams.

Basketball Have Active Season

Members of the Cristobal High School Varsity Basketball team were selected by the athletic coaches from those boys who demonstrated outstanding performance in intramurals or who demonstrated unusual ability during special tryouts. Each team member was required to meet certain qualifications in regard to scholarship, height, and speed. He also had to be willing to attend afternoon or evening practice sessions. All high school boys were eligible for varsity, but seniors could not play on the junior varsity team which was selected in the same manner.

This year, the Tigers competed in six interscholastic games — three each against BHS and CZC. In addition, they participated in numerous practice games against Rainbow City High School and the U.S. Navy. A highlight of the year’s competition was the Canal Zone Invitational Tournament.

The 1971 baseball season was from January 10 to March 19. CHS played four games against BHS and four against CZC. Also, a practice game against the alumni was held about twice a month.

Tryouts were held the first week of the baseball season. The qualifications for each position were different, but in general the following qualities were desired: a good eye, long, good arms, skill in throwing and catching, and a quick reaction. Practice was held after school or in the evening for approximately two hours.

After the regular eight-game season, the All-Stars played the Interscholastic League Champions.

This year's baseball coaches were Mr. Litton and Mr. Agee.
“C” Club Wins Smashing Victory In 1st “Olympic Games”

Another first in the 1970-71 school year was the Olympics held in the CHS gymnasium on December 23, 1970 at 7 pm. This competition between the outstanding male and female athletes at Cristobal was organized through the combined efforts of the GAA and the "C" Club.

The boys were divided into two teams, the "Globe Clappers" and the "Gungarias." The girls were also divided into two teams, the "All-Americans," and the "Bunnies."

The evening included competition in basketball, battleball, volleyball, and various relays. Sophomore girls under the direction of Mrs. Harris refereed the games. The girls succeeded in capturing only eight points, and the boys scored a smashing victory with a total of twenty-two points.

A good time was had by all, participants and spectators alike, and it is hoped that this competition may become an annual event.

The twenty-first annual Jamboree provided the kickoff for the most successful football season in Tiger history. In Tiger Stadium on September 18, 1970, the CHS football team had its first taste of victory in this traditional pre-season game.

The first Jamboree was held twenty years ago. It was first conceived by former CHS coach, Luke Palumbo, as an exhibition game for the three participating teams: BHS, CZC, and CHS. Over the years, it developed into its present form, in which the team scoring the most points is presented with a trophy. Play is divided into three quarters—each team playing the other two once.

This year the Jamboree was dedicated to two former CHS students, John Sanders and Robert Will. These two young men were both injured while serving their country in Vietnam.

The cheerleaders, color guard, the drill teams, the football teams, and the spectators were all part of the excitement which was highlighted by the presentation of the Jamboree queens: Janie Souder, BHS; Wendy Flores, CHS; and Darlene Daly, CZC. The pomp and splendor displayed made the Jamboree a memorable event as always, but it was the victory of the Tigers over both their opponents that made it a perfect evening.

In the first quarter, Cristobal downed Balboa when quarterback, Neil Patton threw a pass to Willie Huffman, who ran 41 yards for a touchdown. Cubby Clement then kicked the extra point, and the quarter ended with a score of 7-0.

In the second quarter, Cristobal again came out on top when Neil Patton scored a touchdown on a pass interception.

The third and final quarter played by BHS and CZC ended in a scoreless tie.

Each year, following the Homecoming Football Game, a dance, honoring the members of the team and returning alumni, is held. This year, the dance was an exceptionally joyous occasion as it was celebrated the day after Cristobal’s third undefeated game of the season, a 26 to 8 victory over arch-rival, Balboa High School.

A completely transformed cafeteria was the scene of this festive event on Saturday, October 31, 1970. The dance officially began at 8:30 with the presentation of the court by Master of Ceremonies, Wally Russon. This year’s queen was the lovely Rosemary Christian. Accompanying her were four other attractive girls from the class of ’71, especially selected by the members of the football team to preside at this special dance. They were: Princess Cathy Gercich, Princess Shelley Lund, Princess Hila Lyman, and Princess Jane Paulson. Acting as escorts for the queen and members of her court were: Neil Patton and Wally Russon, Jose Medina, Michael Dexter, Robert Phillips, and Caleb Clement.

Music for the evening was provided by “The Cheese,” a rock and roll band composed of Cristobal High School students. A large number of students attended the dance, spending much of their time at the refreshment counter where they consumed copious quantities of soft drinks and other refreshments. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

The girls’ Athletic Association and the Letterman’s Club, co-sponsors of this annual event, are to be commended by the many hours of hard work necessary to make this dance an outstanding success.

Witches And Warlocks Haunt CHS

CAST: Diane Caroll, Donald Byrd, Andrew Foshee, Judy McLain, Lewis Valdez.

The annual fall dramatic production of the CHS International Thespian Society was John van Druten's romantic comedy, Bell, Book, and Candle. Van Druten takes an apparently simple love story, peoples it with some delightful modern-day witches, and creates an aura of magic in a prosaic New York apartment building. The talented young actors and actresses succeed in bringing some of this magic into the CHS auditorium on November 6 and 7. Audiences were enchanted by the story of Gillian Holroyd, a beautiful young woman with the power to cast spells and perform supernatural feats. She used her powers to win the love of Shepherd Henderson, the unattached young publisher living upstairs, but forgot one important fact — a witch in love may lose her powers. This is exactly what happens to Gillian and audience sympathizes with her attempts to adjust to life as an ordinary mortal amid the teasing of her Aunt Queenie and her warlock brother. All are delighted when Gillian finally wins her man and the play closes on a happy note.

The outstanding performances in the demanding roles of this play by CHS actors, three of whom were newcomers to the stage, received much deserved applause. Credit for the successful presentation of this play also goes to the hardworking students who designed and constructed the set, handled publicity, make-up, lighting, programs, and props, and to Mrs. Elfers.

At 7:30 Tuesday evening, December 22nd, the Cristobal High School auditorium was the scene of the annual Christmas Concert. Participating in this traditional event were the Intermediate Band, the Senior High Band, and the Girls’ Chorus, all under the direction of Mr. Edward Carwithen.

This year the concert had an international flavor; songs and musical selections from such countries as France, Germany, Russia, and Spain were presented. Mr. Louis Fattorosi, an English teacher at CHS, gave readings from the literature of these countries, which aided in setting the mood.

The Intermediate Band, composed of Junior High School students, presented a number of selections which were well received by the audience. Following their performance, the Senior High Band played a number of unusual and difficult selections. A highlight of the concert was the appearance of the Girls’ Chorus, who were dressed in formals, adding a festive note to the occasion. Among those deserving mention for solo performances are; Ronald Palser, Judy McLain, and Jean Bassett.
For seven days on several weekends in the month of February, the jungle surrounding Ft. Sherman became the temporary "home" of a number of students. These students were ROTC cadets and sponsors from Balboa and Cristobal High Schools who were participating in the ROTC program. The purpose of this program was to train students to move, shoot, communicate, and sustain themselves in a jungle environment. The army provided equipment and instructors; participants paid for their own food. The training included several hours of classroom instruction, numerous excursions to nearby Fort Sherman, target detection, airborne training, boat training, river crossing, and a trip to the mock Viet Cong village located on the French Canal. Participants who graduated from the course were given the title, "Honorary Jungle Expert". This year's outstanding graduate from CHS was cadet corporal Orlando Reyes.
The final athletic event of the 1969-70 school year was the annual Lettermen's Banquet. On this occasion the outstanding athletes in all sports received recognition of their ability and awards for their service to CHS. The Banquet was held on May 9, 1970, at the France Field American Legion. Dinner was served and a film of the 1969 Palm Bowl was shown. Cristobal High School's coaches, Litton and Dedeaux presented the boys with letters in basketball, baseball, football, tennis, and track. The most valuable player in each sport received a trophy. Among the honored guests at the banquet were the cheerleaders, and the guests which each boy brought.

March 12, 1971

Dear Readers:

Today is the day I and the other members of the yearbook staff have long dreamed of reaching. It marks the completion of the tremendous task of compiling and editing the 1971 Caribbean. As I help our sponsor, Mr. Johnson, with the packaging of our final shipment of copy, I recall the events, people, and places which are recorded in these pages. I also think of a number of individuals who assisted with the many essential, but often unrecognized tasks involved in the successful production of a yearbook. On behalf of the yearbook staff, I wish to extend a special thank you to Mrs. Condon who supervised the sale of advertisements, and to Mr. Gansen who dedicated much of his time to the photography department. I also wish to thank the Taylor Publishing Company, Compagnani Aleman and Quejique, S.A. for their collaboration, and the business firms for their patronage.

The yearbook staff had only a limited amount of time in which to record an almost unlimited number of events, but every effort was made to make our coverage of the school year as complete as possible. I sincerely hope that you have received as much pleasure in reading this book as we did in editing it.

