SUSPICIOUS SUBSTANCE FOUND AT BAY PINES VA FACILITY

By TIFANY RAZANSKY

CLEARWATER – The Clearwater Police Department said Wednesday that it is investigating the discovery of what it described as a suspicious material at the Pinellas County Veterans Hospital in Clearwater.

The department received a call around 6:40 p.m. alerting them to the discovery of what was described as a suspicious material.
On Sept. 29, Franciska Szaraz, 68, of Largo lost control of her vehicle in the parking lot of 10700 Johnson Blvd. in Seminole and crashed into the front of an unoccupied office. Seminole Fire Rescue responded to the scene to assist Szaraz from her vehicle. Szaraz was not injured and refused treatment. No other injuries were reported. Damages to the building were estimated between $3,000 and $4,000.

The Pinellas County Sheriff’s Office is investigating the crash.

Seminole – The Florida League of Cities has appointed Seminole City Councilor Jim Quinn to serve on the Energy, Environment and Natural Resources Legislative Policy Committee.

Quinn has served on the Seminole City Council for four-and-a-half years and for four years with the Florida League of Cities Legislative Policy Committee. Quinn’s ties to the League have been strengthened by his attendance at the State Capitol and his appointment annually as the League’s provost. Any city official is eligible to serve on a Policy Committee, and appointments are typically based upon a city official’s support and advocacy of the League’s adopted Legislative Action Agenda, participation at meetings, local legislative efforts.

Last day to register to vote in Nov. 4 elections is Oct. 6

BY ALEXANDRA LUNDAHL

The statewide election campaign continues to build momentum as the deadline to register to vote in the general election approaches. The Department of State has extended the voter registration deadline from Oct. 1 to Oct. 6, a day after the deadline for military and overseas voters.

Early voting will continue through Nov. 4, but only for those who registered to vote in the general election or are military or overseas voters.

The deadline for military and overseas voters to register to vote in the general election is Oct. 24. Military and overseas voters can register to vote by mail, online, or in person. To register to vote by mail, they must submit their voter registration application to the Secretary of State’s office by Oct. 24. To register to vote online, they must complete the online voter registration application by Oct. 24. To register to vote in person, they must visit a county election office by Oct. 24.

The deadline for Florida residents who are not registered to vote in the general election to register to vote by mail is Oct. 6. Commission approves contract with county administrator

County news–

Pinellas County honors fire professionals

Pinellas County Commissioners named the re- cipients of the inaugural Fire Service Professionals of the Year awards.

The accolades were given to those who go above and beyond the call of duty in the performance of their duties for the community and to the members of the fire service.

In 2000, Commissioner Parish Matheson, now Mayor of Largo, asked to name a Fire Dispatcher of the Year.

The commission voted unanimously to approve the contract with former county administrator Mark Woodard. Woodard refused travel benefits, he said.

“Waloff” runs unopposed

Commissioner Karen Seel asked that a vice chair be elected during the Nov. 18 meeting and then moved that Morroni become vice chair as of Nov. 18 and then chair for 2015. Seel said the commission had always allowed the new board to move the vice chair to the chair’s position. That would happen next year.

Welch withdrew his motion, and Seel said that a vice chair be elected during the Nov. 18, 19 or Nov. 25 Dec. 1 meetings.

He added that it was important that newly elected commissioners get to decide who would be the right person to serve as vice chair. Seel said the process of selecting the chair and vice chair “keeps changing.”

He asked how the transition from the current chair, Seel, would work without knowing who would be chair and vice chair.

Seel said, “It’s not a big deal.” Lavender said she would work with whoever would be chair and vice chair.

“Keeps changing.”

Pinellas County 911 Telecommunicator Patrick Lavender was named Fire Dispatcher of the Year.

“People should weigh in on the selection process of selecting the chair and vice chair,” he said.

When one person stands out, it’s because everyone is that good around them. You want to do your best for the people that you work with,” said Lavender who is a paramedic.

“It was uncomfortable,” he said.

