Bridge to close

Park Boulevard Bridge to close for 30 days starting Sept. 29

INDIAN ROCKS – UPGRADES – The Park Boulevard Bridge will begin Monday, Aug. 25, according to Indian Rocks Beach officials. The work will require the bridge to be closed for 30 days through the end of October. The improvements will include replacing multiple parts of the machinery that open and close the drawbridge. The U.S. Coast Guard requires the vendor to remain open to boats and for that reason the work must be done with the bridge in the right position.

For more information, call 453-3383 or visit www.IndianRocksBeach.gov.

Seminole town adds events to Music in the Park lineup

The city's annual Music in the Park series will kick off Friday, Sept. 5, at Seminole City Park, 7600 Ridge Road, Seminole.

The music will run 7 to 9 p.m. Admission is free. Five concerts are planned, including the following:

• Sept. 5 – BlackBeats and Three Guys, sponsored by Wages Management of Pinellas
• Sept. 12 – Charlie Souza and the New Tropics, sponsored by the Seminole Chamber of Commerce
• Sept. 19 – Charlie Morris Band, sponsored by Deloach & Ipstein
• Sept. 26 – Voices of Jazz, sponsored by Burnett Insurance

The series was organized by the Seminole City Hall's Parks, Recreation and Leisure Services department.

SPC students, staff get free rides on PSTA buses

For SPC students and staff, the college is offering a free ride pass on PSTA buses.

The student or staff member must purchase the pass at the College Bookstore or the PSTA office in St. Petersburg, then present the pass along with a valid SPC or SPC-College ID card when boarding.

There is no charge to the student or staff member, however, the service is limited to certain routes.

The student or staff member must show their SPC or SPC-College ID card to the bus operator.

SPC-College High school student senior Erika Collins talks about what the new partnership between Pinellas Suncoast Transit Authority and St. Petersburg College means to her during an Aug. 21 press conference at the Gibbs campus in St. Petersburg.

PSTA currently provides more than 32,000 students and SPC's students and faculty with the transit options they need.

Current gas prices are the lowest since 2010. As of Aug. 24, the average price for gas in Seminole was $2.11, which is 64 cents cheaper than the same day last year.

Charlie Souza and the New Tropics hit the stage!

Charlie Souza and the New Tropics have completed a new album titled "Carry me Back to St. Petersburg." Souza has worked and performed with some of the greatest musicians in the business, including Jethi and Gregg Allman. In 1969, he was part of The Troggs, one of the most popular pop-rock bands in the country. Their hit "Love over Gold" was recorded "The Great American Bear," their first single, in 1966.

Souza, along with his brothers Mark and Chris, moved to Treasure Island in the mid-1970s. "The real inspiration for me was playing one of the best venues in St. Petersburg, opening for The Beatles," Souza said in an email. "I love the fans, the atmosphere and the great music and I love the city itself. It's easy to get involved in the city, go out and have a good time or get involved in the community." Souza said, "That's pretty much why The Tropics have a lot of fun because we do have so much fun playing at Tommy's Beach Resort and at Cafe Orlando. We perform regularly throughout Pinellas County. We were the opening act for the St. Petersburg Blues & Jazz Festival in 2010 and recorded "Time," their first single, in 1966.

The band is a vocal and guitar player with a penchant for playing incredibly as a part-time band in the Grammy Museum's Music Revolution and "The Troggs" theme at the Steve Miller T, 9111 32nd Ave. N. In the fall of 2019, he is performing with the group. For more information, contact the Pinellas County Music Magnet Program at Gibbs High School.

No red tide bloom found in Pinellas

Only background traces of the organism detected in recent water samples

Pinellas County beaches remain free of red tide, according to the latest report from the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.

In a report released Aug. 22, two samples collected in the northeastern Gulf of Mexico, a bloom that covered an area measuring 26 miles long, ranging from 13 to 16 miles wide, were examined for the presence of Karenia Brezeza, which causes red tide. The samples contained 10,000 cells or less of the organism. Red tide was not detected in any other samples collected in the local area. No effects from red tide are expected in the local area.

"This year, Americans are more optimistic about their financial situation and their travel plans," AAA spokesman Andrew Slavik said in a press release. "This year's summer travel forecast shows that both the economy and the importance of travel to consumers are on the rise. As a result, travel is expected to increase 3.6% this summer, reaching 335 million road trips and 17.7 million air trips, compared to last year's 324 million and 17 million, respectively. For those still unsure about summer travel plans, AAA reports that disposable income, indicating that Americans are comfortable using their credit cards to finance one last summer vacation this year."

AAA points to the increase in consumer spending as another factor prompting Americans to travel this year. Spending is expected to increase 2.8% from a year ago, according to AAA. Property appraiser mails TRIM notices Pinellas County Property Appraiser Darin Miller mailed annual Notice of Property Valuation to 169,593 Pinellas County property owners.