Very truly yours,

Jeannette Cox

In Keeping With The Modern Trend Toward Greater Flexibility In Yearbook Organization, The CHS Annual Staff Is Introducing An Entirely New And Different Format In The 1971 Caribbean. Departing From The Traditional Concept Of Separate Sections, Each Introduced By A Division Page, On Each Facet Of The School Life, The Yearbook Is Divided Into Only Two Main Sections: Formal And Informal. Appearing In The Formal Half Are: Administration And Faculty, Class Pictures, Organization Pictures, Team Photos, Queens And Cheerleaders, Advertising, And Index. This Section Contains All The Formality Required Of A Good Yearbook. In The Exciting Informal Section, We Have Attempted To Present An Uninterrupted Candid Story Of School Life. Just As You Experienced It.

Mrs. Adamary Bright
Guidance Counselor Retires After 36 Years At CHS

The CHS annual staff wishes to dedicate the 1971 Caribbean to Mrs. Admary Anderson Bright, in recognition and appreciation of her many years of devoted service to the students of Cristobal High School.

Mrs. Bright was born in Jacksonville, Florida. She attended school in Houston, Texas, during her early years, but returned to Jacksonville to complete her secondary education at Duval High School. She received her A.B. in Education at Florida State College for Women in Tallahassee, and completed her graduate work for a degree in history at the University of Ann Arbor in Michigan.

After teaching at Jacksonville Junior High School for a short time, she came to the Canal Zone in 1935. Since that time she has served capably and well in many positions at Cristobal High School. Among these are: a teacher of seventh and eighth grade English, social science, vocational guidance, social studies, girls’ advisor, and the position as a Guidance Counselor which she has held from 1951 to the present. During her many years at CHS, Mrs. Bright received a number of Outstanding Service Awards for her distinguished service to the Canal Zone Schools Division.

In addition to teaching and counseling, Mrs. Bright also sponsored a number of school activities and organizations such as the National Honor Society. It was Mrs. Bright who originated the Zephyr, and the Caribe Club. She is truly an outstanding organizer, efficient, and hard-working.

Mrs. Bright has done a great deal of traveling during her years at CHS, visiting many countries in both Central and South America, as well as in Europe. Both faculty and students are saddened by the journey Mrs. Bright is about to make as she retires from the faculty of CHS. Her guidance will be long remembered by the countless students whose educations and careers she helped plan.

A New Year Begins . . .

Douglas Jeffries, Mr. Johnson, and Nancy Edmonson.
The halls of CHS were a mass of confusion on September 1, 1970, as hundreds of students congregated around the bulletin boards on which homeroom numbers were posted. Others lingered to chat with old friends or to make new acquaintances; summertime experiences were shared and compared. The perennial excitement of the "first day of school" was in the air. This enthusiasm persisted throughout the orientation assembly, in which students were welcomed to CHS, new teachers introduced, and the new Student Association officers installed. However, with the ringing of that first bell, order began to emerge as students fell back into the familiar routine of school life. Another school year had begun.
The deserted halls are quiet, a soft breeze whispers through the empty corridors there is no indication now of the activities and incidents which the coming day may bring.
Suddenly, the stillness is shattered by the slamming of a locker door, the sounds of shuffling footsteps, shouted conversations, and noisy greetings are heard once more. A new day has begun, the magic of the morning is no more.
The Bell Rings, Seats Are Assumed...
Morning Routine Resumes . . .

Mary Norval and Denise Foshee.

Senior High Band
Upon entering the classroom, a student assumes more than a seat, he assumes all the privileges and responsibilities which accompany his position in this place of learning — the school. Having brought together the teachers and the taught, the school has fulfilled its function — what follows is determined by these individuals.

Often, it seems, minds are more eager and alert as the day begins, and the opportunities afforded by the morning hours should not be missed. To bring to each student success at last — this is the goal of every morning class.
More complaints were heard concerning the lunch hour than perhaps any other facet of school life. Lunch was served in four shifts; those on the early shift complained that it was too early to eat, and those on the late shift complained that it was too late. Once in the cafeteria, however, no one seemed to have any real trouble eating.

The lunch hour provided a brief respite from classes which was welcomed by all. Juniors and seniors took advantage of their open-lunch privilege to "eat out" on alternate days. In spite of this, and the many meetings scheduled during the lunch hour, the cafeteria was always filled with hungry, noisy students; eating, chatting with friends or doing a little last minute studying. Those wishing to leave the cafeteria early, spent their lunch hour in the pleasant surroundings of the student lounge located directly beneath the cafeteria.

Lunchtime is a good time to make friends.

Carol Wertz, Karen Currier. "Reservation made. Fork over!"

Denise Foshee. "It's the real thing — appetite!"

Sylvia Vamprine. "I can't help it! I'm hungry!"

Lunchtime is a good time to make friends.
Students Enjoy Comforts Of Remodeled Cafeteria

The installation of blue and gold draperies ...

... and a lowered, insulated ceiling gave the cafeteria a new look of elegance. Included among the comments of students were such remarks as ...

... "Man it's got class!"

... "It's like eating in a fancy restaur...

... "Very Quiet and
... "It almost makes eating here a pleasant experience."

Then there were those who just laughed, and ...

... of course, those who couldn't wait to get away and ...

... enjoy the beauties of the "great outdoors".

17
Refreshed from a relaxing lunch hour, students returned at 11:30 to resume their regular routine. Each afternoon included three hours of classes — with the exception of seniors with sixth-period study hall, who were permitted to leave early. For some, the enthusiasm characteristic of the morning hours appeared to wane; while others seemed to have awakened at least. All, however, evidenced an increased restlessness as the hour approached 2:15 and the ringing of the final bell.
Tigers Display Eager Enthusiasm For Afternoon Activities

Jose Medina and Mike McCann.
With the ringing of the final bell at 2:15, many students rush eagerly to the waiting buses thinking only — "Free! at last!" Others also hurry — anxious to begin the extra-curricular activities which play such an important role in the life of a student. Enjoying the company of those who share similar interests; whether it be an advanced math or foreign language class, sports, drill team, journalism, or dramatics, it is a pleasant and profitable way to spend an afternoon.
Lana Boone, Jay Alonis, Michael Dexter, Stephen Goulet.

Susan Mendenhall
The setting of the sun brought a change in the appearance of both the school and the students. With the coming of darkness, another of the many facets of CHS was revealed. — The evening activities. This was the time for bonfires and football games; swim meets and track meets; hours of practice and reviews for ROTC cadets . . .

To the Yearbook Staff:

"Thanks for the Memories" is the title of a song that was popular some years ago. As we record in this book the events of the 1970-71 school year at Cristobal High School we can surely say with gratitude and even a bit of pride, "thanks for the memories."

You who have studied hard and have given of yourselves to school activities have shown by your Tiger spirit that the busiest people are also the happiest people.

Best wishes to all of you as you continue your education here or elsewhere. Although your highest commitment may well be to academic excellence, you would not be wise to pursue scholarship at the expense of the development of an honorable character, physical well-being, or a pleasant personality. It is hoped that the discipline of commitment to these qualities will earn you a happy freedom of spirit and a sense of accomplishment. May you continue to mark each milestone with satisfaction and happy memories.

James H. Pfau
Principal

"I'm a firm believer in the 'Tigers'!"
PAUL J. JEFFRIES — B.A., Colorado State College; M.A., Colorado State College; Graduate Work, Univ. Southern California, Calif. Western University. "Seek a profession or occupation that is challenging and enjoyable. Smile and be happy."

SUPERINTENDENTS STAFF, U.S. SCHOOLS: Mr. Ross Anderson, Supervisor, Physical Education and Athletics, U.S. Schools; Dr. Kenneth Lake, Director of Curriculum; Mr. Stewart Brown, Supervisor, swimming pools and safety; Dr. Charles Latimer, Deputy Superintendent of Schools; Mr. James Cook, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Secondary Schools; Mr. George Willingham, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Secondary Schools; Mr. F.A. Castles, Superintendent of Schools (seated); Mr. Vernon Caturia, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Elementary Schools; Dr. Victor Herr, Supervisor of Music, U.S. Schools; Dr. James Wolf, Coordinator, Special Education; Mr. David Speir, Assistant Superintendent, U.S. Secondary School; Mrs. Shirley Makibbin, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Schools; Mrs. Frances Sampsell, Assistant Superintendent U.S. Elementary Schools; Mr. Zander Krowitz, Administrative Assistant; Mr. Robert Dahlstrom, Supervisor, Education Data Processing.
Office Staff

The competent members of the CHS office staff handled all general clerical work for the administration and faculty. Included among their duties were official correspondence and paper work. They were also in charge of operating office machines and the intercom system, and answering the telephone. They maintained the record and files of each student, mailed report cards, and sent and received transcripts.

