Romantic British Painting Of The XIX And XX Centuries

By PATRICK HEBRON

The word "Romantic" is a power word, full of loaded significance. The old saw that "everyman's a poet" is its basis, and there is a considerable care in the definition of "Romantic" to suit both of these extremes. The term has been pejorative and derogatory when at its most out of date. The word has been used in various forms of art and literature and it has been made into a term of abuse by those who have been unable to recognize its great significance and value. The word has been used by those who have been unable to recognize its great significance and value. The word has been used by those who have been unable to recognize its great significance and value.
