Trade Unions Must Be Recognised
Dowding Claims

There was a large and attractive crowd that attended the Electricians' Association's meeting on Monday night at Queen's Hall, Black Rock. In support of the candidates of Mr. A. E. Goldney and Mr. Vincent Griffiths, the conscientious of St. Michael at the next General Election.

The formal opening of the meeting was made by Mr. L. H. Dwyer, president of the Barbados Trades Union Congress, who said that the meeting was called for the purpose of giving the members of the public an opportunity to hear the candidates speak on the issues of the day.

Mr. Goldney said that the candidates would be able to give a more detailed account of the issues of the day, and that they would be able to give the people of the country a better understanding of the issues that affect them.

Mr. Griffiths said that the candidates would be able to give a more detailed account of the issues of the day, and that they would be able to give the people of the country a better understanding of the issues that affect them.

The meeting was well attended, and many people were able to ask questions of the candidates. The candidates were able to give a more detailed account of the issues of the day, and that they would be able to give the people of the country a better understanding of the issues that affect them.

The meeting was well attended, and many people were able to ask questions of the candidates. The candidates were able to give a more detailed account of the issues of the day, and that they would be able to give the people of the country a better understanding of the issues that affect them.

The meeting was well attended, and many people were able to ask questions of the candidates. The candidates were able to give a more detailed account of the issues of the day, and that they would be able to give the people of the country a better understanding of the issues that affect them.

The meeting was well attended, and many people were able to ask questions of the candidates. The candidates were able to give a more detailed account of the issues of the day, and that they would be able to give the people of the country a better understanding of the issues that affect them.