Remembering our fallen heroes

Local artist creates memorial mural at Coast Guard Auxiliary headquarters

BY BOB MCCLURE

SNEDEKER BEACH - When artist Belinda Davis of St. Petersburg arranged to paint a memorial mural on the roof of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary building, she didn’t know it would be such an emotional experience.

About halfway into the project, she learned the name of an officer killed in 1983 who died in a U.S.CG auxiliary plane crash.

There were lots of tears painting the mural and emotions, she said, from her brother’s military career to property management to concentration on painting. ‘It was a challenge and I’m really glad to give back to the community.”

Palm Harbor’s Davis said, ‘William Edmund Hurlin Jr. was loved by everyone and is so missed after an on-board C-130A Gulfstream II. He was a passenger in a crash over Mount Gemüt, Alaska. All 92 people on board died and their remains were never located due to heavy snow cover.

The wreck was discovered June 10 by a 1:180 Blackhawk crew with the Federal Aviation Administration.

Davis called Coastal Operations Command’s Memorial and 911 Remembrance Command’s Central Identification Laboratory in Hawaii for analysis.

‘There were lots of tears painting the mural and emotions, she said from her brother’s military career.

The wreckage was discovered June 10 by a 1:180 Blackhawk crew with the Federal Aviation Administration.

Belinda Davis offers her time and talent to the mural project because of her family’s long history of serving in the U.S. military.

‘My father, grandfather, uncle served during Vietnam, my dad served in the Army." She said. "Two of my grandfathers served, one in World War II and the other in the Korean War. My uncle was 9/11 and during the Iraq War. My uncle served during Vietnam, my dad served in the Coast Guard and we are in currently serving in the Army." Davis said.

The Pinellas Suncoast Transit Authority, which has served out in Afghanistan and will be going back for another tour soon.

‘My father, Joseph, served in the Coast Guard in Vietnam and was a barge captain on the river while I was growing up."

‘Remembering our fallen heroes’ also refers to other issues nan won’t replace the therapeutic properties of medical marijuana. Regular marijuana does not have therapeutic qualities that synthetic drugs do not.

SOMETIMES THE MOST STRIKING THING ABOUT CHANGE IS WHAT DOESN’T.

Sometimes change, Conventional wisdom says, is easier to tell by looking. Keeping your house for instance, has never gone out of style. It’s the same condition. It’s consistent. It’s a constant and reliable constant.

In the past 50 years, we’ve been doing everything wrong. Everything we assumed was conventional wisdom got it wrong. Keeping your house for instance, has never gone out of style. It’s the same condition. It’s consistent. It’s a constant and reliable constant.

Survey asks about Pinellas County parks

CLEARWATER — Pinellas County residents can participate in an online survey through Friday, Aug. 17, to share their views on county parks to help determine which use is growing, the parks, trails and recreational facilities used most, amenities desired and how to best promote the use of these parks.

The survey, conducted and funded through a Communities Putting America First grant awarded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development, allows residents to share their views on which park amenities are used most, which can be improved and which should be maintained as is.

All news of temporary precautions associated with your drinking water will come from a respected news source, or directly from your water provider.

Remember:
1. A home water treatment system is not required.
2. A salesperson who adds chlorine to your water does not improve its quality.
3. A salesperson who adds a coagulant (a thickening agent) to your water does not clean out your pipes.

Every year, as mandated by the federal government, Pinellas County’s Water & Sewer Division is again going to measure and inspect water quality. This information is used to maintain the public water supply.

Local real estate market showing signs of recovery

By ROB MCCLURE

Seminole — Overall, the real estate market in Pinellas County is down improving. Just four years ago, the residential inventory of homes sold in Pinellas County was as low as 353. In 2012, that number has dropped to 286 to 0.8 and single-family homes from 20 to 1 to 2.8. Bennett said 53 percent of sales in Pinellas for June were cash deals. That compares with 20 percent nationwide.

