The Pinellas County Sheriff’s Department and Seminole Fire Department will be on site, not just to increase safety, but also with their emergency vehicles for kids to check out.

The Pinellas County Sheriff’s Department will donate hot dogs, and McDonald’s will provide drinks and chips.

And the Chamber relies on donations from the community to keep Kids Appreciation Day alive, said Nickse.

“We can’t thank them enough,” he said.

The Chamber will accept donations throughout the day of the event. Checks can be made payable to the Seminole Chamber of Commerce.

“We need to keep that going,” she said. “It’s very wholesome and promotes family values.”

Nickse is proud of the event’s longevity.

“It’s still like an old-time family picnic,” she said. “It’s very whole-family oriented.”

But it’s much more than just a fun end-of-school-year event, and Dr. Stephen Nickse, a Chamber member who organizes the event each year.

“The event was initiated to promote summer activities amongst the children,” he said.

That means everything from being respected of their parents and others to cleaning their rooms to completing their summer assignment packages.

When the event was initially started by Janney Johnson, Ron Jones and Jeanne Nociti 35 years ago, they reintroduced summer activities that included things like playing games and receiving prizes, such as books and honor cords, and crafting with the Chamber’s chief of operations.

Today, the annual event retains many of those elements.

“It’s like an old-time family picnic,” she said. “It’s very wholesome and promotes family values.”

Nickse is proud of the event’s longevity.

“It’s still like an old-time family picnic,” he said.

He added, “It’s a challenging task like this for those kids that have and have been going on for 35 years.”

A number of civic organizations play an active role in the annual event. The Kiwanis Club of Seminole will grill hot dogs. The Rotary Club of Seminole, the Women’s Club of Seminole Lake and the Sea
Junior Women’s Club also assist at Kids Appreciation Day.

The applicant has asked to waive mitigation for 4.5 acres of federally protected wetlands, which is unacceptable and this application should be rejected for these reasons above.

Candlelight memorial raises awareness of HIV epidemic

Seminole Beacon, May 15, 2014

The AIDS Partnership, a Pinellas-based volunteer agency, will host the local observance of the 1st Annual AIDS Memorial Candlelight Memorial May 14, 9 p.m., at Coastal Sanctuary Church in Pinellas Park.

The AIDS Partnership will host the local observance of the 1st Annual AIDS Memorial Candlelight Memorial May 14, 9 p.m., at Coastal Sanctuary Church in Pinellas Park.

“The praying bell has been rung in the community for 20 years, said its president Ellen Bauer.

The third Sunday in May, observed by 2,000 community organizations in 135 countries, according to the organization’s website, www.candlelightmemorial.org.

Locally, the AIDS Partnership has observed the day for almost 20 years, said and President of the Board Mac Perry.

“Today, we want to reach out to the community and say, ‘Hey, come out and let’s talk about it.’”

The AIDS Partnership was formed in the late 1980s to respond to the epidemic that was spreading throughout the world. The organization’s mission is to promote healthy lifestyles, to provide education, and to support and comfort people who have HIV/AIDS and their families.

AIDS Partnership members said its president Ellen Bauer.

“Her basic thing was that those that are hurting sit next to you in worship. That’s the message. That’s the thing she wants to get across,” she said. “She became aware that there were many people from AIDS or HIV and the faith community.

“She felt that she could not bring her whole story to all of the faith communities. What she knew was there were many people who felt they could bring their story to the faith community.”

As a tradition, the names of victims of the disease will be read throughout the entire service, to represent how the HIV infection is a constant if quiet presence in the world.

In Florida, the Pinellas County AIDS Partnership has offices at St. Luke’s Lutheran Church, 407 S. 26th St., St. Petersburg.

Patricia Boykin of the AIDS Partnership said, “We thought that this was a great opportunity to bring the light on AIDS.

“Her name was there for some time that are feeling hopeful, to come over and meet,” she said, and that even they are still looking for more volunteers.

The group participates in St. Pete AIDS testing events. The organization is a non-profit group that has been around since 1982.

“Tuesdays and Thursdays,” said Mac Perry. “They’re open on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday to go to the church and see if anyone needs anything.”

Bingo Tuesdays, 8:30 p.m., at Blur, 325 Main St., Dunedin.

I know that there is a group of people that we have affected in a very unique situation. The individuals who had been taking care of their friends, they’re still doing it. The families are still doing it.

The volunteers also have a volunteer program that meets at 10:30 a.m. on the first and third Wednesday of each month at the church.

The organization is a non-profit, and volunteers are still working to bring in the light on AIDS.

The AIDS Partnership, a small organization with only a four-person board, has its own volunteers, along with many volunteers outside the organization who come in on a regular basis.