Clinic

The clinic was an important provision for the health and safety of Cristobal High School students. The clinic was staffed with trained nurses who provided emergency first aid; and performed certain routine checks on each student. The clinic was also a place for students to rest when unwell, and for the storage of each students’ permanent health records. The clinic also sponsored tuberculosis and chest X-rays for students in certain grades. Dr. Levin, the Public Health Officer for the Atlantic Side, visited the school almost every morning. Dr. Chevelle, the school physician for the Canal Zone Schools, was available every Wednesday.
Guidance is the process of helping persons make the best possible decisions concerning their lives, and aiding them in solving their problems. It includes helping students choose the proper courses to take in school, and aiding them in deciding what careers to follow after their education is completed. Such decisions require that a person have full and correct knowledge about himself and his world. The guidance counselors at Cristoal High School aim to provide students with information so that they may make the best possible decisions in life. The two principal methods used for this are counseling, and testing. Counseling consists chiefly of discussions between a student and his counselor concerning his interests, aptitudes, and special problems. Testing is an important guidance tool. Aptitude, personality, and intelligence tests provide counselors with much useful information. Other important guidance tools are books, pamphlets, and films used to help students decide on courses of study and future careers.
The library, with its vast collection of books, was a familiar stopping place for CHS students. Throughout the year, they used the library and its many resources. The quiet, academic atmosphere made it the perfect place for studying and peaceful solitude found there provided an excellent background for the reading of books. Students made good use of the library during homeroom and studyhalls; checking out books for reports, using reference books, or simply browsing through the library’s collection of paperbacks and magazines.

Mr. Wells, the school librarian, was always available for students who needed help in locating a certain book or in making a special report. There were also at least two girls serving as library assistants each period. They helped students use the card catalog and check out books.

GRACE S. PFAU — Reading, B.S., Valley City State College; M.A., University of Minnesota. "If talented, capable people can match their dissatisfaction and concern with positive, concerted action, they should be able to correct the ills they so rightly deplore."

Duke Collins and De Jesus Ruperto help Mrs. Pfau correct papers.

The Special Education department was added to the CHS curriculum in 1960. In Special Education, students received extra help in their academic studies, learned crafts, and learned the perspectives of human relationships and civic responsibilities.

The remedial reading program provided special instruction to improve reading skills and helped assure a student of success in keeping with his ability. Seemingly average students improved the quality of their reading skills with the help of the Special Education Department.

Reading holds the interest of the Remedial Reading class.

Mr. Sharick helps his class drill in math with flash cards.
In creative arts, a student learns to express himself through different media. With this in mind, the following courses were taught at CHS this year. Art 7, an introduction to drawing, painting, lettering, ceramics, crafts, covering techniques, and the use of tools — with emphasis placed on developing skills, imagination, and art judgement. Art 8, a reinforcement of knowledge gained in Art 7, with greater emphasis placed on the basic elements of design. Art I, a basic beginning art course for all student grades 9-12 which emphasized the development of drawing skill and the study of design concepts. It involved drawing, painting, lettering, postermaking and a variety of crafts. Art II, an advanced art course for all students grades 10-12. It involved art appreciation and a deeper investigation of design and color theory with emphasis placed on individual organization and the carrying out of art projects. The student had an opportunity to develop skills in the area of his choice, Art III, which included appreciation and advanced creative work.

The Business Education department offered an excellent selection of courses for the student planning a career in business, as well as for the college-bound students. The skills and knowledge taught by this department will be useful regardless of the student's future occupation.

General Business gave the students a basic understanding of business practices useful in daily living. Typing I gave students an opportunity to develop speed and accuracy on a typewriter. They were taught to type letters, tabulated reports, manuscripts, and business forms. Typing II was a continuation of Typing I with emphasis on constant practice for increased speed and accuracy. Seniors taking Shorthand learned to read, write, and take dictation. Another course offered only to seniors was Bookkeeping. In this course, students learned the fundamentals of single and double-entry bookkeeping and were given practical problems for the application of these skills.

"This is almost as bad as Latin."
English

English, an extensively wide field, was one of the largest departments at CHS. It was a required subject for all students, since the ability to understand and to use well his native language deemed necessary for a student's success in any endeavor.

Regular English classes included the study of grammar, composition, and literature. In addition to these regular courses, the English department also included journalism, speech and drama, and remedial reading. In journalism the student learned to write in newspaper form and received much practical experience. Speech and drama was a course which taught the students the art of oral expression. Besides this, the course required a great deal of research work. Remedial reading provided students who required extra help an opportunity to improve their reading ability.

Books read in the various classes include: Johnny Tremain, Great Expectations, A Tale of Two Cities, The House of Seven Gables, The Red Badge of Courage, Wuthering Heights, Lord Jim, and The Moonstone.

Mrs. Smith. "My goodness! What are the Seniors coming to?"

"No tyranny is more intolerable than that of the self-righteous reformer or the overzealous philanthropist. The world can be destroyed by too much hatred or too much love, but the latter is more dangerous because it is more insidious."

Mrs. Elfers. "That was some class...

Mr. Dobbins. "...I deserve this rest."

"I hope I don't forget the idea of that play before class is out."

Mrs. Williams' home state is West Virginia. She has traveled through many states and enjoys reading and swimming. "Use your head — think! listen! read!"

"Live everyday to the very fullest — enjoy!"
"Welcome to the camp."

ANNE D. GREGG — French, Latin; B.A., Cornell University, M.S. in Education, Cornell Univ. "Learn to do things on time. Make positive contributions to school and your community."

TELMA J. HOWARD — Spanish, Business Education; B.A., Hunter College, M.A., Hunter College. "Be obedient and respectful citizens in your communities and set good examples of morals to your younger peers."

STELLA RIEFKOHL — Spanish, French; B.A., New York Univ., M.A., Columbia Univ., N. Y. "Never to look back into the past — always to face each day as it comes without a thought of the future."

When will they ever learn?

Is it third declension, accusative, masculine, plural, or comparative? I'm mixed up!
The foreign language department at CHS was a wide and interesting one. Its aim was to increase a student’s understanding of the history and culture, as well as the language of countries other than his own. In order to fulfill this aim, CHS offered courses in three modern languages: French, Spanish, and Russian. Three years of each language were offered, students being placed in the level appropriate to their development. In addition, a second year course in Latin was offered.

In all language courses, speaking, writing, reading, and understanding of the language were stressed. The Audio-Lingual Method, ALM, was a new system used to teach Spanish and Russian. This system involved intensive oral practice in the language laboratory.
The homemaking program placed emphasis on three areas: foods and nutrition, clothing selection and construction, and family living. It was the aim of the department to provide girls with knowledge helpful for their futures as homemakers.

Junior high home economics students learned the basics of sewing by making simple household articles and garments. They were also taught the basics of cooking which included the preparation and serving of formal and informal meals.

Senior high students were offered one semester of sewing which included personal grooming, the planning and construction of clothing, and a study of personal and family relationships. In the second semester's cooking classes, students were taught the fundamentals of nutrition, the use of recipes, meal planning, marketing, and various methods of preserving food.
The Industrial Arts department at CHS attempted to provide pupils with insight into their own interests; to develop their abilities to work with their hands and with tools, and to sharpen their interest in creative crafts. The Industrial Arts department offered four groups of courses; Mechanical Drawing; Wood Working, Metal Shop, and Plastics.

Mechanical Drawing I taught students to visualize how an object is put together. Neatness, correct lines, measurement, and following instructions were stressed. Mechanical Drawing II was a continuation of this course for students planning to continue their education in this field. Woodworking students learned about tools, joints, shop safety, and the operation of power tools. They used their knowledge to carry out projects. Metal Shop I taught the basic skills of benchwork, forging, welding, sheetmetal, and machine operation. Plastics students learned the properties of plastics and how to shape them into useful objects.

"They didn't tell me about this when I filled out my class selection sheet," grumbles Robert Johnson.
In this modern age, as well as in the past, mathematics remains a basic part of everyone's life. The CHS math department offered all the math courses required for success in college as well as in the students' daily lives.

Five math courses offered were to be taken in order as each was a prerequisite of the subsequent one. These courses were Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Introduction to Analysis, and Calculus. General Math, and Introduction to Algebra were also offered for students not majoring in math.

General Math captured the elementary forms of mathematics. It pushed the students to have a mathematical background.

Algebra I, the first step up the ladder to higher mathematics, caught the principles of mathematics. Word mastery of the language of mathematics was attained in this course.

Geometry dealt with the art of drawing. Proving theorems was a major part of geometry. The students learned how to deal with space figures. Algebra I was also reviewed for the students.

Algebra II taught the principles of factoring, polynomials, logarithms, and basic trigonometry. The pattern of reasoning was also learned in this course.

Introduction to Analysis went deeper into trigonometry. Linear and quadratic equations were studied in great depth. Functions and relations were the beginning notion of this course.

Calculus, the last step up a steep ladder of mathematics in high school was a college preparatory course introducing the fundamentals of differential calculus.

Math class is a time for many things, from studying to reading comic books.
ROY HOWELL — Algebra IB, General Math A; B.S., Shippensburg St. College; M.S., Florida State Univ. “Accept people on the basis of their actions, not their appearances.”