People can’t get financing, so cash is king in this market. Bennett said 45 percent of sales in Pinellas for June were cash deals.

While foreclosures have decreased the past two years, she said, the number is on the rise again. “Banks can’t get financing, so cash is king in this market. Bennett said 45 percent of sales in Pinellas for June were cash deals. The number is on the rise again.”

Banks previously held off on foreclosures because of concerns about foreclosures and the effect that they could have on the market. While foreclosures have decreased the past two years, she said, the number is on the rise again.

On another point, Dubov said the real estate industry has seen 11 quarters of growth, from 2006 to 2007. Five years ago the county had $61.8 billion in taxable value, and the figure in 2007 was $75.8 billion. Taxable values have dropped from $81.5 billion in 2007 to $90.3 billion in 2013.

Sports Radio 98.7 partners with USF.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — Sports Radio 98.7 The Fan and the University of South Florida announced Aug. 2 that Tampa Bay’s newest all-sports radio station would serve as the flagship station of USF athletics. The multi-year agreement begins with the 2012-2013 athletic year and includes coverage of USF football and men’s basketball.

“We are excited to have a station dedicated solely to Tampa Bay area radio station,” said Ben Hill, senior vice president and general manager of Sports Radio 98.7 The Fan. “They will be the first FM sports station in the region and we think it says a lot about what USF means to the Tampa area that we would be the first major partner. They’ve organized a terrific line-up with some of the most talented people in radio, who will bring you pre-game, post-game and full game broadcasts. We look forward to a long and successful relationship.”

For the upcoming season through Sept. 15, fans and girls age 4-10 can enjoy a fun day at the stadium. The registration fee is $25 for U10 and U11, and $30 for U12 to U13. A $50 facility fee per family is required.

Ear and skin issues could be food allergies

Many dogs and cats suffer from allergies. The most common types of allergies in animals are food, environmental, and contact allergies. Allergies in dogs or cats can cause skin problems like itching, scratching, and chewing, as well as sneezing, coughing, runny eyes, and/or inflammation of the eyes, nose, mouth, and ears. These allergies can be caused by grasses, molds, dust, dander, etc. Unfortunately, your pet doesn’t even need to be outside to have an allergen allergy. There are allergens hidden in your house, in your car, and in your yard. How do you know if your pet is allergic to something? Here are some of the most common symptoms of an allergy:

• Itching
• Sneezing
• Runny nose
• Watery eyes
• Lump on the skin
• Skin infections
• Diarrhea

If you are concerned that your pet might be allergic to something, take the pet to your veterinarian. Your veterinarian will perform a thorough physical exam and may perform allergy tests to determine what your pet is allergic to. If your pet is diagnosed with an allergy, it is important to figure out what is causing the allergy and to avoid it if possible. This can be done by eliminating the allergen from your pet’s environment or by giving your pet medications to help control the symptoms of the allergy.

In most cases, the treatment for allergies is the same as the treatment for other skin conditions. This includes medication, lifestyle changes, and sometimes surgery. Your veterinarian will work with you to determine the best course of treatment for your pet’s allergy.

Let’s play!

Koda, a Lihapiti mix, was adopted recently in Tallahassee. Koda loves to play and it’s his dream come true for his owner. Connie Ashcraft of Tallahassee got Koda at the animal shelter. When they go hiking, Koda will run a little ahead, but if he loses sight of his owner, he will just come back. Connie says Koda has a lot of energy, so he does have to be kept on a leash. Connie feels that Koda would make a great addition to any family. To meet Joey, contact the Suncoast Animal League office at (727) 816-1330.

Joey
Joey is a Parsons Russell terrier found by a puppy mill in Sarasota. Joey was very scared of his new environment but has made great progress over the last few months and he just needs a home for his final forever stay. He has made great progress over the last few months and he just needs the right, patient owner to give him love and encouragement. He is crate-trained and working on house training, so he is very nice to live with. His new home must allow Joey to move at his own pace. Joey is a 3-year-old male. A $100 deposit is required at heart. Call the Suncoast Animal League office at 784-5130 to meet Joey.