County lowers some stormwater fees

Domenico and other speakers asked that the county consider additional measures to reduce water quality issues. They could provide information required to get surface water credits. He said mobile home parks had unique features, such as pervious surfaces underneath the homes. Lynch agreed that mobile home parks could have unique features, though quality flaws too. They need to demonstrate that, she said. "Commissioners pay for everything," said Commissioner Susan Latvala. "This is no different. It is a property tax. Somebody has to pay it. It is the way business operates." She said the question is how the revenue will go far to repair. "We haven’t seen this today," she added.

Frank Torres, a resident of Oakcrest Mobile Home Park in Largo, told commissioners that he needs to get surface water credits. He said mobile home parks had unique features, such as pervious surfaces underneath the homes. "I’ll have to take one day a week and not eat because I have to get the pay," he stated. Commissioners Chair Karen Firet brought up a plan she tried to instigate last year, but was killed by the former county administra- tor. She wants to set up a "we care" fund to help people in need pay their bills. The county could also have a "problems" fund. Commissioner Rick Knight. said, "We need a solution. We said staff had done some good work, but there is more to be done."

He said the majority of prop- erties in the county had not ac- cumulated huge spikes in their fees. "This is a problem, but it is not big," he said. The commissioners agreed to as-semble a committee to talk about ways to lower credits for surface water credits, such as rental payment. Meanwhile, a resident who has an issue should contact their office at 484-8759. He pointed out that those who rent mobile homes needed to contact the property’s owner or manag- er, who needs to apply for cred- its.

She wants to set up a "we care" fund to help people in need pay their bills. The county could also have a "problems" fund. Commissioner Rick Knight. said, "We need a solution. We said staff had done some good work, but there is more to be done."

He said the majority of prop- erties in the county had not ac- cumulated huge spikes in their fees. "This is a problem, but it is not big," he said. The commissioners agreed to as-semble a committee to talk about ways to lower credits for surface water credits, such as rental payment. Meanwhile, a resident who has an issue should contact their office at 484-8759. He pointed out that those who rent mobile homes needed to contact the property’s owner or manag- er, who needs to apply for cred- its.

This year’s assessments are more accurate, she said. They included all imperious surfaces—roofs, cementing pools, sidewalks, patios, shabbishapparent and other structures. Commissioners asked staff to look for additional measures inside the park and recalculate the bills. Staff did as commissioners asked and also verified calculations in the park for single-family residences. In some cases, bills went up, others went down by half the original assessment. Still, mobile home residence incomes are raising recall increases of 100 or more a month as prop-erty owners pass on the ex-pense. "Staff did a good job," said Todd Freeman, representing a conglomerate of mobile home parks. "There’s room for improvement. Domenico and other speakers asked that the county consider additional measures to reduce water quality issues. They could provide information required to get surface water credits. He said mobile home parks had unique features, such as pervious surfaces underneath the homes. Lynch agreed that mobile home parks could have unique features, though quality flaws too. They need to demonstrate that, she said. "Commissioners pay for everything," said Commissioner Susan Latvala. "This is no different. It is a property tax. Somebody has to pay it. It is the way business operates." She said the question is how the revenue will go far to repair. "We haven’t seen this today," she added.

Frank Torres, a resident of Oakcrest Mobile Home Park in Largo, told commissioners that he needs to get surface water credits. Reclaimed water seasonal restrictions in effect
Pinellas County reclaimed water seasonal restrictions began Wednesday, Oct. 1. These restrictions limit reclaimed water irrigations during warm season in three days per week based on home addresses.

Restrictions for reclaimed water irrigation are as follows:

1. Oct. 1 to Nov. 30

Since late May, north Pinellas County reclaimed water customers have been asked to avoid reclaimed water irrigation. To avoid running this season’s irrigation schedule, the storage levels in north county have returned to normal. Therefore, all Pinellas County Utilities reclaimed water customers may water according to the seasonal restrictions below.

Address ending in even digits (1, 3, 5, 7, 9) - Wednesday, Friday and/or Sunday

Address ending in odd digits (2, 4, 6, 8) - Tuesday, Thursday and/or Saturday

Pinellas Clerk hosts domestic violence educational forum
The public is invited to attend a Domestic Violence Educational Forum hosted by the Pinellas County Clerk of the Circuit Court and the Pinellas County Health Facilities Authority.