The notes are not a bill. The tax collector mails the bills Oct. 1.

The TRIM notice is a notification to property owners of the proposed value of their property, the proposed valuation limit set by state law and whether or not a property owner qualifies for a proposed property tax cut that will save them on their property tax bill that year.

The mailing of this notice marks the official time-period during which property owners can offer the opportunity to the property tax authorities to appeal the value, or exemption status of their property, as set forth in the notice.

Mailed with the Notice is a TRIM Guide, a newsletter that explains the process of the TRIM notice and answers common questions.

The notice includes information on appeal, the value or exemption status of their property, as set forth in the notice.

Dolphin Watch

Around 10:15 a.m. on Aug. 2, a group of resident dolphins reconvened around the boat for a close encounter. They had two clues that he was there: a large splash. Awake now, he and his mother vanished beneath the waves. When they surfaced again, there were now three of them – a large male, two calves. Xiphos had snuck up behind the dozing pair and goosed the lad to wake them up! The bull has personality. The idea that this is debated in some circles is laughable to them (regretful though some take surveys). Xiphos is his own man. He first appeared in the company of resident dolphins. It looked for a while that he was working on another – quite respectable – display of obvious affection for Schnoz. Named for the now-considered classics as his prime targets, Xiphos is the largest and most dominant of local bulls. Unlike the social nature of forming nomadic herds, Schnoz has never had a bond with another bull just for mate allies in the 10 years that we’ve been observing him.

Xiphos is the bachelor dolphin that often swims with local dolphins. He had snuck up behind the dozing pair and goosed the lad to wake them up! The bull has personality.

You’re driving down the road when you catch a glimpse of flashing lights in your rear view mirror. What do you do? What should you do? We’ve all been in this situation, yet many times we don’t know exactly what to do.

During a normal shift, Sunstar Paramedics and paramedics see people react to emergency response vehicle lights in many different ways. It’s important to do your part in preventing another accident from occurring with a simple move of your head. Xiphos displayed apparently worked. Xiphos traveled in local waters for six months. By the fall, we were estimating with local dolphins. Xiphos was again in the company of resident dolphins.  According to detectives, the four suspects entered the Starbucks
Cash Center, 721 1st St S, in Seminole, at approximately noon on June 15. The three female suspects were observed attempting to create the stolen item while the male suspect ap-ppeared to be a ‘look out’ in the store and in the parking lot. The suspect had a black child with him in the time of the offense, he was described as a ‘Ken’ action figure, white, wearing a brown t-shirt. The store employee advised the suspects were at the café area and near the drive through.

The second suspect is described as a black female, middle-aged, thin build, white skin tone, long black hair, white dress, and black and white sneakers.

The third suspect is described as a black female between 30-40 years old. She was last observed wearing a striped dress, white flip-flops and a shower cap on her head.

The fourth suspect is described as a black female, thin build,
long black hair, white skin tone, wearing a striped dress, black flip-flops and a white and black shoulder bag.

Deputies said speed was a factor; however, it was unknown if two people were involved or if anyone was driving the car.
Also, it was unknown if drugs or alcohol were involved.

Several streetlights were struck in the Seminole area.

A child was with the suspects at the time of the theft.

According to a report from the Pinellas County Sheriff’s Of-icer, Leanne Bailey, 50, of St. Petersburg and Steven Hammer, 52, of Clearwater, employees of Haggerty Falcon Tree Service, were trimming trees of a private residence on Indian Rocks Drive when the incident occurred.

Deputies responded to the call at about 4 p.m. and after the suspect was located, he was arrested and charged with grand theft.

The Puff-N-Fluff has been manufactured and is already in stores. It took determination of a lot of hard work. Marissa’s mother Sherry said there was plenty of heavy string, it took thousands of dollars to patent anything,” she said. Although it was a bit more than we thought. Since we were in stores, there were people to be like, ‘what are you putting on me,’” she said.

In the article that was published, she described her development process. She said, “I was on Fallon’s opening week and had been patented and they gave me a call,” she said. “With our original work and we got a price of 8.000 in a contest sponsored by General Electric.

This crew is setting that standard and a culture of excellence.

"We have the opportunity to build a crew and a ship from scratch, something he never experienced. We are becoming the subject experts," Ford's Commanding Officer, Capt. John F. Meier.

"We are building an awesome team here. We are a 34 year old with numerous responsibilities. I am a future class aircraft carrier captain and a person. The Navy gives you a lot of great things for free," said Bain. "For example, if it helped me become a leader of a team, we can continue to grow and become more of a leader. We have an awesome team here by the way. Everyone here is supportive of everyone."

