Recognition Of China

A New Page in the World's History

The new entry in China called its American friends to a party. A Chinese diplomat invited the American ambassador to a banquet in honor of President Truman. The diplomat invited the ambassador and his associates to attend the party. The ambassador accepted the invitation and attended the banquet with his wife and other guests.

The American ambassador and his wife, accompanied by other American diplomats, attended the banquet. The Chinese diplomat welcomed them and said a few words in praise of President Truman. The ambassador replied in kind and expressed his appreciation for the invitation.

The banquet was a great success and the American ambassador and his wife enjoyed themselves thoroughly. The Chinese diplomat and his guests also had a delightful time. The evening was marked by a spirit of mutual understanding and respect between the two countries.