CAROL J. KNIGHT — Life Science 7, Math 7 and 8; B.S., Auburn Univ. “Read as much and as varied material as you possibly can.”

BERNARD R. MAZZONI — Math 8, Algebra I; B.S., Lebanon Valley College; M.A., Penn State Univ. “Every day should be a good day, and tomorrow is a better day.”

Nancy Edmondson. “I give up, I’ve had it.”

Calculus proves to be a challenging class.

The following courses were offered this year in Music. Music 7 and 8; the exploration of all kinds of music and music skills with emphasis placed on music fundamentals as a step to the enjoyment of music. Beginning Instrumental Class; a specialized class for students desiring to learn the basic techniques of a band or an orchestral instrument. It is open to all grades but it is recommended that a student wishing to participate in advanced music classes begin the study of instruments in seventh grade. Educational values stressed are: reading of musical notation, development of good tone and the ability to express oneself with confidence on a musical instrument. Also stressed are pride in personal achievement, concern for group results, and the discipline of concentrating on details to build confidence and ability. Intermediate Instrumental Class; a specialized class for students having had one or two semesters of work in beginning instrumental class. This class is open to all grades. It provides a chance for students to work with symphonic music of easy to medium difficulty. The educational values stressed are: continuation exploration of musical expression, building of confidence in personal abilities, and striving to do one's best. Senior Band is a specialized class for students with at least one year or the equivalent of beginning or intermediate instrumental class. This is an activity group. It serves the school by providing music for assemblies, football games, pep assemblies, and other occasions. Concerts are planned to expose the student to the classical and modern musical world. Students are encouraged to participate in musical groups of all kinds. These include college, community, and jazz groups. Values stressed are: self discipline, appreciation and tolerance of new sounds and musical experience, and exploration of the student's abilities in music. The music program also provides courses in 7th and 8th grade chorus and senior chorus where students learn how to sing and read music.

DOUG LITTON — Ph. Ed., Master's, Miss. State University. "Keep training rules — and always beat Balboa and College!"

LOUIS DEDEAUX — Physical Education; B.S., Oklahoma A&M College; M.S., Oklahoma State Univ. "Find out what you can do best as early as possible, then take pride in yourself that your doing it as well as you can."

JUNE FATTOROSI — Physical Education; B.S., Southeastern La. Univ.; M.A., Univ. Southern Miss. "Mature enough in developing internal discipline to gradually replace the external disciplines required during childhood."

Gym can be relaxing! . . .

The importance of physical, as well as mental development in achieving success in a highly complex society was stressed by the physical education department. Its aims were to teach good sportsmanship and a sense of fair play, to discipline the mind, and to educate students in leisure time activities which can be carried into adulthood. The department strove to give each student, regardless of his stage of development a chance to develop his skills, his attitude, and his physique.

During the year 1970-71, Cristobal High School's girls' physical education classes participated in basketball, volleyball, tumbling, track, tennis, and various other sports. The boys' physical education classes participated in football, baseball, basketball, swimming, weightlifting, and track. Through these activities as well as intramural and varsity sports, the department succeeded in achieving its goals.

"I thought speedball was bad, but hockey beats them all."

"Keep your hands on your hips so your pants won't fall down."
CHS boasted a wide-ranging science curriculum. The student who followed this program can be assured of a solid foundation in scientific knowledge. The courses offered were Life Science, Earth Science, Introductory Physical Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics.

The seventh-grade Life Science course taught the basis of life and the student's role in the realm of living things. Earth Science, offered to eighth-graders, was an interesting study of the structure and function of the world and its surrounding environment. Introductory Physical Science was a preliminary laboratory course. Students were taught the procedures of scientific research and discovery. Biology offered a change from the world of physical actions and reactions. This course was highlighted by three dissections during the year. A basic course in Chemistry acquainted students with methods of scientific thinking and problem solving. Emphasis was placed on performing laboratory experiments and reaching logical conclusions. Physics, the science of measurement, dealt primarily with practical applications of science in daily life. Vector analysis and other physical aspects of science were the major concepts studied in this course.

Mad scientists at work!
LUKE T. PALUMBO — Introductory Physical Science, B.S., Northwest Missouri State College; M. Ed., Univ. of Florida. "Things could be better."

JAMES D. NORMAN — Biology, B.S., Michigan State Univ.; M.A., Oregon State Univ. "Live, love and be happy for tomorrow we die. "Smile and have a full life."

Nai-Yuen Shum. "I think the one I just cut up is the one I needed."

The formula for problem No. 2 is not on the clock!
The purpose of the social science courses offered at CHS was to help students learn about their world; its past, its present, and its relation to them — both now and in the future.

The aim of the social studies instructor was to aid the student in learning to view history in an objective and unbiased manner, and to give him a broader approach to such problems as national and international relations. Social Science courses offered at CHS included Geography, World History, U.S. History, and American Institutions.

Geography dealt with the study of maps, climates, and the physical features of various countries. World History was the study of the different nations’ pasts and their relationships to one another. U.S. History provided the student with knowledge of our nation’s past and its accomplishments and led him to a better understanding of our nation. American Institutions taught the student about the workings of government and the basic principles of economics.

The objective of all social science courses was to lessen misunderstanding of the people of other nations and to help the students learn to respect cultures other than their own.

This year, CHS social science teachers attended a special workshop conducted by Dr. Edwin Tenton of Carnegie Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He was an advocate of the use of original source material in the teaching of social studies.

ROANALD JACOBS — World Geography. Bachelors, Southeastern State College; Masters, Northeastern State College. "Make the best of what ever situation you are faced with."

ROBERT McCULLOUGH — Social Studies. B.S., St. Cloud State College, M.A., Univ. of Northern Colorado. "Be kind to animals."

Now this is a real classroom with real students!

Mr. Gansen. "This is an example of a good screen."

Long live democracy!
The Reserve Officers Training Corps at CHS was established to help prepare high school students for future careers in the Armed Forces, and for ROTC in college, should they decide to take it. It's chief aim was to help students achieve the maturity necessary to become officers and leaders of men.

This year the ROTC was headed by CPT Juan F. Mata, who was assisted by SFS Murphy, SFC Picoli, and SSG Alford. The ROTC unit at Cristobal consisted of "E" Company, "F" Company, Color Guard, Drill Team, Rifle Team, and the Battalion Staff. The staff this year included Battalion Commander Major John Martin; Battalions sponsor, 1Lt. Hila Lyman; S1, 2Lt. Donald Byrd; S2, 2Lt. Daniel Valentine; S3, 2Lt. Jaime Daraza; and S4, 2Lt. Lewis Valdez. The Drill Team was commanded by 1Lt. Eligio Thomas, and sponsored by 1Lt. Jean Smith. "E" Company was commanded by 1Lt. Dennis Maxwell and sponsored by 1Lt. Jackie Spring-er. "F" Company was commanded by 1Lt. Isaac Heres and sponsored by 1Lt. Denise Foshee.

Reviews were presented by the ROTC each nine-weeks during the school year. A large and important review was Field Night, held on March 27th. Among the types of competition included were: personal, squad, platoon, company, and most exciting of all, Drill Team competition. Another exciting competition of the school year was the Brigade Review. In order to make competition fair, the Brigade Review and Field Night are held on the Atlantic and Pacific sides on alternate years.

Cadets steal a moment of relaxation during ten grueling days at leadership school.

"F" Company Commander Isaac Heres “drops for ten” with a smile.
The 1971 Girls' Drill Team at CHS consisted of twenty-nine girls. They were under the expert leadership of Commander Jan Bjorneby. The girls performed during halftime at all home football games in the Tiger Stadium. They also marched in the quarterly ROTC Reviews. As an additional activity, they participated in the annual Veteran's Day Parade. At this time, they were selected as the outstanding girls' drill team on the Isthmus. The girls considered this an honor which made the long hours of after-school practice well-worth the time and effort it required.

The Drill Team also helped with Orientation Day for the new students of CHS. They provided guidance and assistance when necessary.
Despite overwhelming odds against them, the majorettes Patty Hill and Tita Cobb, presented a fine performance on the last Junior Varsity game. They carried on their tradition by performing at the basketball games. To be a majorette, one must be willing to devote intensive hours of practice over the summer, and almost regular practice after school when school begins.

Tryouts were held during the month of April.
Cristobal High School teachers began the 1970-71 school year on August 31. On this date, the faculty attended a special meeting at which school policy and plans for the coming year were discussed. Mr. Speir, assistant Supervisor of U.S. Secondary Schools and Mr. Cook, Supervisor of Instruction, U.S. Secondary Schools attended and were introduced to the faculty. Following speeches by Mr. Pfau, Mr. Jeffries, and Mr. Speir; coffee was served to the new teachers in the home economics room.

We must be prepared, for a new school year begins.

Varying expressions reflect the faculty's concern for the new school year.