Bain adds he is ready to accept the responsibilities the Navy and graduation will bring. "I am ready to make a decision."

Bain's newest aircraft carrier. As a 34 year old with numerous responsibilities, Bain must be strong enough to operate the ship. He is building something that other carriers are building, developing their capabilities and building the Navy. Bain is setting that standard and a culture of excellence.

Bain will do his best to be in the Navy. Helping to build a crew and a ship from scratch is something he never experienced. He will be doing just a couple of years. Bain is enthusiastic and proud of the work he is doing to help communities and the Navy.

While Bain's role as a part of something much larger may be more appealing than others, the Navy gives him opportunities to develop his leadership skills.

The ship is scheduled to be commissioned in spring 2016.

As a freelancer, I am often asked to give presentations on various topics. I have always responded by saying, “I’m not a speaker, I’m an observer.” However, in this case, I have decided to share my experiences with you, the readers, in the hope that you may find them useful.

When Ali-Jamnia brought Current TV to nearly 200 million households in 2010, he assured viewers that he would shut down the network. But Ali-Jamnia, a network operated by his media company, has been running Current TV for two years. What has gone wrong? The answers will vary, depending on whom you ask. Some say that the network is struggling financially, while others argue that Ali-Jamnia is too focused on personal issues.

The network’s financial problems are well documented. According to media reports, Current TV has been unable to secure a deal with a major advertiser, which would have provided the network with much-needed revenue. Additionally, the network has struggled to secure a distribution agreement with a major cable provider, which would have allowed it to reach a wider audience.

Ali-Jamnia has publicly stated that he plans to continue to run Current TV, but it is unclear whether he has a realistic plan to secure funding for the network. In the meantime, the network’s future remains uncertain.

Bait fish attracting predatory fish

Currently, as we hang on the verge of summer fills and fiercely predatory fish clients, we see the change. Bait fish numbers are on the rise. Their enticing flavor can entice even the most discerning angler. The look of them dangling, blanketing waters, is enough to make us drool. It won’t take much of a weather change for the fishing to take off. Local fishermen are picking up. Baitfish are shore- ready, up at a typical food level. Look for bait fish to start swimming near shore. Baitfish, especially fall runs, seem to school in deeper water and can often be found by chance and interest, to search through deep, dark water, term activity and the presence of jack crabs go in the bottom waters. Near shore, Spanish mackerel are becoming more and more of a mainstay. The Mercury and Defoil feeding gears have been outstanding this week. Use silver spoons for a small, medium, and large scale. While jigging worms seem to be less effective this time of year, the Baits have been outstanding for the most part. Use silver spoons to a small, medium, and large scale. The Mercury and Defoil feeding gears have been outstanding for the most part.

Utica College launches nursing program

ST. PETERSBURG — Utica College, a leading university located in New York, recently launched its Accelerated Second Bachelor’s Degree Nursing program in St. Petersburg to address the rising shortage of nurses in the region and across the state of Florida.

“With an ever-growing nursing workforce needed for the future, the accelerated nursing program at Utica College fills an important need,” said Dr. Todd S. Hutton in a press release. Hutton is the president of Utica College. “There is so much opportunity for students pursuing nursing careers today. As our population ages and the demand for nurses grows, it is crucial to provide the latest educational advancements to ensure the delivery of health care. We are committed to providing our students the foundational education that is critical to those who are interested in helping others and improving health care outcomes.”

Headquartered in northeast St. Petersburg and centrally located to all local hospitals, at Utica College, students can earn a bachelor’s degree in nursing in just 16 months. The program will provide on-campus learning and complete clinical hours at top healthcare facilities under the supervision of registered nurse educators. The program is a full-time plan of study designed for students who already hold a bachelor’s degree in a non-nursing field and are looking to change careers into a nurse.

The St. Petersburg accelerated nursing program is currently accepting applications, and the first classes will begin next month.

For information, visit acceleratednursing.utica.edu or call 866-890-9340.

College, career fairs set

PINELLAS PARK – The Pinellas County PTA Council is hosting the 18th Annual PTA, SACs and OSOs Conference next week. Classes are available from 3000 State Road 580, Clearwater.

PTA/PCPA to host workshop

ST. PETERSBURG – Meanwhile, yet another opportunity for students to get hands on experience in their chosen field is available. This month, Journeys in Journalism students have been documenting the people, places and stories in their neighborhoods through the Journeys in Journalism program. Students are writing and editing stories in their neighborhoods, designed to influence students 12-18 in journalism careers and to open doors to future opportunities.

For a decade, Pinellas County Schools students and staff have collaborated to create a celebratory exhibit of students’ work from across the county, under the title Through Our Eyes. The exhibit marks the 10th anniversary of student journalism in Pinellas County.

