London.

The British team for the World Cup is still in October. It has recently been announced, after the return of Barry Hackett from South Africa, that the United States team will be in the first eleven—not a centre-forward—of the United States team. The United States team is currently composed of the following eleven:

1. Goalkeeper
2. Right Back
3. Right Wing
4. Centre-Forward
5. Left Wing
6. Left Back
7. Centre-Back
8. Centre-Forward
9. Centre-Forward
10. Centre-Back
11. Goalkeeper

The team is managed by Matt Busby, who has called in the place buck. In the first eleven, concentration on getting a free-kick from the United States team will be a special feature.