Mr. Pfau (principal of CHS) gives last minute advice and information to the rest of the faculty.
Caribe Club Sponsors Cultural Exchange Program With Colon High Schools

In order to provide students from a Panamanian school with an opportunity to observe the workings of the U.S. school system, the members of the Caribe Club invited the students of St. Mary's and St. Joseph's academies in Colon to visit CHS. On the morning of December 9th, the entire senior class of St. Mary's Academy and a number of students from St. Joseph arrived by bus. Each girl was assigned to a member of the Caribe Club and whom they accompanied to class. They had originally planned to leave at noon, but refreshed by a lunch provided by the Caribe Club, they attended afternoon classes as well. Both Panamanian and American students agree that they had profited from this cultural exchange.
SANDRA ALBERGA

RAUL EDUARDO CASTRO
July 20, 1953
Colon, Republic of Panama
Raul has participated in many clubs during his five years at CHS. He was a member of the Caribe Club, the French Club, the yearbook staff, and served as president of the Art and Spanish Clubs and vice-president of the Language Lab Club. Raul served on the committee for the Jr-Sr. Prom, and as a member of the Senior Class Advisory Council and Board of Directors. Raul plans to attend Amherst College in Massachusetts and take a liberal arts course.
The 1970-71 school year was one of innovation for CHS seniors. Under the leadership of capable class officers, and with the expert guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Fattorosi, the senior class set out to do great things. The first project was to secure an open lunch. A committee was established to prepare and submit for approval a list of regulations, and the privilege was granted. In order to provide a sounding board for the complaints and suggestions of seniors, the Advisory Council, consisting of twenty representative seniors was established. Another new group was the Senior Board of Directors, made up of representatives elected by students in the senior class. Both groups worked hard to make the year a successful one.

Among the special activities of the year were a trip to the other side to visit Canal Zone College, the Senior Banquet, and the Junior-Senior Prom. School events of special significance to seniors were the Jamboree where Wendy Flores reigned as queen, the homecoming game victory and the dance which followed with Rosemary Christian as queen, and the Christmas formal at which the Hall of Fame winners were announced.

It was a year which included those once in a lifetime events which are so much a part of being a senior; selecting invitations and cards, senior skip day, baccalaureate, and of course, graduation. Altogether, it was a great year — one which the Class of '71 will never forget.
PATTY ANN CHRISTIAN
June 26, 1942
Bluefield, West Virginia
Patty was a member of the Pep Club at her school in Virginia before coming to CHS. She was a member of the yearbook staff here, and in her senior year, served as publicity chairman of the Thespian plays. Patty plans to return to Virginia after graduation, and enroll in a beautician school.

ROSEMARY CHRISTIAN
October 5, 1953
Coronado, California
Rosemary has attended Cristobal High School for three years. She participated in "B" League basketball in her sophomore year, and the Girls' Drill Team in her senior year. As a senior, she was selected queen of the Homecoming Dance. Rosemary plans to attend Texas A&M University where she will pursue the study of medicine.

CALEB CLEMENT
October 17, 1953
Gatun, Canal Zone
"Cubby" is one of the outstanding athletes in the class of '71. He has participated in football, baseball, basketball, and track intramurals, and was a member of the varsity football, baseball, basketball, and track teams. He was a member of the "21" Club in his freshman year, and of the "C" Club for the other three years. "Cubby" plans to attend Canal Zone College.

FAITH EMILY COAD
February 26, 1953
Flint, Michigan
Faith entered CHS in the second semester of her junior year. She was a junior varsity cheerleader at her former school in Michigan. After graduation, Faith plans to become a travel agent.

FREDERICK COLE
April 13, 1953

The class of '72 was the largest and one of the most active and spirited classes of Cristobal High School. Through the efforts of class officers the Juniors obtained an open lunch on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week. Another highlight of the year was the selection of the class ring which was round with a gold stone. The Juniors will long remember PSAT and NMSQT which are among the many tests they took in preparation for college. The girls in the Junior Class organized and presented a fashion show which demonstrated the do's and don'ts of pants wear. Juniors also planned and presented a Junior Class Assembly. They were also responsible for the annual Junior-Senior Prom honoring the graduating Seniors.

This year's sophomore class was outstanding — both as a group and as individuals. Scott Loizeaux and Paul Bleicher received High Honors during the first semester.

The sophomore class was active both in special class activities and school events as a whole. They organized a float for the Homecoming Game Parade, choosing Debbie Meeker and Jan Janosik as their representatives.

In cooperation with the Freshman class, the sophomores sponsored the Freshman-Sophomore dance on February thirteenth. Ted Scott and Barbara Bloemer became king and queen for the evening.

"Fort-r-r-r-eel!"

Football has always been an extremely popular sport with the junior high school boys at CHS. This year, for the first time, they played regulation 11-man football. In September, over eighty seventh and eighth grade boys tried out for the team. Of these, fifty-six were chosen and divided into two teams, the Blue and the Gold. The two teams practiced on alternate days and competed against one another in three games. The first game ended in a tie, with a score of 6-6. The Blue Team won the remaining games, with scores of 22-0 and 14-6 respectively.

Skit Opens National Junior Honor Society Initiation

On December 17, five new members were initiated in the National Junior Honor Society. The old members presented an amusing skit, explaining the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, citizenship, and service required for membership in this organization. Following the skit, a “tapping” ceremony was held. The selected students were escorted to the stage for the traditional candlelighting ceremony. Mr. Pfau congratulated the newly initiated eighth-graders and presented them with pins and certificates of membership. A reception, honoring the new members and their proud parents, was held in the home economics room following the ceremony.

The National Junior Honor Society held its spring initiation in March. At that time, seventh-graders were eligible for membership.

Mr. Pfau hands out certificates of membership to the initiates.

Parents of the initiates relax at the reception.

The Junior High Debate Club was organized in an effort to provide students with an opportunity to express their thoughts and feelings on various issues. Many of the topics discussed were based on events currently in the news. The sponsor of the club was Mr. Berger.

This year the Debate Club debated for the different Junior High home-rooms. The students served as judges of these debates. The club also presented an assembly for the entire Junior High student body. The judgment of this debate was left to the audience.

The Student Association is the backbone of any school. This is true of the junior as well as the senior high school. The Cristobal Junior High School Student association served as a unifying force for the students and afforded them an opportunity to voice their thoughts and opinions on various issues. Through the S.A., students were able to participate actively in the government of their school and thus aid in making it a more pleasant place in which to learn.

The year 1970-71 was a highly successful one for Cristobal's Junior High Student Association. Continuing from the point it stopped last year, it went on to make this an active and exciting year. Among the activities planned and carried out by the S.A. were the Blue and Gold Intramural Football games, and various drives and dances held throughout the school year.

The Zephyr was the Junior High counterpart of the CHS Tradewind. The staff was composed of seventh and eighth grade students interested in learning the fundamentals of journalism while providing a valuable service to their fellow students. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Mrs. Tanner, these students published a paper once each month. Each issue contained articles concerning events and topics of interest to junior high students as well as an advice column, cartoons, and letters to the editor.
The Student Association has been an important part of the school life at Cristobal High School for many years. It was organized in 1932 to encourage the exchange of ideas among students, to create friendlier relationships among students, and to increase student participation in school activities. Its primary purpose is to function as an organization in which students may practice realistically the basic principals of democracy and learn to handle the responsibilities which accompany the privileges of self-government.
Each year a nominating committee considers long and carefully the qualifications of various students and then selects those best suited for the job as S.A. officer candidates. These candidates then enter the exciting competition known as “Campaign Week.” Each candidate strives to obtain the students’ votes by hanging posters, coining slogans, and passing out buttons and tags. The highlight of the week is the campaign assembly, during which candidates and their managers speak and various amusing or informative skits are presented. On election day, students vote for the student they feel is best qualified for the job, realizing that the election is responsible for running CHS the following year is much more than a mere popularity contest.
Race From Gatun To Pina Highlights “C” Club Initiation

Outstanding male athletes at CHS were eligible for membership in the “C” Club. This organization gave recognition to those who excelled in football, swimming, track, basketball, or tennis. All lettermen were invited to join during one of the two initiations held during the year. Aspiring members were required to perform humorous and often embarrassing feats. On the final day of the initiation period, the future members ran from Gatun to Pina where they completed their "ordeal."

The Girls' Athletic Association was the female equivalent of the "C" Club. The members were girls who demonstrated outstanding athletic ability through their participation in the CHS athletic program. Aspiring members were required to participate in all intramural sports and letter in at least two varsity sports. In addition, these girls had to pass a grueling initiation, similar to that of the "C" Club. Members of this club, under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Harris, served as officials at all intramural games.

The G.A.A. cooperated with the "C" Club in sponsoring the annual Homecoming Dance. This year for the first time they also competed against Cristobal's male athletes in the "Olympics."