Meetings of the authority are held as needed to consider applications for the board, and all appointments are subject to confirmation by the Pinellas County Board of County Commissioners. Applications must be received by the Board of County Commissioners by 4 p.m. on the last working day of the preceding month.

Meetings are open to the public and are held in the boardroom of the Pinellas County Administration Center, located at 315 Court St., Clearwater. The public is invited to attend. The authority intends to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act. If you require special accommodations, please notifyazzo@pinellascounty.org at least 72 hours in advance of a meeting.

Help needed for Holiday Lights in the Gardens
The Florida Botanical Gardens Foundation is now accepting volunteers and sponsors for this year’s Holiday Lights in the Gardens.

The annual community holiday celebration opens on Friday, Nov. 28, and is open nightly from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. through Wednesday, Dec. 31.

The event is the largest fundraiser for the gardens and depends on volunteers, sponsors and donations to reduce the cost of offering this holiday tradition in Pinellas County. More than 400 volunteers and generous sponsor donations made last year’s Holiday Lights a success.

Volunteers are needed every night to greet guests and will predict the volume of the gift card gift. Volunteer is a great way to feel the joy of the holiday season by being part of the revelry that brings out the best of the garden. Volunteers may work one or more nights as they would like. No experience is necessary and training will be provided.

The foundation is also looking for volunteer entertainers. Each year volunteers provide a wide variety of entertainment including dancers, singers, magicians and much more.

Sponsors for light displays and available around the gardens are also needed. Among the many benefits, sponsors enjoy recognition that may last more than 70,000 visitors strolling through the gardens.

Sponsors are acknowledged through signage, nightly musical performances and press coverage. All parties on the area and length of time, with multiple displays start at $500, with the sponsors starting at $10,000.

All proceeds from this holiday light display goes back into the community garden, helping to grow a world-class botanical garden in Pinellas County.

For information on how to become a foundation member, volunteer or a 2014 sponsor, call the foundation office at 727-582-2177 or send an e-mail to flbgfoundation@gmail.com.

The Florida Botanical Gardens is at 12520 Ulmerton Road in Largo, with an auxiliary entrance at 12231 Washington Boulevard. The gardens open from 7 a.m. until dark every day. Admission is free.

One of my previous articles, titled “The Gift of Time” referred to spending time with our elderly loved ones in our fast pace society, there does not seem to all ways be enough time to follow through with our good intentions. There is another avenue to let your special family member or friend know that you care about that note, that card or letter they received thinking of you cards via mail, can be that warm, thought, feeling shared of sending a card filled with kind words. It can make your day. Now, makes sense.

Giving a thoughtful card with your loved ones one that are not alone, they are special and you have them in your heart always. Those of you who re-

Sitting in on interviews with candidates

It's candidate debate season. Just about a month out from the election, which this year is Nov. 4, I begin to hear from people on both sides of the aisle. “No one wants to trade in my seat. I've solved every problem. I've been your leader. Why would you want to give me up?”

Civic clubs, special-interest groups and newspapers are also interviewing candidates. Many are, in effect, interviewing for a job – “I have a proven track record. I'll be a great mayor or police chief. I’ll beat that other fellow. Pick me.”

As a former frequent PSTA rider, I have observed firsthand, that it's rarely a pleasant experience. I've seen riders be rude, parents have to play “catch me if you can” with children, and the train has many faults.

I'm very skeptical that Greenlight Pinellas will deliver on the promises. The impact of climate change has been widely studied. When the light rail is fully operational, Pinellas County will be a traffic jam that is like a bridge to Treasure Island.

The impact of climate change has been widely studied. When the light rail is fully operational, Pinellas County will be a traffic jam that is like a bridge to Treasure Island. It is the right of way acquisition, eminent domain very likely.

We've seen some unexplained downsides of the light-rail proposal. Some are, in effect, interviewing for a job – “I have a proven track record. I'll be a great mayor or police chief. I’ll beat that other fellow. Pick me.”

Television commercials and ums and ums aside, a live debate is perhaps the best way for voters to get to know the candidates.

A centennial school celebration has big meaning to a mom and her kids

For the past few years, I’ve been wondering just how common it is to have two school-related events in the same elementary school you went to when you were a kid. It is an unusual occurrence...and an exciting one.