The organization is a small one, but they have a big impact, said Mac Perry.

“I think that we have a very effective in other communities around the United States. The organization is a 501(c)3 organization that is [operated] by volunteers. The organization’s goal is to educate people about HIV/AIDS and to provide support to those infected with the disease, both physically and emotionally.

Pin-MAR Antique Car Club celebrates its Golden Jubilee

By TIFANNY RIZZANO

LARGO — In 1964, six antique car clubs from central Pinellas County gathered for the first time to celebrate their passion for Model A cars. This weekend, those clubs work together on an annual event, the Pin-MAR Model A Show, at a local funeral home to discuss club business and car preservation.

That was the start of Pin-MAR Antique Car Club — an acronym for its original name, Pinellas Model A Buffoons. Today, the club, which recently celebrated its 50th anniversary April 19 at a picnic in Walsingham Park, welcomes all types of vintage cars and has over 270 members finding like-minded friends.

They meet monthly still, but these days at Heritage Village Park. Pin-MAR's Park's members will recognize them as a staple in the city's annual car show. They've been at it for 50 years and have over 135 members hailing from the Pinellas community.

“Model A Restorers. Today, the club, which recently celebrated its 50th anniversary April 19 at a local funeral home to discuss club business and car preservation.”

“Pin-MAR's biggest project was relocating the H.C. Smith Mercantile into Heritage Village Park in Largo. The club builds most of its monthly meetings in the park.”

They meet monthly still, but these days at Heritage Village. Pin-MAR Park's members will recognize them as one of the city's annual Heritage Festival. Better, the club is a Pinellas Park tradition, said club President Jim Boisvert, as it's the only organization to participate in every single parade since it began in 1972.

"People really come to see those old cars." Boisvert said. Many car clubs focus wildly on preserving and admiring their automobiles. That's not all Pin-MAR is about, said Bob Crooks, a past president of the group and member since 1973.

Rather than sitting around at a show, the group members actually drive out the old cars on local and long-distance tours throughout the county and Central Florida. That's because its members, Boisvert pointed out, are about the people more than the cars. Crooks said.

“You really meet a lot of people,” he said.

Boisvert said it the first car club that that wife actually joined with him.

“Many of the members are couples,” he said. Because it really is a lot of fun. The couples thing really was an attraction for us because it made it easier to talk to each other.”

Meetings are generally held the first Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. at Heritage Village. Newcomers are welcome on the first time to celebrate their passion for Model A cars.

Tom Germond is the executive editor of the Dunedin Beacon. He has been a professional writer for more than 40 years, and has won numerous awards for his writing, including the World Association of Newspapers’ Excellence in Journalism Award.

Tom Germond writes in a Vanity Fair article that Monica Lewinsky, first lady to President Bill Clinton, was a “narcissistic looney tune,” while Clinton blamed herself for her post-internship demands for the president’s time, attention and help in procuring jobs. But I always held Bubba as the most culpable in the group.

Clementi, after a roommate secretly recorded and broadcast him kissing his own foot and then himself, was then hit by his personal trainer. He was accidentally struck by the driver of an oncoming car, who had not stopped at an intersection.

The sisterhood got buried in an avalanche of excuses, starting with: “Bill Clinton’s presidency and poll ratings survived his self-serving account of sex with intern Monica Lewinsky.”

A week later, because he got around to it, I shared with a friend the story of how I taught a 15-year-old boy to walk on water.

To a similar degree, the same thing has appeared in the last two years of this century, when the 2010 report of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, a corollary to the periodic publication of the Lago Yoga Society (I.a.), had the same effect.

Now a sexagenarian, I am relearning those lessons 16 years after the fact. No, I do not have a plan for the rest of my life and just let things happen. And so on. A week later, because he got around to it, I shared with a friend the story of how I taught a 15-year-old boy to walk on water.

CMA welcomes new director of marketing
CLEARMARINA — Clearwater Marine Aquarium announced Friday, April 1, that Yates, who serves as the new director of tourism marketing.

Culiff brings with her 10 years of marketing experience in the tourism, hospitality and non-profit industries. Her most recent work as marketing director for the Premier Inn, she also serves as an oceanarium restaurant group on Clearwater Beach, committed to creating 15 to 25 percent direct revenue from live entertainment, events, food and beverage, she said. Culiff has also served as executive director/CEO of the Clearwater Beach Convention and Visitors Bureau. "She brings a wealth of tourism knowledge that is going to be a tremendous asset to this area, both nationally and global level."

Susan Craven, the husband and two children in Clearwater.

Craven named executive successor of Big Brothers Big Sisters
LARGO — Big Brothers Big Sisters of Pinellas County's board of directors recently announced Patricia Cushing as the new executive director.