"Up, up and away!"
The purpose and aim of the International Thespian Society was the advancement and improvement of theater arts in secondary schools. The CHS chapter attempted to arouse interest in the dramatic arts and gave students interested in drama a chance to work with its many facets; make-up, direction, and acting. Any high school student who earned ten points was eligible to become a thespian. Mrs. Elfers was the sponsor.

This year the International Thespian Society at CHS produced two plays presented to the public in the CHS auditorium, one in November, and one in March. The fall dramatic production was the romantic comedy — Bell, Book, And Candle. The cast included veteran actors, Judy McLain and Donald Byrd and newcomers, Diane Carroll, Lewis Valdez, and Andrew Foshee. The play was well received by both CHS students and the general public.
The Debate Club was organized with the aim of providing students with an opportunity to express their views on controversial issues of the day. Over-population, the dress code, euthanasia, and other topics provided subjects for weekly debates.

For each debate, the club members were divided into two groups, pro and con. Either the sponsor, Mr. Gregg, or one of the students served as a judge. Each team member was given one minute in which to present his arguments, then the opposing team offered its rebuttal.

The highlight of the year for this club was the Speech Festival, in which they competed with a debating team from Balboa.

The Safety Club was formed in order to encourage safety practices among the students of CHS. Mr. Reeves and his assistant, Mr. McCullough, aided the student members in carrying out their aims. Among these aims were the organization of monthly fire drills and demonstrations of correct methods for putting out small fires. These fire drills and demonstrations played an important part in keeping CHS students prepared for emergencies, not only at school, but also at home and elsewhere.
The Caribe Club (Future Teachers of America) was formed for the purpose of promoting a better understanding of the teaching profession. All students with a "B" average were invited to join following the second semester of their freshman year. On November 18, 1970, the new members were initiated at the Initiation Banquet held at the Brazos Heights Golf Club.

In February, the Caribe Club sponsored Teacher Appreciation Day in honor of the faculty of CHS. This was the sixth year for the club to sponsor this activity. The members also sponsored the successful Student Teacher's Day on April 22. This year was the first time that the students taught classes for the entire day. All agreed that this was a challenging and rewarding experience. The club also visited Coco Solo Elementary School, and a Latin American school in Colon, Republic of Panama.

Another activity of the Caribe Club was their tutoring program. Members aided weaker students who needed help in their studies. Frequently, members took over entire class periods for teachers when substitutes were not available.
"Le Circle Français" Promotes Interest In France

"Le Circle Français" met twice a month in order to stimulate student interest in the language, history, and culture of France. To achieve this aim, special guest speakers or selected members presented reports on various subjects.

The club was sponsored by Mrs. Gegg. Only those students who obtained a "B" average in French were eligible for membership. These students were initiated at a banquet held at the Brazos Heights Golf Club. Each initiate was required to recite a poem, sing a song, or perform a skit.

The French Club members were involved in a number of interesting activities during the year. They sponsored French Week and elected the annual "Miss France." They also visited the famous passenger liner, "The France."

Dolores Santiago, Susann Zachry, Susan Burge, and Rita Boyland. "French is not that hard! Je l'aime!"

The Nurses' Aides Club was a very popular organization at Cristobal High. Its members were girls interested in nursing or another medical profession. The club encouraged and stimulated this interest by inviting guest speakers, showing films, and planning field trips to hospitals.

The most important field trip this year was the annual visit to La Garterita in Gatun Lake, on December 12. The purpose of this trip was to give Christmas gifts to the people on the island, especially the children.

In order to become a member of the Nurses' Aides Club, one must be a freshman girl, wear a cardboard nurse' cap on the day of the initiation, and say the pledge with the other initiates during a special meeting.

The Student Association assisted the Nurses' Aides club this year in collecting food and used clothing for this purpose. The police division provided the club with a launch as transportation.
The Pink Girls helped their community greatly during the summer months. They voluntarily offered their services at Coco Solo Hospital.

In order to be eligible for this program, each girl was required to take a two-week first aid course. In addition, a one-week training period, during which the basics of hospital work were taught, was required. The girls learned how a hospital functions and how to care for patients with various needs.

In order to become a full-fledged Pink Girl, each girl had to work a total of 125 hours. In the hospital, the Pink Girls were casually referred to as "Pinkies." They were expected to adhere to the commands and advice of their superiors who were registered nurses. The fun-filled summer of hard, but rewarding work was climaxd by a private graduation ceremony attended by the group's sponsor, Mrs. Howard, and various civic-minded citizens.
Who said that Spanish had to be spoken only at Spanish Club meetings?

The Spanish Club at CHS was organized for the purpose of encouraging Spanish-speaking students to become active in various activities, and to increase their understanding of the Latin American countries. Meetings were held twice each month, and matters of interest to members were discussed. All discussions were conducted in Spanish.

The officers of the Spanish Club this year were: Raul Castro, President; Diane Hauke, Vice-President; Sandra Alberga, Secretary, and Jenny Wirtz, Treasurer.

The club was sponsored by Mrs. Elfers who helped with the organization of various activities and attended all meetings.
The Student Advisory Committee was organized at the suggestion of Mr. Pfau, with the cooperation of Michael Dexter, President, and other members of the Cristobal High School Student Association. The purpose of this group was to serve in an advisory capacity to the principal of CHS. Members were carefully selected in order that each club and organization in the school, and each class, might be represented. Members served as a sounding board, bringing to the attention of Mr. Pfau the complaints, comments, and suggestions of their fellow students. Jose Medina served as chairman of the group, and Lana Boone acted as recording secretary.

Meetings were held on the first Monday of each month. Among the topics discussed were the reasons behind school regulations and the possibility of changing them, modifications in the dress code, and possible changes in the athletic schedule. Members cooperated with other organizations in planning and carrying out activities and projects of interest to the majority of the student body. Among these were: a special assembly in cooperation with the Canal Zone Youth Council, the "Olympics" in which the GAA and "C" Club participated, and the Powderpuff Speedball Game in which the Junior and Senior girls participated.
Philosophian Society Is Formed

A new club at CHS this year, the Philosophian Society was formed by a group of students interested in intellectual and literary pursuits. The club's aim was to provide students with an opportunity for discussion and exploration of the various aspects of philosophy and literature. It encouraged students to develop and improve their ability to express themselves; either through group discussion, or individually through reading, creative writing, or poetry.

Membership was open to all high school students, but was limited to fifteen at any one time. Interested students applied through Mr. Fattorosi, the club's sponsor, or through any two members. Regular meetings were held twice each month, with various extra meetings scheduled for after school and on weekends. These extra meetings were planned for places such as the beach, which offered an atmosphere of informal association that helped the club members to discuss freely and honestly.

CHS Offers 3 Drivers' Ed. Sessions

Drivers' Training was an extremely popular course among CHS students. It was offered three times during the school year. Each session lasted six weeks. Meetings were held after school in room 341 for one hour and forty-five minutes, Monday through Friday. The instructor, Mr. Reeves, presented lectures and films in order to give students the background in traffic laws, safety, and automobile mechanics necessary to enable them to become good drivers. In addition to classroom instruction, ten hours of behind-the-wheel driving were required before students were eligible to take the road test and obtain a license.

Driver education students brace themselves for another "horror movie."
Language Lab Club
Promotes Interest
In Foreign Nations

The LANGUAGE LAB CLUB is an organization for tri-lingual students who are skilled in the operation of the language lab equipment. These students assist the teachers of the various foreign languages by setting the equipment in the lab and taking control of the console.

Members attend bi-monthly meetings held in the language laboratory. Matters of interest are presented to the members by the officers, and lively discussions often result. The sponsor, Mr. Stearns is always present to make certain that order is maintained.

Several interesting field trips are scheduled during the year. Members visit passenger liners of the countries whose languages the members have studied. These excursions provide the members with an opportunity to converse with native speakers and to learn something about their culture.

Language Lab members operate the lab for the benefit of other students.
Reverend Payne Guest Speaker At Fall

Initiation Of National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society has become nationally recognized as one of the highest honors which may be bestowed upon a high school student. The Canal Zone Caribbean Chapter was formed for the purpose of providing recognition to those students who have excelled in all aspects of Cristobal High School life.

Students who have a minimum grade point average of 3.00, and have demonstrated outstanding leadership, character, and service are eligible for membership in this society.

Two initiation assemblies are presented to the student body each year, one each semester. At the fall initiation, only seniors may be inducted. This year, the assembly was held on November 19th. The theme for the program was, “Where do we go from here?” and Reverend Clarence Payne from the Canal Zone Youth Council spoke on the subject of young rebels. New members announced at this time were: Sandra Alberg, Carmen Butler, Fred Cole, Gary Collins, Denise Foshee, and Lewis Valdez. At the spring initiation, not more than 15% of the senior class, and not more than 5% of the junior class may be considered for election.

Pink Box Gives Tradewind
Insight To CHS

This year's TRADEWIND staff worked toward faster publication and a more entertaining newspaper. Work sessions were held after school three days a week. The editors, reporters, typists, and photographers devoted many hours of their own time to the paper.