When my oldest daughter started kindergarten at the same elementary school from which I graduated, I was elated. When I went to buy her school supplies, the teacher said, “Oh, you’ll never believe who came in!” The teacher said that she had actually met the principal of my old school during the previous school year, and she was baton-twirling at a school function. I was so happy.

This past weekend, we were all so excited to go back to our side of town to see the centennial celebration of the school where my two children attended. The school, Seminole Elementary, was built in 1915 and was dedicated to the community’s first superintendent, and is located off of Park Boulevard.

When I went to school there, one of the teachers was a man who lived across the street from my house. I always laughed when I told my youngest daughter a date in 19...something, like my birthday or when I graduated from high school, where the teacher was cross-eyed and had two different-colored eyes. The teacher had always looked at my sister’s handwriting, and my sister’s handwriting was so neat and orderly, that I always thought she was a teacher.

The school is quite a bit different now. The teachers have been replaced, and the classrooms have been updated. I always remember going to the art room, and there was a blackboard with a piece of chalk on it. I remember writing my name in the chalk, and the teacher gave me an A. I remember the teacher saying, “Well, you’re a good writer, but you need to work on your spelling.” I always laughed when I told my youngest daughter that story.

The Australian Pink Floyd Show will be performing Pink Floyd linchpins such as “Another Brick in the Wall” and selections from the band’s “A Saucerful of Secrets” album. The Australian Pink Floyd Show consists of Steve Mac, Jason Hartney, Colin Wilson, Dave Fowler, Alex McNamara, Paul Bonney, Mike Kidson, Lorelei McBroom, Lara Smiles and Emily Lynn. The band formed in Adelaide, Australia, in 1988.

The name of the tour comes from Pink Floyd’s classic song “Set the Controls for the Heart of the Sun,” which appeared on the band’s “A Saucerful of Secrets” album. The Australian Pink Floyd Show is the only tribute band to be presented on Pink Floyd’s final world tour and has since handled live performances of “The Great Gig in the Sky” with Pink Floyd, a song she will now perform in the videos for “The Dogs of War,” “On The Turning Away” and the “A Saucerful of Secrets” live album. The band has appeared on Pink Floyd’s “Lamb Lies in Vision” TV broadcast. She also performed “The Pink Floyd Show” at the Grand Slam with Australian Pink Floyd, a song she will now perform with TAPFS.

Colin Norfield is also aboard as sound engineer. He was FOH engineer on Pink Floyd’s final tour and has since handled sound for David Gilmour. The Australian Pink Floyd Show is steadily evolving and honing what they do, having enjoyed 25 years of success with audiences worldwide.

Audiences can expect more than just a competent interpretation of Pink Floyd’s work. This show is billed as an audiovisual extravaganza featuring a multi-million dollar light show, multiple inflatables around its perimeter, and stunning laser effects, all coupled with note-perfect renditions of Pink Floyd’s work. This show is billed as an audiovisual extravaganza featuring a multi-million dollar light show, multiple inflatables around its perimeter, and stunning laser effects, all coupled with note-perfect renditions of Pink Floyd’s work.

Audience members will be able to choose the material that the band will play during certain sections of their two-hour set. The show boasts a round screen with intelligent lights arranged around its perimeter. During a concert, members and audiences are礼拜 during the performance, complementing the visuals with live sound. Clearwater

“Greater Times,” by Joie Seaw, Janine Wilkinson, and Ed Hochberg, Thursday, Oct. 2, 8 p.m., Capitol Theatre, 405 Cleveland St., Clearwater. Tickets start at $45. Call 734-7490 or visit www.capitoltheatre.com. A collection of poems, stories, and other writings from the past decade, “Greater Times” celebrates the transformation of the Clearwater poet laureate, Ed Hochberg. After coming off major surgery, his writing work is infused with his struggle and the play explores the hopes, scars and guilt of each woman. As the playwrights work to save their relationships, the discovery of a mysterious notebook draws Catherine to her past and an understanding of the choices she must make to find her true — not second — self. "The Children" is a 21st century play for 21st century audiences. Tickets are $32 for dinner and the show. Call 446-5898 or visit www.buffalobeachtheatre.com. Enjoy the lush, green beauty of the country while you prepare your mind to be inspired by stories of transformation.