Upon Susan Craven's retirement in June, Coven will become the first Big Brother Big Sister of Pinellas Beach.

"The time has come to turn to the future," Susan Craven said in a press release. "Ralph is the current CEO, which is a great accomplishment. I have been able to maximize his potential and have him lead Big Brothers Big Sisters of Pinellas County.

With more than 20 years of executive management experience, Coven has held positions as a board member for the Society for the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra, the United Way of Washtenaw County, and the University of Michigan Athletic Department. In 2005, she received a Bachelor of Arts degree in psychology from Western Michigan University.

"I am excited to join the Big Brothers Big Sisters of Pinellas County. Coven spent 24 years working the Bar Society of Attorneys. She has been an active member of the Society with the Society he has asked a variety of positions in estate counseling, charitable financial strategy planning, and director of development for the Bar Society of Attorneys. He is the recipient of the ABA’s Crystal Award, the highest award given to an individual in the field of estate planning.

The Silverton Community, which has maintained local traditions, which has developed a respected local name for the last 60 years. This year, Coven is going on a 30th-year round of grants and jobs.

"I am excited to join the Silverton Community. This is a great opportunity to start a new chapter," Coven said. "Coven said her experience can be used to "to continue the legacy building upon what Susan Craven, the board and our volunteers have started." Thank you for being so accommodating to our needs and for working with us to make the show a success. We appreciate you and your team for your dedication to the show and your positive attitude. We look forward to working with you again in the future. Have a great day!"

Director: Gareth Edwards

The world’s most renowned monster returns in Warner Bros. Picture’s Legendary Pictures’ epic action adventure “Godzilla.” From visionary director Gareth Edwards comes a powerful story of human ingenuity and resilience in the face of untold forces of nature, when the overwhelming power of Godzilla turns our planet into a primordial battleground.

‘Million Dollar Arm’
Genre: Drama
Cast: Aneurin Barnard, Suraj Sharma, Dev Patel, Kulwer Randhawa, and cardboard-cutout arm.
Director: Craig Gillespie
Rated: PG

Based on a true story, sports agent JB Bernstein (Jon Hamm) finds that business has changed and things aren’t going well for his career. In a last ditch effort to save his livelihood he concocts a scheme to find two Calcutta pitchers he can turn into a major league baseball star. JB travels to India to produce a reality show competition called “The Million Dollar Arm.” With the help of a compassionate and quick-to-rotate baseball star (Bryan Cranston), he discovers Sushant (Madhur Mittal) and Prakash (Shah Rukh Khan), two 10-year-old boys who have no idea about baseball but have a knack for throwing a fastball. Hoping to sign them to major league contracts and make a quick buck, JB brings the boys home to America to train. While the boys’ talent is undeniable, they have not received the love and discipline they need to thrive. JB, the help of his charming friend Brenda (Lake Bell), teaches valuable life lessons.

McAvoy’s intense performance electrifies Scottish crime drama ‘Filth’

Over the last few months, James McAvoy will be looking at his film work through涨价 ticket. Last week McAvoy starred in a handful of hit films: the box office hit ‘Filth’, the sci-fi thriller ‘Dredd’, and the coming-of-age tale ‘The Vow’. McAvoy is known for his versatility as an actor, consistently delivering powerful performances in a variety of film genres.

The Isle of Skye Detective Sergeant Bruce Robertson (McAvoy) moves to the seedy town of Dysart in Scotland for his new job as a police officer. Upon his arrival, Robertson is met with a series of gruesome crimes, each more disturbing than the last. The townspeople are on edge, but Robertson is determined to get to the bottom of it all.

Robertson’s intensity is palpable as he dives deep into the case, uncovering secrets and untangling the complex web of lies that surround the crimes. His dedication to solving the mystery drives him to push himself to his limits, and his raw, unfiltered approach is both captivating and unsettling.

As the investigation unfolds, Robertson’s own personal demons come to the surface. His past traumas, including childhood abuse and a history of substance abuse, begin to impact his ability to do his job. The film explores the character’s internal struggles, making his journey both thrilling and deeply moving.

McAvoy’s performance is nothing short of mesmerizing, due in part to the film’s twisted sense of humor and its often-gruesome content. He expertly navigates the character’s volatile emotions, delivering a nuanced and convincing portrayal that is both frightening and compelling.

‘Filth’ is a film that demands attention. Its edgy narrative and darkly comic tone make it a must-watch for fans of the crime genre. McAvoy’s dynamic performance is the highlight of the film, elevating an already strong screenplay to new heights.

For those who can handle the explicit content, ‘Filth’ is a film that should not be missed. It is a true testament to the power of cinema, and a reminder of the importance of storytelling.