In order to get the entire student body involved in making the TRADEWIND a vital and interesting part of our school, new ideas were necessary. One such idea was THE PINK BOX. This box served as a "catch all" for school happenings. Students were encouraged to drop in letters to HELP (the new advice column), letters to the editor, poems, bits of gossip, and anything they felt might be interesting and amusing for their schoolmates.

Mr. Dobbins was TRADEWIND advisor this year; it was his second year in this position. He devoted much of his time and energy to publishing an interesting, informative newspaper.

The staff consisted of many members, each with varied and vital tasks to perform. The hours of hard work required for the publication of a good paper all seemed worthwhile when the TRADEWIND returned from the press.
The Clock Gave In; But
The Yearbook Staff
Worked On

The yearbook staff had the challenging responsibility of producing and editing the CHS yearbook, the Caribbean. The staff consisted of a group of efficient students who worked tirelessly after school in order to meet the deadlines established by the publishing company. With the guidance of their sponsor, Mr. Johnson, and the help of an ambitious group of photographers, the staff accomplished their duty without unnecessary delay.

The staff introduced many innovations this year. One was a new system of editing, whereby the staff members, excluding the editor and the copy editor, were unassigned. Each staff member did the work which had to be done, regardless of the subject matter. This new system proved to be very practical. Another innovation was an entirely new arrangement of the Caribbean itself. Also in order to compensate for shortage of funds, the staff sponsored a number of contests to stimulate yearbook sales. As a result, staff membership enlarged to include junior as well as senior high school students. This was done in appreciation of their generous donations and enthusiastic sales of Tiger Boosters.

This year's interscholastic Champion Tigers will long be remembered as the best team ever to play in the Canal Zone. They achieved what no other team has — an undefeated season all the way from the Jamboree to the Palm Bowl.

Cristobal’s first taste of victory came in the Jamboree. In the first quarter the Tigers defeated the Bulldogs when quarterback, Neil Patton, threw for 41 yards for the only touchdown. The College Devils were unable to stop the mighty Tigers in the second quarter and once again Cristobal came out on top 7-0.

The first game of the regular season once again brought victory to the Tigers when they overpowered Canal Zone College by a score of 22 to 6.

The quality of the performance in that first game was typical of that in the games which followed.

Balboa’s homecoming was smashed when Cristobal outplayed and outscored them 33-8. This was the high scoring game for the Tigers this year. Touchdowns were made by Neil Patton, Billy Deaton, Robert Phillips, and Willie Huffman, who scored twice.

The first home game for the Tigers proved a thriller for all. The game was undecided until the last few seconds when “Cubby” Clement intercepted a pass from College quarterback, Russ Bowen, thus continuing the winning streak to three straight wins.

The final season game, between Balboa and Cristobal, again displayed the Tiger superiority as they crushed Balboa with four wins and no losses. Cristobal became the Interscholastic Champions for the year 1970-71.

The Annual United Fund Palm Bowl Game brought the Tigers up against a strong team consisting of outstanding players from both Balboa and College. The “Devil-Dogs” were determined to obtain revenge for the losses suffered at the claws of the Tigers. Yet even their combined efforts was not enough to stop the powerful Cristobal machine. Determined to keep their undefeated record, the Tigers slipped by the All-Stars to win 7-0. It was a fitting climax to a football season which Cristobal Tigers will not soon forget.

And finally the selection of seven Tigers for the All-Zone team.

It has been said that behind every successful man there is a woman — certainly this must also be true of a successful team. The 1970-71 school year included a history making football season for the CHS Tigers. Their victories certainly gave Cristobal's five lovely young cheerleaders something to cheer about as they remained undefeated in game after game. Before each game, however, these energetic girls practiced for many long, hard hours perfecting new cheers and routines to cheer their team to victory. They painted posters, planned pep assemblies, sponsored contests, and distributed spirit ribbons in an effort to increase student interest in athletic events, and school spirit in general. These girls, with their smiling faces and attractive uniforms, were indeed an asset to their team and to their school.

At the close of the intramural basketball season, those girls who demonstrated the greatest skill and ability were selected to play on the Varsity of A-League Team. Each team member had to be a junior or senior and maintain a "C" average.

This was a year of innovation for the Cristobal High School Girls’ Basketball team. It was the first year in which a team was composed of only five girls. Also, for the first time numbers appeared on the front of the uniforms.

The 1970-71 season commenced in September and continued until the end of October. The girls played teams from Balboa High School and Canal Zone College twice each and remained undefeated throughout the season. To climax their successful season, the girls went on to a 28-21 victory in the championship game.

A dripping but happy Mrs. Harris is pulled from the pool following her "victory dunking."
The B-League Junior Varsity Girls' Basketball team was composed of freshmen, sophomores, and some younger, less experienced juniors. The procedure for selecting team members was the same as that for A-League. These girls wore the same uniforms as their varsity counterparts, and practiced many long, hard, hours after school in an effort to improve their skills and teamwork. They played only two games, both against Balboa. They lost both games, but some of these girls will undoubtedly prove an asset to next year's A-League team because of the experience they have gained.
Tennis Team Composed Of Tournament Winners

Members of the Cristobal High School varsity tennis team were selected by means of a preliminary elimination tournament. Those boys winning a sufficient number of matches, and meeting the minimum scholastic requirements were eligible for the team. Practice sessions were held each afternoon after school from 2:45 until 4:30 at various tennis courts throughout the community.

Tennis competition this year consisted of two interscholastic matches and a triangular meet in which Cristobal, Canal Zone College, and Balboa participated.

The 1970 Swimming season began in late October. Practices were held each day after school for two hours. The individual work-out totaled almost a mile, and the swimmers also did sprints and relays.

CHS had looked forward to a very promising season, but they only managed to capture second place. Individual performances, however, were outstanding on both the boys’ and girls’ teams; and CHS captured a large number of first places in medley and freestyle relay competition throughout the season.

Quite a number of swimmers earned letters this year. In order to earn a letter, a swimmer must earn an average of approximately three points per meet, and must attend practice sessions regularly.

CHS had a number of good swimmers this year. With the help of these veterans and a number of promising young freshmen, next season may well be a victorious one.

Tryouts for girls tennis were held in February and the season ran from March 5 to March 26. Practice was held everyday after school at various courts in the community. This was done to give the girls practice on different courts where the ball bounced differently and the direction of the wind varied. General qualifications were dedication to this individual sport, self-discipline, and endurance.

Many hours of hard practice were necessary to make a good tennis player. The girls’ equipment was furnished by the school except for the rackets which the girls supplied themselves.

A new scoring system was introduced in which play continued until one girl won six games. If there was a 6-6 tie, one game called “sudden death” was played, the winner of which was declared the winner of the match.

Four matches were played this year. Two against Balboa, and two against Canal Zone College.
One week before the beginning of the track season, a meeting was called, and all interested persons asked to attend. Those willing to attend the two-hour daily practice sessions became members of the varsity or junior varsity teams, depending on their ages. CHS participated in three interscholastic meets this year. Track events at each meet included: hurdles, relays, sprints, and distance running. Field events included: the shot put, the pole vault, the discus throw, and the long and high jumps. In addition to the regular meets, CHS also participated in the two-day Balboa Relays. They were co-champions with Balboa in this special event in which Rainbow City, Panama City, and Colon teams participated.

The 1970-71 track team was one of the best ever from CHS. Willie Huffman broke the record in both the discus throw and the shot put. Members of the record-breaking 880-yard relay team were: Billy Deaton, Neil Patton, Ed Bringas, and Frank Ciccheto. The outstanding runner of the season was junior, Billy Deaton. His success as due to natural ability, dedication, hard work, and a willingness to be coached. An excellent team combined with the expert coaching of varsity coach, Robert Agge, and jr. varsity coach, Randy Grubbs, to produce a very successful track season.

Attending Volleyball Clinic

At the conclusion of the intramural volleyball season, the varsity volleyball teams, A and B League, were selected. Older, more experienced girls made up the A League team while girls new to the sport were placed on the B League team. The girls drilled and practiced every day after school from 2:15 until 4:30. Emphasis was placed on bump and set drills. The achievement of power with control in all areas of play was stressed.

A new feature in volleyball play this year was the selection of a “Most Valuable Player” for each game. Winners for this year were: Aurelia Williams, Susan Mendenhall, Barbara Bloemer, and Gigi Colon. Another “first” of the 1971 volleyball season was a clinic presented by an AAU rated official, Sgt. Escobido.

Managers of this year’s team were Stella Ferris and Sherry Kern. Mrs. Fattorosi was the coach for both A and B League teams.

A League players pause for a moment of prayer before the game begins.

Basketball Have Active Season

Members of the Cristobal High School Varsity Basketball team were selected by the athletic coaches from those boys who demonstrated outstanding performance in intramurals or who demonstrated unusual ability during special tryouts. Each team member was required to meet certain qualifications in regard to scholarship, height, and speed. He also had to be willing to attend afternoon or evening practice sessions. All high school boys were eligible for varsity, but seniors could not play on the junior varsity team which was selected in the same manner.