“We’re in good shape and I’m very glad to present this to all of you,” said Lauralee Westine, the PCCPTA’s parliamentarian. “This came from all of you and we are thankful.”

The Pinellas County College Fair will be held Oct. 3 to 5 at the Pinellas Community College, 3000 34th St. N., Clearwater, Parking will be available in the USF St. Petersburg Student Complex.

For information, call 873-4754 or email info@pccpta.org. To register, visit www.pccpta.org.

“Starting the conference off will be Dr. Todd S. Hutton, president of Utica College, who will deliver a keynote address. Our keynote speaker will be Dr. Peter Drucker, Senior Vice President for Enrollment Services at Florida State University. He will discuss the use of technology and other strategies the University Student Center at University of South Florida St. Petersburg is using to help students get registered. Dr. Drucker will also address the teen obsession with technology and the question of what is ‘real’ education is today.”

Exhibit hours are Sept. 16 through Oct. 2 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Oct. 3, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The exhibit is free to the public and is located in the Hopkins Art Center of Studio@620, 531 4th Ave. S., St. Petersburg.

To commemorate the milestone, a celebration will be held on the exhibit’s opening night. The exhibit will be dedicated to the students at Studio@620, 531 4th Ave. S., St. Petersburg.

For information, call 764-4750 or email info@pccpta.org. To register, visit www.pccpta.org.

Rather than attend a required orientation and get a student ID, new students at SPC now see an adviser with a student ID, new students at SPC now see an adviser and then they go to the Student Resource Center to get their ID. Students are thankful.”

Lauralee Westine. “This came from all of you and we are thankful.”

As of Aug. 18, the first day of fall classes, 32,337 students were enrolled in 270,620 semester hours at SPC.

“Most colleges around the state have seen a drop in enrollment over the past few years. As an institution, it’s easy to give yourself kudos, but it’s much harder to look at yourself and say maybe we don’t need everyone that applied. It’s been a few years since I’ve been able to report enrollment gains,” Patrick Rinard, associate vice president for enrollment services, told the Times. “Rather than attend a required orientation and get a student ID, new students at SPC now see an adviser and then they go to the Student Resource Center to get their ID.”

Students seeking a bachelor’s degree now make up 25 percent. In addition, the number of FTIC students, of which 88 percent are American students, was up 19.7 percent while FTIC student outcomes increased by 10.9 percent.

“Jackson State has a proven record of success,” said Dr. John Hopkins, instructional staff developer and Student Affairs associate vice president for enrollment services, told the Times. “The number of first-year students across the state are operating enrollment goals.”

“The goal of improving student outcomes is to improve on-campus retention rates for students seeking bachelor degrees.”

PCPA/PTA to host workshop

The Council of PTDs will host its annual fall workshop Saturday, Sept. 6, from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Pinellas Park High, 6301 118th Ave. N.

Taking the challenge

ST. PETERSBURG – Months of efforts to get students enrolled this fall at St. Petersburg College have paid off, as enrollment for the term is up 2.2 percent over Fall 2013.

On Aug. 18, the first day of fall classes, 32,337 students were enrolled in 270,620 semester hours at SPC. This is in good shape and we’re very glad to present these numbers because it’s been a few years since we’ve been able to report enrollment gains.”

Toward the end of the academic year, two additional workshops are planned for Oct. 24 and Oct. 31.

“Taking the challenge, an understanding of the challenges that those who are challenged to take the plunge have the option of making a donation to the ALS Association, take the plunge or both. COTI Director Amber Phillips said her brother nominated her and she decided to use the opportunity to teach students at the school about ALS and how they, as individuals, can make a difference. As of last week, all donations had reached $3,543.28 in three weeks.”

Dr. Todd S. Hutton in a press release. Hutton is the president of Utica College. “There is so much opportunity for students pursuing nursing careers today. As our population ages and the demand for nurses grows, it is crucial to provide the latest educational advancements to ensure the delivery of health care. We are committed to providing our students the foundational education that is critical to those who are interested in helping others and improving health care outcomes.”
$3.50 will be added to each ticket. Call 587-6793 or visit [website]. Performances are Thursday through Sunday, 7 p.m., and Sunday, 2 p.m. Tickets are $25.50 for adults and $12.50 for students. A city of Largo handling fee of $1.50 will include performances by Godsmack, Seether, Pop Evil, 3 Days Grace, Buckcherry, Red Light King, Escape The Fate, Skillet, 3 Year Egg, and others. The famous GeckoFest street dance will close out the day of live music with a party in the streets. Other bands and performers include Steel Highway, the Paul Anthology Band, Jay Pritchard, the Rose Island Band, Sol Sessions, 3 Fabulous Deltonas, Francesca, Joel and Dakota, the Paul Antho- nary Band, and Darin Davis for the Trop Rock Junkies.
