Gardening Hints For Amateurs

The Garden in May

THE SOUR-SOP

Wet Weather Plants

Our weather, of late, has been wet, and the result is a wonderful selection of wet weather plants, which are doing splendidly. There are many kinds of plants that do well in the rain, and the following are just a few of them:

FRUIT TREES

Sour-Sop

These trees are a wonderful addition to any garden, especially in areas where the climate is wet. They are easy to grow and produce a fruit that is delicious and healthy. The plants are also attractive, with large green leaves and a tall, sturdy trunk.

Penny Nolan

There are many kinds of Penny Nolan that are perfect for wet weather gardens. They are easy to grow and produce a beautiful flower that is white or pink in color. The plants are also attractive, with large green leaves and a tall, sturdy trunk.

FARM AND GARDEN

By: AGRICULTURAL

April's Garden

April is a wonderful month for the garden, with many kinds of plants that do well in the rain. There are many kinds of plants that do well in the rain, and the following are just a few of them:

Rhubarb

This plant is perfect for the garden, as it is easy to grow and produces a beautiful flower that is white or pink in color. The plants are also attractive, with large green leaves and a tall, sturdy trunk.

White Sharkskin

This plant is perfect for the garden, as it is easy to grow and produces a beautiful flower that is white or pink in color. The plants are also attractive, with large green leaves and a tall, sturdy trunk.

Lady Savage Girl's

Guides Broadcast

The following are some tips for the garden, which are perfect for the wet weather:

1. Keep the garden well-maintained, with regular watering and weeding.
2. Use mulch to help retain moisture in the soil.
3. Use a variety of plants, with flowers and vegetables, to help attract pollinators.
4. Use compost to help improve the soil quality.

Knowing a good car

means knowing an Austin

THE EXCITING Austin A40 is a leading car in comfort, dependability and power.

As soon as you step into the performance— you know you've got a fine car. Wind circulation, high cruising speed and safety riding give you more driving comfort than you've ever had before from a car of its size. And its handsome road-holding and suresteering is something you feel. The powerful, dependable Austin you'll know there is no other car that suits you as well.

AUSTIN

— you can depend on it!