This year, the Tigers competed in six interscholastic games — three each against BHS and CZC. In addition, they participated in numerous practice games against Rainbow City High School and the U.S. Navy. A highlight of the year’s competition was the Canal Zone Invitational Tournament.

The 1971 baseball season was from January 10 to March 19. CHS played four games against BHS and four against CZC. Also, a practice game against the alumni was held about twice a month.

Tryouts were held the first week of the baseball season. The qualifications for each position were different, but in general the following qualities were desired: a good eye, long, good, arms, skill in throwing and catching, and a quick reaction. Practice was held after school or in the evening for approximately two hours.

After the regular eight-game season, the All-Stars played the Interscholastic League Champions.

This year's baseball coaches were Mr. Litton and Mr. Agee.
Another first in the 1970-71 school year was the Olympics held in the CHS gymnasium on December 23, 1970 at 7 pm. This competition between the outstanding male and female athletes at Cristobal was organized through the combined efforts of the GAA and the "C" Club.

The boys were divided into two teams, the "Globe Clappers" and the "Gungarias." The girls were also divided into two teams, the "All-Americans," and the "Bunnies."

The evening included competition in basketball, battleball, volleyball, and various relays. Sophomore girls under the direction of Mrs. Harris refereed the games. The girls succeeded in capturing only eight points, and the boys scored a smashing victory with a total of twenty-two points.

A good time was had by all, participants and spectators alike, and it is hoped that this competition may become an annual event.
21st Annual Jamboree Dedication

The twenty-first annual Jamboree provided the kickoff for the most successful football season in Tiger history. In Tiger Stadium on September 18, 1970, the CHS football team had its first taste of victory in this traditional pre-season game.

The first Jamboree was held twenty years ago. It was first conceived by former CHS coach, Luke Palumbo, as an exhibition game for the three participating teams: BHS, CZC, and CHS. Over the years, it developed into its present form, in which the team scoring the most points is presented with a trophy. Play is divided into three quarters — each team playing the other two once.

This year the Jamboree was dedicated to two former CHS students, John Sanders and Robert Will. These two young men were both injured while serving their country in Vietnam.

The cheerleaders, color guard, the drill teams, the football teams, and the spectators were all part of the excitement which was highlighted by the presentation of the Jamboree queens: Janie Souder, BHS; Wendy Flores, CHS; and Darlene Daly, CZC. The pomp and splendor displayed made the Jamboree a memorable event as always, but it was the victory of the Tigers over both their opponents that made it a perfect evening.

In the first quarter, Cristobal downed Balboa when quarterback, Neil Patton threw a pass to Willie Huffman, who ran 41 yards for a touchdown. Cubby Clement then kicked the extra point, and the quarter ended with a score of 7-0.

In the second quarter, Cristobal again came out on top when Neil Patton scored a touchdown on a pass interception.

The third and final quarter played by BHS and CZC ended in a scoreless tie.

Each year, following the Homecoming Football Game, a dance, honoring the members of the team and returning alumni, is held. This year, the dance was an exceptionally joyous occasion as it was celebrated the day after Cristobal’s third undefeated game of the season, a 26 to 8 victory over arch-rival, Balboa High School.

A completely transformed cafeteria was the scene of this festive event on Saturday, October 31, 1970. The dance officially began at 8:30 with the presentation of the court by Master of Ceremonies, Wally Russo. This year’s queen was the lovely Rosemary Christian. Accompanying her were four other attractive girls from the class of ’71, especially selected by the members of the football team to preside at this special dance. They were: Princess Cathy Gercich, Princess Shelley Lund, Princess Hila Lyman, and Princess Jane Paulson. Acting as escorts for the queen and members of her court were: Neil Patton and Wally Russo, Jose Medina, Michael Dexter, Robert Phillips, and Caleb Clement.

Music for the evening was provided by “The Cheese,” a rock and roll band composed of Cristobal High School students. A large number of students attended the dance, spending much of their time at the refreshment counter where they consumed copious quantities of soft drinks and other refreshments. A pleasant evening was enjoyed by all who attended.

The girls’ Athletic Association and the Letterman’s Club, co-sponsors of this annual event, are to be commended by the many hours of hard work necessary to make this dance an outstanding success.
A transformed cafeteria provides an ideal setting for the Homecoming Dance.

The annual fall dramatic production of the CHS International Thespian Society was John van Druten's romantic comedy, Bell, Book, and Candle. Van Druten takes an apparently simple love story, peoples it with some delightful modern-day witches, and creates an aura magic in a prosaic New York apartment building. The talented young actors and actresses succeed in bringing some of this magic into the CHS auditorium on November 6 and 7. Audiences were enchanted by the story of Gillian Holroyd, a beautiful young woman with the power to cast spells and perform supernatural feats. She used her powers to win the love of Shepherd Henderson, the unattached young publisher living upstairs, but forgot one important fact — a witch in love may lose her powers. This is exactly what happens to Gillian and audience sympathizes with her attempts to adjust to life as an ordinary mortal amid the teasing of her Aunt Queenie and her warlock brother. All are delighted when Gillian finally wins her man and the play closes on a happy note.

The outstanding performances in the demanding roles of this play by CHS actors, three of whom were newcomers to the stage, received much deserved applause. Credit for the successful presentation of this play also goes to the hardworking students who designed and constructed the set, handled publicity, make-up, lighting, programs, and props, and to Mrs. Eilers.

The Christmas Formal, held at the Sky Room on December 19, 1970 was the climax of many weeks of hard work for the members of the Senior Class Advisory Council and Board of Directors who made up the committees which organized and planned this successful dance. Students danced to the music of the "What For" amid decorations on the theme "Right Down Santa Claus Lane." The presentation of the Senior Class Hall of Fame made this event one of the most memorable of the school year.
At 7:30 Tuesday evening, December 22nd, the Cristobal High School auditorium was the scene of the annual Christmas Concert. Participating in this traditional event were the Intermediate Band, the Senior High Band, and the Girls' Chorus, all under the direction of Mr. Edward Carwithen.

This year the concert had an international flavor; songs and musical selections from such countries as France, Germany, Russia, and Spain were presented. Mr. Louis Fattorosi, an English teacher at CHS, gave readings from the literature of these countries, which aided in setting the mood.

The Intermediate Band, composed of Junior High School students, presented a number of selections which were well received by the audience. Following their performance, the Senior High Band played a number of unusual and difficult selections. A highlight of the concert was the appearance of the Girls' Chorus, who were dressed in formals, adding a festive note to the occasion. Among those deserving mention for solo performances are; Ronald Palser, Judy McLain, and Jean Bassett.
For seven days on several weekends in the month of February, the jungle surrounding Ft. Sherman became the temporary "home" of a number of students. These students were ROTC cadets and sponsors from Balboa and Cristobal High Schools who were participating in the ROTC program. The purpose of this program was to train students to move, shoot, communicate, and sustain themselves in a jungle environment. The army provided equipment and instructors; participants paid for their own food. The training included several hours of classroom instruction, numerous excursions to nearby Fort Sherman, target detection, airborne training, boat training, river crossing, and a trip to the mock Viet Cong village located on the French Canal. Participants who graduated from the course were given the title, "Honorary Jungle Expert". This year's outstanding graduate from CHS was cadet corporal Orlando Reyes.
The final athletic event of the 1969-70 school year was the annual Lettermen’s Banquet. On this occasion the outstanding athletes in all sports received recognition of their ability and awards for their service to CHS. The Banquet was held on May 9, 1970, at the France Field American Legion. Dinner was served and a film of the 1969 Palm Bowl was shown. Cristosal High School’s coaches, Litton and Dedeaux presented the boys with letters in basketball, baseball, football, tennis, and track. The most valuable player in each sport received a trophy. Among the honored guests at the banquet were the cheerleaders, and the guests which each boy brought.

"It's not often that athletes get a meal like this!"

March 12, 1971

Dear Readers:

Today is the day I and the other members of the yearbook staff have long dreamed of reaching. It marks the completion of the tremendous task of compiling and editing the 1971 Caribbean. As I help our sponsor, Mr. Johnson, with the packaging of our final shipment of copy, I recall the events, people, and places which are recorded in these pages. I also think of a number of individuals who assisted with the many essential, but often unrecognized tasks involved in the successful production of a yearbook. On behalf of the yearbook staff, I wish to extend a special thank you to Mrs. Condon who supervised the sale of advertisements, and to Mr. Gansen who dedicated much of his time to the photography department. I also wish to thank the Taylor Publishing Company, Compagnani Aleman and Quelquejeu, S.A. for their collaboration, and the business firms for their patronage.

The yearbook staff had only a limited amount of time in which to record an almost unlimited number of events, but every effort was made to make our coverage of the school year as complete as possible. I sincerely hope that you have received as much pleasure in reading this book as we did in editing it.

Very truly yours

Jeannette Cox