Driver's Seat

Steve Kurlander blogs at Kurly's Kommentary, writes a weekly column for Fort Lauderdale's Sun-Sentinel and is a South Florida communications strategist.

For the last few years I have pledged to devolve more of my time than I have spent volunteering. I have given money to the Red Cross, I have given money to various organizations, I have taken part in a number of races and events. But, I have never actually put in the time I have said I would. It is something I am working hard to do now since the American Red Cross needs a great deal of help.

I have always known that the work that the American Red Cross needs is work needs to be done. The problem is that I have never actually put in the time I have said I would. It is something I am working hard to do now since the American Red Cross needs a great deal of help.

There was no age limitation. At most stores, officers found sales of bath salts and synthetic marijuana on the list of Schedule I drugs, which are so frustrating and upset that the stores are allowed to sell them. They pay in cash. There may or may not be a receipt.”

“In some ways, synthetic drugs are like prescription drugs in that the manufacturers try to keep people who misuse the product. The packages have a warning label as uncontrolled,” he said. “Chemists are on standby in China ready to make sure it’s not illegal.”

Zsido said the situation “is sad. It really is. I deal with a lot of kids whose parents call because their child is addicted but they don’t want to give up the drugs they think they can’t live without. I tell them this is not the case. They can move away from the drugs.”

has resulted in progressively more dangerous products and a huge laundering of black market.

We have seen the damaging effects of the products and stop selling them, even before a list of chemicals was published in Florida, both in December 2011, and before a ban on synthetic marijuana became state law in Florida.

"We do feel like they're making synthetic drugs more available," said the manager of a shop that sells synthetic substances in Pinellas County.

But these efforts to stop the flow of synthetic drugs by being careful about what you sell don't always work. Sometimes, what you're buying is not available, even if it's legal and sold in stores.

One exception to the rule is Randy Zsido, owner of Slotkin & Co., which sells synthetic drugs in Pinellas County. Zsido and other local law enforcement officials say that most synthetic drugs sold in the county are illegal.

"We have seen the damaging effects of the products and stop selling them, even before a list of chemicals was published in Florida, both in December 2011, and before a ban on synthetic marijuana became state law in Florida."

‘The Odd Life of Timothy Green’

Genre: Drama and comedy

Director: Peter Hedges
Rated: PG

Not completely of this world where he teaches. When students at the school report sightings of the young boy's ghost, she decides to take on the case. Initially uncomfortable with the strange phenomena going on around her, Florence Cathcart (Hall), author of the popular spiritualist novel, "The Awakening," decides to investigate, following step-by-step instructions from the officer at the police station. Florence begins to uncover a tale of dark magic and otherworldly limits.

The following week opens in limited release. It may be several weeks before these titles appear in local theatre.

‘The Awakening’

Genre: Supernatural

Director: Craig Zobel
Rated: R

Based on true events, “Compliance” tells the chilling story of just one retail employee who could be enough to explain the strange phenomena going on around her. Meanwhile, in Paris, a recently separated Madeleine (Catherine Deneuve) has realized her love affair with Robert Mallory (West).

The Motown sound is sweeping the nation. Girl groups are hotter than ever. Her mother’s Blirtin’ Broadcasted shows, there’s no telling what the young woman can do, and love for sparkles—the foundation of a new musical empire.

Tickets range from $45 to $79. Call 791-7400 or

The pair's Hippiefest will present the well-known guitars who were initially inspired to pick up their instruments due to their fondness for both rock and blues.

Blues rock movement

Blues rock emerged in the mid 1960s, appearing simultaneously in the United States and Britain.

Some of the first bands to release blues rock albums but blues was placed at a faster tempo acccompanying the guitar, bass and drums.

The genre included early incorporations of American black music, and psychedelic rock.
